

BIG PARADE TO BE HELD IN BUSINESS DISTRICT NOV. 11

Leading Organizations Meet To Make Night One Worth Remembering.

MANY BANDS INCLUDED

German Guns May Be Mounted On Trucks—Council Invited.

The Armistice Day program here this year will be one of the best ever carried out, the Central Veterans' Council decided last night. Representatives from some of the leading organizations in the city were present, and all expressed the opinion of the organization they represented as being willing and ready to stand behind the Central Veterans' Council in an Armistice Day celebration. Col. C. M. R. Graham of the chapter of commerce was appointed chairman for the evening, and in a short address pointed out the necessity of financial support, in order that the parade and the celebration could be carried out in a way fitting to such an occasion.

Program and parade committees were chosen and each committee was urged to begin work at once. Suggestions for the parade were made, and many met with hearty approval from the delegates. The parade will take the form of a torch-light procession. Decorated cars, with soldiers from Byrnes Sanatorium, Westminster Hospital, Victoria Hospital, and all those confined to their homes will be included. A letter will be sent to the heads of the different institutions asking them if they will arrange a list of the patients who will be able to attend the procession in the evening. The Rotary Club will be asked to supply and decorate the cars for the soldiers. Mayor Little will be approached to grant the local fire department the right to take part in the parade.

P. C. C. I. Band, Five L. O. lodge five and drum bands will supply some of the music, while Col. Reason assured the delegates that the 1st Hussars would turn out. Lieut. Col. Frank Ware of military headquarters stated that the P. C. C. I. with its band would take part, and if necessary furnish a guard of honor.

At this point Comrade A. Pugh of the C. V. C. brought up the matter of the guns which were captured in the late war from the Germans and which are now on the Federal Square, and as he termed them "rotting." A deputation will interview the mayor with regard to granting that they be placed on decorated floats and have a place in the parade. It was also suggested that when they were on the parade, the committee intend to get from local manufacturers, where they are taken to Victoria Park and placed in some conspicuous place, where in time they could be placed on a permanent platform that will assure longer life to them. Lieut. Col. Ware said that if the guns were placed in Victoria Park he would get the history of the capture of them from Ottawa. This could be placed on a float.

It was decided that all taking part in the parade should line up at the armories at 7:30 o'clock and proceed west on Dundas street. Wellington to Dufferin Avenue, west on Dufferin Avenue to Richmond street, on Richmond to Dundas and thence to the armories. If weather conditions are favorable, they will proceed to Victoria Park, where an open air band concert and speeches from leading citizens of London will be given. It is necessary to hold the concert indoors, the armories can be secured, and the program will be given in connection with the program that E. W. Q. Quantz, teacher of singing in the public schools, be asked to supply a public school choir of about 200. A monster platform will be erected on the corner of the armories, and this will be decorated by different women's organizations in the city.

National Duty. Announcement to the effect that not only is it a civic duty, but a national duty that all should take an active part in helping to make Armistice Day a huge success. Every citizen will be sent out to different churches before the end of the week.

Representatives of the city council and the school board were asked to attend, but when all delegates reported, no delegates from the above were present. The fact that there were no representatives from the city council brought about the following comments, and it was decided to send the city fathers an invitation to attend the parade "if they had time."

Following are the names of the men who were appointed to the two committees in charge of all proceedings: Parade committee: George Tustin, convener; Col. French, assistant convener; Frank McKay, of the trades and labor council; George Tustin, from the Grand Army of United Veterans; Comrade Glennie, from the Army and Navy Veterans; Barney Devlin, from the G. W. V. A.; W. J. Hodgins, from the L. O. L. lodges; Rev. T. D. McCullough, from the Roman Catholic church; Sergt. Barnhill, from the police department, and Col. Graham from the chamber of commerce.

SUNDAY BAND CONCERT. In aid of the building fund of the War Memorial Children's Hospital a sacred band concert has been arranged to be held at the Grand Opera House under the auspices of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. The P. C. C. I. Band by kind permission of Lieut.-Col. C. R. E. Willets, D. S. O., is giving its services. This band has recently organized under the command of Lieut. T. W. James, director of music, has a number of noted musicians of the British army in its ranks.

