MANIA FOR CONFESSING

One Line of Attack on Orchard Evidence by Defence—Detective's Influence Another.

BOISE, Idaho, June 10.—Into the further cross-examination of Harry Orchard today, counsel for William D. Haywood, repeatedly injected the suggestion of a great counter conspiracy, formed and carried out by the enemies of the Western Federation of Miners, and indicated a determination to direct the main line of the defence in that field.

They carried Orchard by slow steps through the minutest details from the examining of the Independence, Colorado, station, down to the attempt on the life of Fred Bradley, and his family in San Francisco.

Besides a series of particular attacks upon the credibility of the witness and the general probability of his stories, and in preparation for their own testimony in rebuttal, the defence sought to show that Orchard has a mania for confessing to the commission of imaginary crimes, and that he is testifying under the control and influence of Detective McPartland.

Orchard then admitted that while in San Francisco he related that one night he went to the entrance of the Golden Gate Park and held up a street car conductor, but that the story was untrue.

"Then you confessed to a crime you did not commit?" asked Mr. Richardson.

"Yes."

"And you have confessed to other crimes you never committed?" The attorney for the state objected, but the objection was overruled.

"I have told such stories among men when we were all telling stories. Altogether Orchard said he got about $500 while in San Francisco.

Peter L. Huff, secretary of the Barren's Union, identified him at the telegraph office.

The defence began to-day by making it clear that so far as Orchard knew, Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone had nothing to do with inspiring, planning or carrying out the Vinciguerra explosion, and that Haywood and Moyer had nothing to do with inspiring or planning the murder of Detective Gregory.

Mine Owners Responsible.

Passing then to the dynamiting of the Independence, the defence itself made a crime with which its testimony of Orchard directly connects Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone—they endeavored to show that in inspiring the dynamiting, Orchard purposely sought to spare the innocent train and the non-union men who were expected on the train, and that the whole plot was planned by agents of the mine owners and railway managers, who wanted a comparison of the mine owners' and railway union miners who wanted to injure the mine owners.

Leaving the Independence Station crime, which was followed by the dynamiting of the defence, itself then by his unexpected return, and then by the defence sought to discredit the statement that Haywood directed Orchard to kill "Andy" Mayberry by showing that Haywood and Mayberry were old and intimate friends.

Coming down to the attempt to kill Bradley, the defence endeavored itself largely to the story of Orchard's attempt to poison Bradley, endangering including an infant, and Mrs. Crow, the cook with whom he had made friends, and whom he had accompanied to a theatre.

"Pat Bone" Gave Money.

Orchard swore that while in San Francisco he repeatedly received money from "Pat Bone," who used the name of "Pat Bone" in passing it to him. In making this clearer to-day, the defence disclosed an effort to show that the money was given to Orchard by the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners.

Orchard then said that mine owners or railway men had any part in the Independence Station outrage; denied that he had a mania for confessing to imaginary crimes, and denied that he is under the influence of Detective McPartland. He showed some of his answers in many of Attorney Richardson's cross-examinations, and called to all of his first stories, and was calm and certain throughout the long, trying examination. Two more crimes he confessed that he began his life of crime by confessing that he burned a cheese factory in Ontario to get $600 insurance, and that he began his life of crime by selling cheese at short weight.

Counsel for the state let to-day's examination take its course without serious objection, and at the close privately signified their entire satisfaction. Orchard has been on the stand five days, and has fully two more ahead of him.

Adams May Not Talk.

Steve Adams to-night is in Adams County Jail, and a close cell neighbor of Haywood, Moyer and Pettibone. He is for the present uncommunicative. His custodians say that he is sulky, and will refuse to say a word when he is called to the stand.

Orchard Corrects.

Harry Orchard was still on the stand when to-day's session was begun at 9:35 a.m.

Orchard first asked permission to correct two statements made by him on Saturday, one that Bill Easterly and himself had made bombs with "Pettibone dope" at Criddle Creek, and the other that he and Steve Adams had carried their shotguns in holsters when they were stalked by Governor Peabody. He said Billy Ackerman, and not Easterly, made the experiments with him, and that he and Adams did not carry their guns in holsters.

Attorney Richardson, for the defence, brought out that Orchard was in conference with Detective McPartland this morning, and witness McPartland and Attorney Hawley yesterday, and that each morning he visits Hawley's office.

"Did McPartland speak to you yesterday?"

Pretty Toronto Girl Is Missing

Miss Marco Reynolds, Living at Railway, N.J., Is Not to Be Found.

NEW YORK, June 10.—(Special.)—The police of this city, Toronto and Hamilton have been notified of the mysterious disappearance since Friday last of Miss Marco Reynolds, a stately brunette beauty, and telegraph operator, whose father resides in Toronto, and where she worked in a business office until a short time ago, when she went to Rahway, New Jersey, to stay with her grandmother, after a quarrel with her sweetheart in Toronto.

