Victory for International

New York, Nov. 13.—The passing of the Buffalo Feds is a victory for the International League and partially squares accounts for elimination of President Barrow's club in Baltimore and Newark. The Buffalo Internationals, managed by Pat Donovan, who received much financial aid from the big league managers, won the pennant this year. Donovan conducted a first class team which won much of the pennant this year. Donovan conducted a first class team which won much of the pennant this year. The Buffalo Feds spent big money to secure the services of Hal Chase, Harry Lord, Heine Schulz, Russell Ford and other former stars, but Donovan's team played better ball and the Buffalo fans appreciated it. The Buffalo Internationals made some money, too, while the opposition was driven to the wall. Barrow is entitled to some credit for the credit for the victory. He worked diligently to keep Buffalo in his circuit in the face of many obstacles and next year will have plain sailing. The International League will soon recover the lost territory in Baltimore and Newark where the fans at ready have been convinced that minor league ball is the best they can get.

Against Exhibition Games

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—Directors of the Pacific Coast Baseball League voted late last night at the annual meeting to close the gates of all coast league parks against all exhibition games. It was announced that major league clubs no longer would be welcomed to coast league cities for such contests.

Harvard Squad Ready

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 16.—The last days of practice for the Harvard football squad before the game with Yale Saturday finds the players and the undergraduate body enthusiastic, but cautious. Any feeling of over-confidence that may have existed disappeared after the Blue disposed of Princeton last Saturday.

It was regarded on Tuesday as practically certain that the line-up would be the same as used in the Princeton game. All the men are in excellent shape. Several former Crimson stars have arrived to assist in the final polishing of the team and for three days more they will be put through hard work. Thursday night the team will go to Tyngs Island in the Merrimack river near Lowell, to rest and play golf until Saturday morning.

Tickets for the game numbering about 80,000 were distributed Monday, and Tuesday. According to Fred W. Moore, graduate manager, more than 100,000 would have been needed to satisfy all who expressed a wish to see the contest.

Yale Improving Attack

New Haven, Nov. 16.—Coach Tom Shevlin and his corps of assistants began on Tuesday further developing the Yale football team for the game with Harvard at Cambridge on Saturday. Special attention was to be given to improving the attack and the defensive work of the ends. The Blue's offensive against Princeton is considered to have been only elementary and it is understood that Shevlin has some new plays involving the forward pass which will be used against the Crimson. Little scrimmaging was looked for during the remaining days of practice.

ATHLETIC

Athletes Roll of Honor

London, Nov. 13.—D. Lambert, a famous English international and Harrogate Rugby footballer, has been killed in action in the recent fighting in north France. By his death the number of international players has now been increased to 31 killed or missing in the war. One of the finest three-quarter backs who ever played under the Rugby code, Lambert represented England in the international games on several occasions, three times against France, Wales twice and Ireland and Scotland once each.

News of the Boxes

George Coppenier, French heavy-weight champion, was commended again the other day by his government for a battle he gave two German aviators. Coppenier was in his machine over the enemy's lines when he was attacked by two German machines. He drove them both back.

Only One Cause

Could have brought the people from all parts of our city and suburbs to our store as they have been coming since Thursday last. Even in spite of the dreadful storm on Monday, they came in large numbers, and that cause was the drawing power of reduced prices on high-grade goods. Not on questionable qualities or poor styles, but on our regular stock of high-grade fall, 1915, lines. Now a poor article, or an article you do not want, is dear at any price; but the goods we are selling are goods you do want and ones you can be proud of anywhere.

Could have made us reduce the prices the way we have on high-grade footwear. It seems almost a crime to be offering reasonable, highest merit goods at less than you would pay for an inferior line of footwear. Only one reason for it, and that is that I am going away January 1st to take a military course, and must leave my business cleared out before I go. That is the reason for it. I have less than six weeks in which to dispose of all the Boots, Shoes, Rubbers, Overboots and Footwear generally in my store and store-rooms. It has kept us busy for five days now, it will keep us busy for some time to come.

This Has Always Been The Young Man's Store

For some years back now the young men have been coming to our store for High-class, Dressy Footwear. This year our stock is bigger than usual, for we bought heavier and better, you know, many of our best customers are in uniform and we cannot supply their footwear wants, and from the letters we receive, many of the boys wish they were wearing a pair of our Famous Gold Brand Boots, or one of our other specialties. However, the prices have been cut.

Overheard in the Store

People seem to be inclined to give Mr. Steel a chance to get away, the way they are buying his boots.

I will take those three pair. They will keep me wearing a time.

I only bought one pair of rubbers last year. Give me another pair just like them. They suit me.

I am sorry you are going. We have always bought our boots here. You could fit us so nicely—then your boots did wear.

That boot I have on I bought here last December. I have had it half soled three times. That is what I call wear.

I always send the children. They get just as good a fit as if I came with them.