MOTHERS ARE IN OPPOSITION TO BECK SITE

Favor Central Collegiate—Want Wasting of Pupil's Time Stopped.

The Union Mothers' Clubs of the city at a large meeting in Chesley Avenue School on Thursday evening emphatically objected to the proposition of a collegiate being built on the Beck property on Richmond street, and favored the central collegiate.

The club members, too, regretted that the board had not gone ahead and used improvised schools in church buildings or other suitable places, rather than allow the scholars of the public schools and collegiate institute to lose so many hours and delay their education to so great an extent.

The members were more than ever convinced that a high school on the Beck property was out of the question, when, coming from all parts of the city to attend the meeting, they realized what a great distance it is from the east and southeast of the city. The opinion of the club was that a central school should be commenced immediately, and not delay any further than is necessary the education of the students.

The club expressed itself as in favor of a general clean-up of all the insubstantial business and dwelling places in the city.

Rev. D. C. MacGregor gave an interesting address dealing with family life and the woman in the home. The president, Mrs. John Gemmill, invited the fathers to attend, although only a few took this opportunity. Those who did were delighted with the meeting, and Rev. Mr. MacGregor congratulated the club on being such a live organization.

"GRAND OLD PARTY" MEMBERS TOLD OF GREAT THINGS DONE

Speaker None Too Hopeful For Outlook of Conservatives—Vote Uncertain.

Preliminary plans for participating in the "monster convention" at Toronto on December 2, were made by local Conservatives at a meeting last night. The principal feature of the evening was an address by S. L. Squire, "prominent Conservative" of Toronto, in which the Tory party, past, present and future, was lauded as the "salt of the earth, bulwark of the nation, and hope of the future of Canada."

Reporters were permitted to remain for this portion of the program, but were requested to abstain themselves for the succeeding numbers, presumably so that Mr. Squire could unburden himself of the real inside dope on the present state of affairs.

Even in the address, which he knew was for publication, Mr. Squire was none too hopeful for the outlook of the party, although he modestly admitted that if it received its deserved future would be secure for ever and ever. The party was face to face with the problem of leadership and was dealing with people who were not in their usual mood, he said. There had been a time when politicians could accurately read the voters' moods, but now the germs of unrest had affected even staunch Conservatives.

Noble Efforts. He diverged for a moment to recount the "noble efforts" and "magnificent patriotism" of the munition manufacturers. He contended that Sir Robert Borden—while he might not be popular with many Conservatives—was really a man who might be glad he had stepped out of the "darkness" and played a great part in the history of the country. He referred to provincial politics he said he did not expect applause from Sir William Hearst. His expectations were realized. He contended that that gentleman had been misunderstood and was really honest and fearless and had eschewed party politics during the war.

Completing his word picture of Sir William, he declared that the former conservative leader had had come to the conclusion it was a slogan started by "the enemy." Hearst should be given credit for the stand he took on prohibition.

Strong Efforts. While not holding any brief for the present Conservative leader, the Hon. Howard G. Ferguson, he characterized him as an experienced and determined fighter. He declared strong efforts had been made by the present Government, through the Kapuskasing affair, and the timber probe, to discredit him, but with little success.

Mr. Squire classed the Drury administration as "no government at all, but merely in the commission business." The support which it had received was a complete betrayal of the old regime. With the exception of one or two measures, everything introduced by the Drury government was a betrayal before leaving office. The budget had not been criticized, and this, too, was a compliment to the former government, as it was really their budget.

Breaking into generalities, he barked back to the national policy and the building of the C. P. R. as monuments to the progressiveness of the grand old party. It had never talked annexation, commercial union, or anything else that would sever British connection. He also referred to the advent of women in politics and the necessity for combating radical movements.

