Longitude 58° 33' 00" W.
Notice is hereby given that two Red Lights have been placed on Great Burnt Island for the guidance of fishing craft of that harbour.

Colour—Both towers painted with two red and two white horizontal bands, lanterns white.

Remarks—Lights will be put in operation during month of January, 1915, without further notice.

They cost only $1.00 a copy. It will be the best investment you have ever made. Read what the Rev. F. B. Meyer, B. A., of London, England, has to say regarding these books:

"The questions which are dealt with in the 'Self and Sex Series' of books are always being asked, and if the answer is not forthcoming from pure and wise lips it will be obtained through vicious and empirical channels. I therefore greatly commend this series of books, which are written lucidly and purely, and will afford the necessary information without pandering to unholy and sensual passions. I should like to see a wide and judicious distribution of this literature among Christian circles."

In a Belgian Loft

Affecting Incident of the War

(From "Westminster Gazette.")

There is a graphic little sketch in the United Free Church "Record" of a Sunday morning in a Belgian loft. There had been a sharp engagement, and the British troops holding a village had been hurriedly forced by great masses of the enemy to retire. In the confusion three Scottish privates and a corporal had been cut off in the streets and had taken to the first open door they came to. The occupants had fled, and they made their way up a long staircase, intending to find the roof and watch events from there. But it ended in an empty loft, where there was only a skylight beyond their reach. "Better lie low for a while," suggested the corporal as they stood listening to the terrible sounds outside. The Germans were evidently burning, looting and killing. Now and again they heard screams and the discharge of rifles; sometimes an explosion would shake the building; while the smell of burning wood penetrated to their retreat. This went on for hours. The soldiers knew they would be discovered sooner or later, and expected no mercy.

Suddenly the corporal said: "Lads, it's time for church parade, let's have a wee bit service here; it may be our last." The soldiers looked a little astonished, but they piled their rifles in a corner and came and stood at attention. The corporal took out a small Testament from his breast pocket and turned over the pages. "Canna we sing something first? Try ye're hand at the 23rd Psalm. Quiet now—very quiet."

"Yes, though I walk in death's dark vale

Yet will I fear none ill;

For thou art with me; and thy rod

And staff me comfort still."

There wasn't much melody about the tune, but the words came from the heart.

"LET US PRAY."

Then the corporal began:

"Fear not them which kill the body but are not able to kill the soul; but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

Are not two sparrows sold for a farthing?

And one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father. But the very hairs of your head are all numbered. Fear not, therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows."

As he read there were loud thumps below;

doors banged, and glass was smashed. But he went on:

"He that findeth his life shall lose it;

and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

He ended, and his grave face took on a wry smile. "I'm no' a gude hand at this job," he said, "but we maun finish it off. Let us pray."

The corporal stood, with the book in his hand, and the others knelt and bowed their heads. A little haltingly, but very simply, he committed their way to God and asked for strength to meet their coming fate like men.

Notice

Whereas it appears some misunderstanding has arisen with respect to the free delivery of Parcels mailed to the free Volunteers in Great Britain the Public will please take notice that such Parcels cannot be delivered free of postage. I have been notified that the Postmaster General of the United Kingdom could not undertake the delivery without charge of unpaid or insufficiently paid parcels to the troops on active service in Great Britain. Consequently all parcels mailed to members of the Newfoundland Contingent must be stamped according to the established rates.

Make the Liver Do its Duty

Five times in ten when the liver is right the stomach and bowels are right.

While he prayed a heavy hand thrust open the door and they heard an exultant exclamation and then a gasp of surprise. Not a man moved, and the corporal went calmly on. After a pause he began with great reverence to repeat the Lord's Prayer. That a German officer or private was standing there they realized; they did not see, but they felt what was taking place. They heard the click of his heels, and they knew that he also was standing at attention. For a moment the suspense lasted, and then came the soft closing of the door and his footsteps dying away. The tumult in the house gradually ceased, and soon afterwards the storm of war recreated like the ebb of the tide. At dusk the four men ventured forth, and by making a wide detour worked round the flank of the enemy and reached the British outposts in safety.

Household Hints

Wash cloth with a flannel and warm water; when dry wipe afterward with a little warm milk.

Hang woollens out on the line dripping wet, without wringing them at all. If dried in this way, they will not shrink.

To find out if eggs are done, stick a clean skewer into the centre. If it comes out perfectly clean, the eggs are done.

When boiling an old fowl or tough meat add a pinch of soda to the water. Simmer gently, and the meat will be perfectly tender.

Sweeping linoleum with an ordinary broom is but scratching the dust. Slightly moisten a square of house flannel, tie it over the broom, and then sweep.

To prevent the hands getting cold and chapped when hanging up the clothes, wipe them thoroughly, then rub a little powdered starch into the skin.

If a piece of fat about the size of a nutmeg is added to the water in which any kind of greens are being boiled there will be no boiling over, and no stirring will be required.

A tinle lost put into closely covered tin, exposed for half an hour to a heat not exceeding that of boiling water, then taken out of the tin and allowed to cool, will be restored in appearance and properties to the state of new bread.

When curtain-pins have been in use for some time they are apt to become rusty. To remedy this let them stand for a few minutes in a cup of water, to which a little ammonia has been added. Then remove and well rub, and they will look like new again.

Before using a new umbrella inject a small quantity of vasoline into the hinge portions of the frame. Vasoline will not spread like oil and spell the covering, and is a sure preventive against rust. Wet umbrellas should be stood on their handles to dry; this allows the water to run out of them, instead of into the part where the silk and ribs meet, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot.

Baker's Buns.—After your bread sponge is made up stiff and you work down your bread the second time, take a piece of the dough about the size of a teaspoon. To this add (after the piece of dough has been picked into small bits) half the size of a walnut, one cup of medium warm water, and one-half cup of sugar. Mix this thoroughly with flour about as stiff as you make your light bread. Put in a greased pan and let raise about three hours. Make into buns and let raise three more hours. Then bake in a quick oven. Makes about 18 buns.

I NEVER WANT TO BE WITHOUT THEM

What Mrs. A. Averon says of Dodd's Kidney Pills

Alberta Lady Feels it her duty to Tell her Friends of the Benefit she has received from Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Faith, Alberta, March 29th. (Special).—I never want to be without Dodd's Kidney Pills, so says Mrs. A. Averon, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of this place.

"I am an old lady, sixty-eight years of age," Mrs. Averon continues, "and had kidney trouble for twenty years. My heart bothered me, my muscles would cramp, and my back ached. Neuralgia was added to my troubles."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only medicine that have helped me and I cannot recommend them too highly. I feel it my duty to tell my friends what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills are the favorite remedy of the old folks. They cure the kidneys which are the first of the organs of the body to feel the strain of years. By curing the kidneys Dodd's Kidney Pills ensure pure blood, and pure blood gives renewed energy all over the body. That's why the old folks say 'Dodd's Kidney Pills made me feel young again.'"