She is 22 years of age, tall, slender, dark, and wears glasses. Nothing had been heard of her since Friday. None of the railway conductors saw her take the train, and all railway men on the line knew her by sight.

She was the model of propriety, and considered one of the prettiest girls in Rahway.

NEW AMENDMENT MAY KILL INSURANCE BILL

Will Allow Agents to Electioneer Outside of Business Hours—Policyholders Blamed.

ALBANY, N.Y., June 10.—The senate to-night amended the most important of the insurance bills agreed upon by the joint insurance committees after conference with Governor Hughes and representatives of the various insurance interests. This amendment at this late hour in the session imperils the enactment of the bill.

The bill as drawn prohibited salaried agents from activity in elections of directors in domestic mutual life insurance companies.

Chairman Fancher of the insurance committee explained that this provision had greatly injured the insurance industry, and that the amendment, offered by Senator Colahan, will permit agents to electioneer outside of business hours.

Senator Grady, favoring the amendment, declared that last year's legislation had greatly injured the insurance business. "The recent indictments for perjury and forgery," said he, "were not against the agents, but against the policyholders' committee, which took the name for the purpose of cloaking the real influence behind it."

PATIENT RUNS FROM HOSPITAL

Spent Twelve Hours in the Rain Clad in a Night Shift.

FREDERICTON, N.B., June 10.—(Special.)—Warren Allen, 29 years of age, a fever patient in the Victoria Hospital, while delirious, escaped at 4 o'clock this morning. He rushed to the bathroom, which is on the ground floor, and jumped thru the window. He was seen in his nightgown only.

"A day's searching party, including members of the fire department, endeavored to locate him, and late this afternoon he turned up on University avenue, and was removed to the hospital. All last night and all day it poured rain, and the patient was very wet. The supposition is, however, that he travelled from the hospital to the I.C.R. freight house, where he remained until he recovered consciousness.

In most instances tobacco was the article unlawfully dispensed, while a few soft drink stands were also fined.

PROBABLE CHANGE OF ROUTE.

Rev. Jno. Mackay Wants Assembly to Declare That Question is Still Open One.

MONTREAL, June 10.—(Special.)—Church union was before the Presbyterian general assembly this afternoon, but the hour of adjournment was reached before the debate was concluded, and it will be resumed when the business committee can find an opportunity.

The weight of the assembly is evidently with the union committee, but an insistent minority, with the plea of conscientious opinion, wishes to place a drag on the movement. Rev. Jno. Mackay, Montreal, who is a spokesman of the party, in a narrow, sacrosanct type, who he fancies himself as an evangelist, and has published a volume on religion, considered as a friendship with the union committee to be the highest type of church life, or he would not be a Presbyterian. The inference was somewhat obvious.

The debate was on Principal Patrick's motion to receive the report of the union committee, and was held in the presbyteries, sessions and congregations to ask for suggestions to be sent to the committee not later than next week, and to reappoint the committee. Mr. Mackay's amendment was intended to emphasize the point that the whole question was still open, and that the church was not committed to the principle of union, which he thought woefully undesirable.

Church Union Report.

The committee on union with other churches reported that in connection with the report on doctrine a number of details would require to be added next year. Replies were received to a letter sent to the archbishops and bishops of the Church of England in Canada, and to the chairmen of the various Baptist conventions, and action was recommended to be taken to appoint a committee of fifteen to confer with any delegation of the Church of England appointed on the question of union; a committee of seven to meet representatives of the United Baptist Churches, and a committee to meet representatives of the Baptist Union of Ontario and Quebec. The next meeting of the committee will be held at Toronto, the frank, brotherly and judicial spirit of the joint committee in their deliberations was commended. The anti-Japanese feeling upon the Pacific coast of the United States, especially in San Francisco, culminated in an assault upon Japanese trading places last month, constituting a most flagrant violation of the rights guaranteed by the treaty concluded upon an equal footing between the two nations.

The anti-Japanese acts are not of a temporary nature, and use federal government at Washington must be held responsible for its failure to prevent such outrages.

The attitude of our government towards that in Washington has so far been "unsatisfactory to the nation, and it is necessary that proper steps should be taken by our government in order to maintain the national dignity and permanently ensure the safety of the rights and property of our compatriots in America."

A delegation of Japanese from the United States appeared this morning before a meeting of the council of the progressive party and presented a statement in substance as follows:

"The settlement of the San Francisco trouble cannot be considered as final and a recurrence of the difficulty may be expected at any time. It is absolutely necessary that proper steps be taken to place the Japanese in a position to receive exactly the same treatment as is accorded Europeans. The law segregating Japanese school children was passed three years ago, but the authorities hesitated to carry out its provisions. Its sudden enforcement last year occurred soon after the return of Mayor Schmitz from Germany, where he had to see that more equal tones were nearer the truth. The Progressive Party has paid the price of educating her ministers, the price of neglecting many districts which might have been evangelized; of drawing their members from the educated classes, and of failing to go down among the less respectable classes.

