PETROGRAD, April 29.—The Russian army in the early part of last century had a curious way of raising troops. A levy of two to four men out of every 500 were selected and then medically examined at the army's headquarters,

DYEING SILK BEFORE IT REALLY IS SILK

Two French Scientists Determined to Settle Dispute and Discovered It Possible.

Silk is the secretion of two glands of the silkworm lying alongside the digestive canal. These glands, which consist of numerous colled tubes, terminate in a spinning-wart. From a common orifice in the spinning-wart the secretion of the consistency of honey, issues forth, promptly hardening into a thread on exposure to the air. Usually the silk is colorless on leaving the hody of the silk. If you have a summer home and want to add music to its many other pleasures, you will do well to visit the showrooms of the R. S. Williams & Sons Co., at 145 Yonge St., Monday, and take advantage of the splendid their semi-annual sale.

This sale closes Monday, after which the prices of the planos and player-planos left over, will be raised $50 to $150, to their actual value.

Inow will save $50 at least, and, what is equally important, any instrument offered by the Williams Co. in this sale can be had for $5 cash—the ballance of the usual first payment being due one month later.

These wonderfully easy terms remove the last possible reason for denying your home of the happiness music will bring. But you must act at once or your opportunity will be gone.

Every instrument in the sale is guaranteed—except the square plano and one upright.

Wonderful Bath

PARIS, April 29.—The wounded soldier whose wound has become stiff furnishes one of the great problems of the present day. At the Grand Palais here, under the supervision of Dr. Jean Camus, director of physical treatment, there is a socalled "whirpool bath" for the arm and the leg. By means of it a whirl of water at very high temperature—120 degrees F.—and pressure is applied to the limb for about twenty minutes. The relief to pain is remarkable.

After the bath the limb can usually be manipulated with freedom, and so the bath is now invariably used as a preliminary to treatment by massage and by mechano-therapeutic instruments. There is reason to believe that by this treatment the saving of the French Government in pensions is very sreat.

WEDDINGS

SIFTON-MACLEAN.

The marriage took place very quietly yesterday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock (only relations being present). In the Church of St. John, York Mills, of Mollie, only daughter of Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P., to Mr. Henry Arthur Sifton, third son of Sir Clifford Sifton and Lady Sifton, Ottawa, the Rev. R. Ashcroft officiating. The bride, who was brought in and given away by her father, looked lovely in a plain tailor-made of navy blue serge, a small violet hat, and a corsage bouquet of mauve sweet peas. There was no attendant but Mr. Kaspar Fraser, who was Mr. Sifton's best man. Mr. and Mrs. Sifton motored from the church to the station en route to New York on a short trip, and on their return will live at Donlands. Among the relations present at the ceremony were Sir Clifford Sifton, Mr. and Mrs. H. J.. Maclean, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sifton, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes. Miss Jessie Lummis and Miss Betty Greene, intimate friends of the bride were also at the ceremony.

WAGER-ALEXANDER.

WAGER—ALEXANDER.

A wedding took place at the house of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Alexander, 9 Armsfrong avenue, on Thursday evening, the 20th inst., at 7 o'clock when their daughter Jean was united in marriage to Mr. James Francis Wager, bandsman of the 124th Battalion, C.E.F., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Wager, 520 Ossington avenue. The ceremony was corducted by Rev. J. Mustard of Dufferin Street Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. M. C. McLean of Ossington Avenue Baptist Church. The bride, who was given away by her father looked charming in a gown of white crepe de chine with tulle vell, orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bride roses and lily of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Isabel Alexander, who was dressed in white marquisette and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Jean McCane was maid of honor, and two little nieccs of the groom, Violet Jackson and Vera Crawford were flower girls. Corp. John Wager of the 124th Battalion, C.E.F., brother of the groom, attended his brother, and the wedding march was played by one of the groom, attended his brother, and the wedding march was played by one of the groom, sisters, Mrs. Wm. Helson. After the ceremony about 70 guests sat down to a supper, after which the bride changed her dress to her traveling suit; and Mr. and Mrs. Wager left for a short honeymoon east. Among the many beautiful presents received none was more appreciated than the gift from the bugle band of the 124th Battalion, C.E.F.

McGIFFIN-STAINES.

There is reason to believe that by this treatment the saving of the French Government in pensions is very great, so many apparently hopeless cases are being rescued. The saving has actually been put at as high a figure as $400,000 fifth the fitter of the scribes an apparatus for recording the degree of self-control in beginners in alrmanship.

The candidate is submitted to a violent and unexpected sensation, visual or tactile—a magnesium flash, a detonation or a douche of ice-cold water. The apparatus registers "the tremor of his hand, the acceleration of his respiration, the beating of his heart. A pilot should remain imperturable not only morally, but also physiologically."

The ribbon bearers were daster the flower girl. The ribbon bearers were master Roger McKee of Edmonton, and Master Stirling Staines. The groom was assisted by his brother, Maj. Robt. B. McGfffin.

Mrs. Staines received after the ceremony, wearing a gown of grey silk and black net, while the groom's mother was gowned in black chiffton taffets and Georgette crepe with corsage bouquet of mature sweet peas.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Harold F. McKee, of Edmonton, was present, wearing a lovely gown of ivory duchess lace.

After partaking of a buffet luncheon the bride donned her traveling suit of navy blue shot taffets silk, with dainty French hat, and hurried away, midst showers of confetti and good wishes across the line for Detroit and other American cities.

On their return they will reside in their new home on Mossom road.

AN AUTOMATIC TIMER

RACE COURSE EVENTS Races of many kinds are started with the firing of a revolver. When, however, one of the timekeepers has to wait until he hears the gun report before starting his stop watch, an element of error is introduced, due to the slowness of human movements. With the obvious intention of eliminating such an error, a mechanism has ating such an error, a mechanism has been patented which is intended to work a stop watch automatically. Firing off the gun makes the exploded gases hit a paddlelike lever mounted on the end of the gun, causing a switch to be closed. This in turn works an electro magnet, which starts the stop watch by pulling down on a lever. Another switch, consisting of a long arm projecting out over the speedway, is