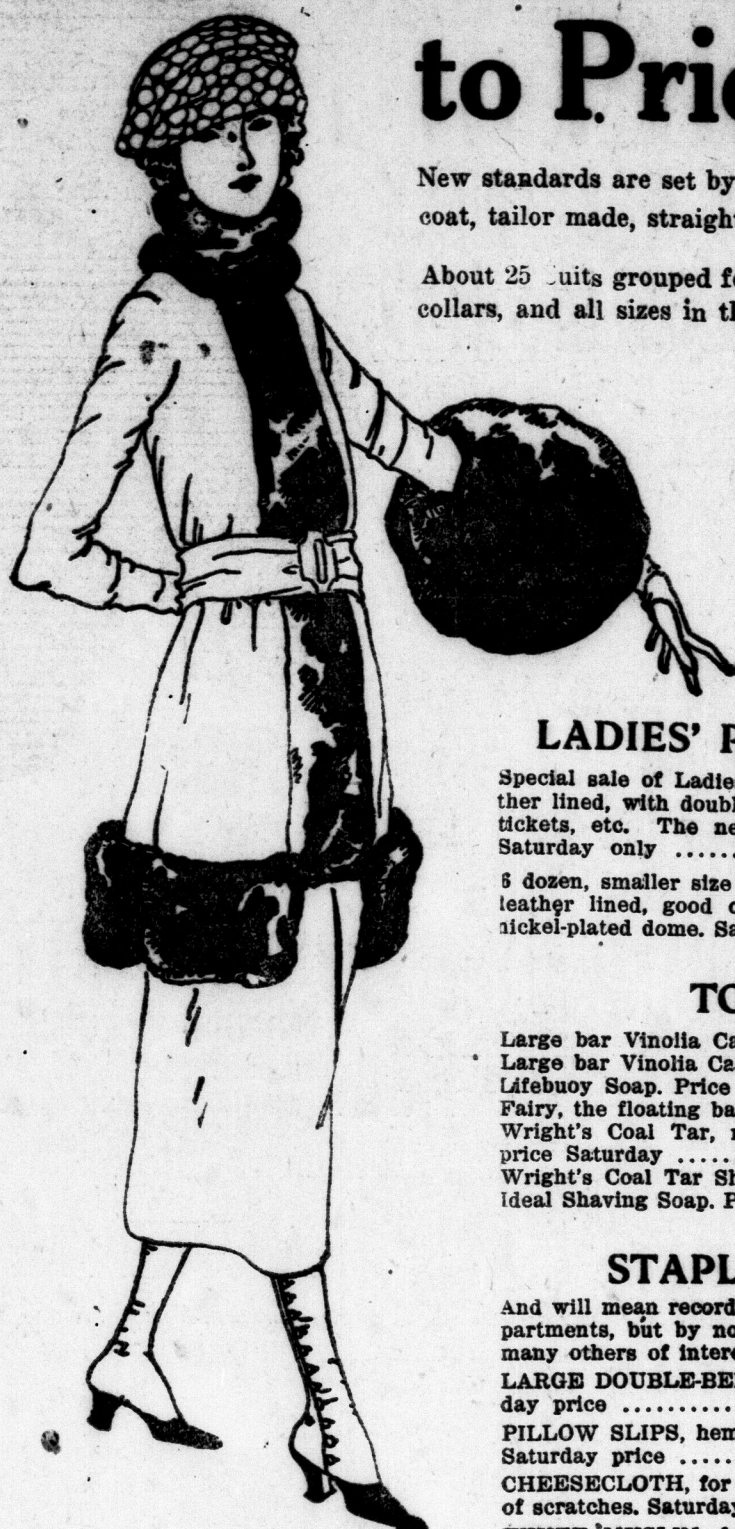

E. R. Dennis was the chairman of the meeting. It was fairly well attended by representative members of the party.

The directors will meet at an early date to elect a president. The election committee, which had elected yesterday's vote, was comprised of E. W. Gairns, convener; Capt. J. M. Watt, G. H. Montgomery, Dr. W. S. Partridge, Malcolm Davis, W. H. Biggs and Dr. B. Dewar.
