KILLED BY HIS RESCUERS. Tragic Termination to a Lion-Hunting Expedition.

Details of a lion-hunting expedition in German East Africa, which had a terribly tragic termination, have reached London from Tanga, the coast port from which the East African steamers run to Zanzibar. A party of Englishmen and Germans had been out after a lion, which had created much havoc in the native village, and with some difficulty had succeeded in getting a shot at the brute. Unfortunately, however, it was only wounded, and not seriously disabled. The party tracked the animal for some hours, and then lost it in the thick, bush. While they were endeavoring to recover the trail there was a sudden movement in the jungle, and the wounded lion sprang out upon one of party, an Englishman, and pinned him

ORIGIN OF RUSSIA'S EAGLE.

The two-headed eagle, which is the en olem of Russia, has an ancient origin in symbolism, if not in natural history. It is traceable to primitive Babylonia, and s found on Hittite monuments of Cappadocia, it was adopted by Turkoman Princes, and also brought to Europe by Crusaders in the fourteenth century. Apparently the German Emperors got it from Crusaders and passed it on to Russia and Austria.-The London Globe.

In astronomers dealing with this problem have before them, and how imperfect must be any determination of the distance of the stars based on our motion through space. So far as an estimate can be made. it obtained by the other methods. Speaking roughly, we have reason, from the data so far available, to believe that the stars of the Milky Way are situated at a distance between 100,000,000 and 200,000,000 times the distance from the sun. At distances less than this it seems likely that the stars are distributed through space with some a general conclusion, indicated by several thods of making the estimate, that near ly all the stars which we can see with our telescopes are contained within a sphe not likely to be much more than 200,000,000 times the distance of the sun. The inquir-ing reader may here ask another question. Granting that all the stars we can see are be any number of stars without the limit. which are invisible only because they are too far away to be seen?-Harper's Maga-
