SUPER-SIX ABANDONED

Bullet-Riddled Motor Finally Left on Dufferin Park Race Track.

The police are searching for five-men who stole a big super-six motor car from a garage on St. George street early Saturday night and after an ex-citing chase drove it into Dufferin Park race track on Dufferin street and abandoned it. The thieves were chased in a motor car thru the country, and fired at several times with a shot gun. Shortly after Saturday midnight the five motor thieves drove the stolen car up to Moristis' garage on the King-ston road. J. Moristis, the proprietor of the general store and garage, was awakened by the noise of the men breaking into his garage. By the time he had awakened his sons the culprits had broken onen the seas tank and had he had awakened his sons the culprits had broken open the gas tank and had started to fill the tank of the stolen car. When they saw Moristis and his two sons coming they jumped into the motor and sped away. The Moristis got their motor car and, armed with a shot gun, started after the higher powered car. They followed the super-six to West Hill, and as they made for the Rouge River Hill the proprietor of the general store fired sevhome and notify the city police.

INCREASE IN PRICE OF HAMILTON MILK

Wentworth Producers Refuse to Wait for Food Controller's Inquiry.

By a Staff Reporter.

Hamilton, Sept. 30.—The Went-worth Milk Producers' Association at a mass meeting Saturday af-ternon decided to stand by the increased price of $2.40 for an eight-gallon can delivered at the dairy, and refused to accede to the request of Food Controller Hanna that they continue the old price of $1.60 for an eight-gallon can until the special milk committee had an opportunity to inestigate whether the increase asked or was justifiable. Food Controller Hanna ,his department and methods were hotly assailed by the producers, some of whom stated that they had very little faith in Canada's food controller, and the opinion was freely expressed that the special milk committee would never reach, the stage where they could submit a report. One dealer recommended that the producers sell their milk for 28 cents during October and allow the special committee to complete their investigation, but this was voted down and an unanimous endorsation given to the previous motion, made a fort-night ago, that after Oct. 1 the price night ago, that after Oct. 1 the price be $2.40, delivered at the dairy.

Commencing Monday morning nailk will cost in the neighborhood of twelve cents per quart, unless the food controller steps in and reduces the price. During the summer months the consumers have been paying ten cents, but, in conversation with a number of retailers yesterday, the reporter for The World was informed that the price would have to be boosted two cents, or possibly 2½ cents, which would mean that the consumers would get two quarts for 25 cents.

* WAR SUMMARY *

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

N Mesopotamia Sir Stanley Maude has resumed his advance and has stamped its beginning with a first-rate victory at Ramadie. He began out much opposition, and he then spread his cordons about Ramadie, com-caught in the British net. A two days' battle ensued and the Turks began to surrender everywhere. British captures include several thousand prisoners, guns, munitions, ammunition stores, equipment and much other booty.

The Germans used for the first time a smoke barrage to cover an attack of their troops east of Ypres yesterday. They temporarily captured a British advanced post astride the Ypres-Menin road, but an immediate counter-attack dislodged them and took some prisoners and machine guns.

Altogether the enemy launched three counter-attacks in this region. The first, south of Reutelbeke, failed under the British fire; the second was the smoke barrage one, and the third was an attempt to repeat the second.

This last failed to get home. It was beaten off by British artillery fire.

The Canadians, east of Loos, appear to have had another brush with the foe. The Germans began the fighting by raiding some trenches east of Loos and capturing one man. His comrades gave instant pursuit, overtook general headquarters in France and the outside world still remains a secret.

Many military-minded persons are still speculating about the reason. The suggestion that it is to cover a regrouping of forces does not seem adequate.

Aerial observation, even for the obviously inferior enemy, does not permit the massing of fresh forces anywhere to pass undetected. The Germans report severe artillery actions in Belgium and along the Belgian coast and reveal greater enemy facilities for this form of attack than in the past.

The British defences have also been improved so much that they are capable of diverting and keeping off the hostile machines. The present

British method is to ring London around with so many anti-aircraft guns as to permit the firing of a shrappiel barrage in the air. This makes the German machines turn tail and flee. Great Britain has now an adequate force of long-distance aircraft to inaugurate a policy of aerial retaliation on Germany. Since British considerations of humanity have not induced the Germans to withhold their cruel anti-civilian attacks, the British public is more inclined to believe the government will not much longer refrain

UNVEILED WINDOWS TO MEMORY OF SOLDIER

Congregation of Church of the Resurrection Remembers Late Member Killed at Somme.

Member Killed at Somme.

A simple but impressive ceremony took place at last night's service at the Church of the Resurrection, Woodbine avenue, when the Rev. (Major) Canon H. C. Dixon, rector of East Trinity Church, unveiled two memorial windows. The windows which were of handsome stained glass, had been presented by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hemmings of 22 Amroth avenue, in memory of their son, Pte. Albert 16. Hemmings, formerly a member of the congregation, who fell at the battle of the Somme on Sept. 3, 1136, after having been in the trenches for only two months, and whose grave has not yet been located. He left with the 39th Battalion and was afterwards transferred to the 3rd Battalion (Royal Toronto Regiment). The subjects of the windows were "A Tru Soldier of Christ" and "The Suprer Sacrifice."

The services marked the annual havest Thanksgiving of the church, and imperforming the ceremony Canon Dixon took as his text the 65th Psalm. 11th verse. He drew a comparison of the harvest at the present time to that of other years, and brought out the thought that the blessings bestowed deserved the best that we could give to Him that gave all. In dwelling on the great part the men had played in the present struggle and their stupendous sacrifices, he said: "I know something of what they have done for us and the great sacrifices they have made on our behalf, but I have not found it stated anywhere that the 'supreme sacrifice,' as spoken of in connection with the soldier's death is the same as that Great Sacrifice that was made for us all."

The morning service was taken by the rector, the Rev. C. V. Pilcher, who took as his text the 116th Psalm and the Ith and 12th verses. He dwelt on the themethat the best thanksgiving to God for His gifts was to make Christ the King of our hearts. In the afternoon a children's service was held, which was taket by Rev. Ralph S.
