FRANCE ON THE VERGE

The Dreyfus Agitation Cannot Be Kept in the Background.

Faure Said to Be Aiming at Dictatorship - Desperate Attempt to Down the Brisson Cabinet -The Most Serious Crisis Since the Birth of the Republic.

Paris, Sept. 15.—France is on the brink of the gravest crisis since the birth of the Third Republic.

The situation is briefly this: Premier Brisson and all the memers of the Cablnet with the exception of Zurlinden, Minister of War, and possibly Lockroy, are convinced of the absolute necessity of revision in the Dreyfus case in the interest alike of justice and of the state. General Bruyere has signified his willingness to take the portfolio of War and accept revision. At Saturday's meeting of the Cablnet a decision will be taken, and it is certain that revision will be decreed. President Faure has caused it to be rumored that he will resign if it is granted. No one believes that he will resign, but everyone sees that the threat to do so is a desperate expedient to get rid at one blow of Brisson's Cabinet, and, it is fondly hoped, of revision also.

But Faure's unconstitutional action in Prison. The Countess Schimmelmann of Denmark relate her wonderful story, "From Court to Prison." The Countess is a tail, dark handsome woman, who speaks with a very peculiar accent, which is at times very hard to understand.

She told of her court life, her conversion and the philanthropic work that result ed, relating how she was kidnapped in the midst of it by her brothers, who were casting envious eyes at her rapidly vanishing fortune, and, imprisoned in a private asylum for the insane; how the Damshi Government discovered her whereabouts and released her after five weeks' cruel treatment.

The Countess concluded her remarks with gay assemblage.

A resident complains that he had to go to Unionville to obtain a burial permit a few days ago, the same being refused by the clerk of Vaughan at Richmond Hill. By an amendment to the statutes such extreme cases as this have been provided for by the Legislature, and it is now provided that the nearest registrar in any township can grant a permit for a death in another township stip, afterwards notifying the registrar of ship, afterwards notifying the registrar of the district in which the death occurred.