When he thought of the Methodist Church and the Salvation Army he did not feel like priding himself on the respectability of the church. (Applause.) The church was not a mutual admiration society, but a hospital for the sick, and, like its master, a friend of publicans and sinners. There had not been such an opportunity for any church in any century since the reformation, and Canada might have the privilege before any other nation of presenting an approximation to a united Christendom.

French Evangelization.

The evening session was spent in receiving Rev. Malcolm MacLennan, a delegate from the United Free Church of Scotland, and Thomas Nicol, who gave a vivid picture of Glasgow slum work carried on by the Church of Scotland. Rev. Dr. Mowatt presented the French evangelization report, and a number of speakers described the work.

The board of French evangelization reported on the labors of twenty-nine pastors and seventeen teachers. The average attendance at seventy-four preaching stations was 1840. At the Point aux Trembles School 175 scholars had been in attendance. Over 5000 French-Canadians have been educated there since 1846.

The receipts of the ordinary fund totaled $22,664. The Point aux Trembles receipts were $1411. The building fund amounted to $16,518.

Progressives Adopt Resolution Demanding Safety of Compatriots in America.

TOKIO, June 10.—The council of the Progressives at a meeting to-day adopted a resolution, the substance of which was as follows:

ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH DESTROYED BY FIRE

One of Ottawa's Most Handsome Sacred Edifices a Heap of Ruins—Loss $155,000.

OTTAWA, June 10.—(Special.)—The Sacred Heart Church, considered the most magnificent Catholic edifice in Ottawa City, was totally destroyed by fire this evening, entailing a loss of $155,000, with insurance of $90,000.

The fire broke out shortly before 6 o'clock from a cause apparently unknown. There were no fires on in the building at the time, and the electric current was turned off. The flames originated in the main entrance, and by some it is thought that boys smoking cigars in the main entrance were responsible.

The fire had gained considerable headway before it was noticed, and in spite of the fact that the whole brigade was called to the scene it was impossible for them to do anything to check the total destruction of the church.

Rev. Father P. De Chansols of the Oblate Juniors, near at hand, rushed into the church and saved the blessed sacrament, and Rev. Father F. Aclair rescued the vestments and sacred vessels.

Two firemen had narrow escapes from death by a falling stone wall. The church is the property of the Oblate Order of Priests, who, a few years ago, suffered considerably from fire, when Ottawa University, also their property, was destroyed.

It was considered the church of the high-class French-Canadians, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. L. P. Brodeur and Hon. J. L. Tarte were among its parishioners.

It is understood that a readjustment of the consular service is contemplated. The officials are also informed that anyone appointed in future will be supposed to give his services free.

The consul-general clears up the fate of his predecessor, who, it appears, threw himself from a railway train near Buenos Ayres.

AN ELECTION IN AUTUMN?

Ottawa Opinion That Cabinet Shuffle Will Require Endorsement of the Electorate.

OTTAWA, June 10.—(Special.)—The announcement in The Sunday World that Hon. Charles Hyman had resigned the portfolio of public works and had insisted upon the acceptance this time of his resignation came as a complete surprise to all except one or two leading officials.

It was not expected that anything would eventuate before the return of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The news has been cabled to the premier and pending his reply nothing further will be done in the matter.

It was quite anticipated that with Sir Wilfrid's return to Canada there would be a house-cleaning and that amongst them the services of Mr. Hyman would be dispensed with, and it is surmised that this may have been the inspiration of his resignation.

All sorts of stories are floating around the capital to-day and it is freely said that the next session will be the resignation of Sir Frederick Borden. It is concluded that the premier has added so much lustre to his name during his stay in England that he will be able to bring about that drastic reform said to be so much demanded by Liberals all over the country.

The idea is revived that there will be a general election this fall. In spite of the statement of W. S. Calvert a week or so ago that there was a solemn promise given that there would be another session before a general election, it is felt that this disruption of the cabinet necessitates an appeal to the people.

To make matters more desperate, there is a loud outcry from Liberals of all ranks against the proposed resignation of Hon. William Pugsley. The Ontario Liberals, headed by Archie Campbell, have been saying rude things while the New Brunswick Liberals have been insisting that Senator Ellis, and not Pugsley, should get the portfolio. They have brought it to the notice of Hon. MacLean of Lunenburg, N. S., in the capital to-day and his disinclination to talk much have given rise to the belief that there is something in prospect for him.

ELGIN AN ANTEDILUVIAN

Says Freeman's Journal, Commenting on Premier's Visit.

LONDON, June 10.—(C.A.P.)—The Freeman's Journal, referring to the Hon. Hopwood-Churchill correspondence, says the bringing of the colonial premiers into close contact with the permanent officials in Downing-street, and an antediluvian-like Elgin, to whom they were expected to pay deference, has done a great deal towards breaking up the unity of the empire.

The Orange River Colony constitution, which follows the lines of the Transvaal, has been issued.
