GOVT. MILK RULES WORKED UNFAIRLY

Dealer Who Sold Adulterated Butter Did It in Ignorance.

Alexander Ferguson was fined $25 and costs in police court today for having had in his possession for sale on August 22 last butter that tested 22 per cent excess moisture. The charge was laid by William E. Wilson, Dominion food inspector, Ottawa.

Mr. Ferguson declared that he did not know that the butter was adulterated, and that not one man in a thousand could tell whether butter contained excess moisture, and he did not know any ordinary way of telling. He stated that he had bought the butter from the Ontario Creamery Company, from which butter at 70 cents a pound the public want butter, not water," observed Magistrate A. H. Graydon.

"I know they do, and they are entitled to it. I certainly did not know the butter was not up to the standard," said Mr. Ferguson.

"I'm quite sure of that, Mr. Ferguson, and I feel that it is a hardship to fine you, but the law is the law, and you are guilty under the act. I will have to fine you $25, and $12 more for the government analysis."
