THE CHRONICLE.

SAINT JOHN, SEPTEMBER 9, 1836.

For the delay which has taken place in issuing our first number, we beg to apologize to our subscribers in thus transgressing on their patience. Having now fairly commenced operations, our exertions and assiduity, we hope, will meet a proportionable encouragement and support.

We respectfully request our Merchants and Citizens generally, that directions be given to our boys to furnish each house with our first paper, as far as our numbers will permit.

We trust that in a short time, the arrangements for selections, &c. will be more complete, and that our first labours will meet with a favourable reception.—We shall feel thankful for a share of public support; and thus intending to subscribe will please furnish us with their names as early as possible.

It is our intention to send the messengers round on Monday next, to avail of these persons who shall have received our first number, in order to increase our subscription list.

We hope that none of our citizens will think themselves neglected, should they not receive the first paper, as want of la botte obliges us to limit the number so as to issue it at the time appointed.

Our latest European dates are to the 2d of August, brought by the English mail, on Monday last, per steamer from Windsor; from which we have made copious extracts.

ESTABLISHED CHURCH (ENGLAND) BILL.—House of Commons. An order read for resuming the debate (19th July), on the amendment proposed to the Question that the Bill be now read for the third time, and which amendment was to leave out the word "now," and at the end of the question to add the words "upon this day six months,"—question put: the House divided Ayes, 175, Nays, 41.

CHURCH OF IRELAND BILL.—On motion of Lord Lyndhurst, this Bill was read a third time and passed. No effort was made by the Ministerial party to restore the expunged appropriation clauses.

REGISTRATION MARRIAGES.—Upon clause 21 being put, the Bishop of Exeter complained that the clause went to make marriage altogether a civil contract, and therefore he should propose to introduce into this clause a declaration to the following effect:—"I, M. do, in the presence of God, and of these witnesses, take thee N. to be my wedded wife, according to God's holy ordinance, and I will be to thee a loving and faithful husband, and I will keep only unto thee during life."

Viscount Melbourne said that the words proposed by the Right Rev. Prelate were so fatal to the principle of the bill that he hoped their Lordships would postpone the discussion until there should be a full attendance, and a better opportunity of considering so important a question. He therefore moved that the House should resume. Upon this the Committee divided, and the numbers were

The words proposed by the Bishop of Exeter were agreed to, and the clause so amended was ordered to stand part of the Bill.

His Excellency Count Morawinski, one of the Cabinet ministers of the Emperor of Russia, an Admiral of great distinction, has arrived at Ashburham house, on special mission from the Court of St. Petersburg.

ESPIRATES EXPEDITION.—Letters from Constantinople, confirm the loss of the Tigress, steamer, one of the two boats of the Espirates expedition. This melancholy event occurred on the 21st May, in a severe hurricane, 50 miles above the city of Anza. Leon, Co. Thom, Captain Lynch, 12 other Europeans, and five natives perished in the boat. Particulars will be found in a preceding column.

GEORGE LEVY.—This bill occasioned a lengthy discussion in the House of Commons on the 25th July. By all accounts, it appears that a crisis in the fortunes of Greece is near at hand. King Otto is absent, and the Morea is represented as in a state of open insurrection.

IRISH DESERTION.—The Deck Emerald, from Quebec loaded 292 tons, with a cargo of deals was discharged (on Tuesday 26th of July) at the Dublin Docks, by the workmen of the Messrs. Schovels, the loss of 184 working hours. She was ready for sea two days after her arrival in Dock.

FRANCE.—A proclamation issued at Alger on the 1st instant, by Lieut. General Rapatel, Commander-in-chief of the military Forces, tells the native tribes that Marshal Clansel is about to return, and announce to them the arrival of the Duke of Orleans, who will remain in the district of Oran for the purpose of pursuing day and night the refractory tribes, and that immediately on the marshal's return, Belidah, Medeah, and Ahifina, will be occupied.

Several journals have stated that the Duchess of Berry had passed incognito through Paris. The Journal de Gard says she passed through Ghent on her way to Germany, immediately after the affair of Alibaut. She travelled as an English woman, and eluded the police of Brussels and Paris.—It is reported in the English papers, that Louis Philippe has given a private assurance to the Northern Potentates, that he will not send an army into Spain to operate against Don Carlos.

The expected opposition of the French fleet to the landing of the Bey of Tunis has not taken place.—The Capitan Pacla was quietly landed, with 2500 men, in the plain of Mesch. Admiral Hecox, with his squadron, was returning to Tunis; and the French Consul-General at Tunis, N. Schivel, refused on his introduction to the Bey, to kiss the hands of his highness.

SPAIN.—The civil war in this country still continues, and the conflicting statements on both sides, render it impossible to say what will be the probable issue.

TURKEY.—The Frankfort papers report that the Sultan's son-in-law, Halil Pacha, who is gone to Siberia, is appointed by the Sultan to be the Commissioner to receive that Princess from the Russians.

The Pacha of Wallida will accompany 5000 men into the plain. The Poles from Cracow, now at Trieste, will shortly be embarked in English and American ships for England and America.

Accounts from Java, state that by an ordinance issued by the Governor, the exportation of sugar and coffee is prohibited except in Dutch ships bound for Holland direct.

The publication of the quarterly accounts of the weekly liabilities and assets of the Bank of England, from the 3d of May to the 26th of July, inclusive, has excited the usual interest in the mercantile world, and, as compared with the like return up to the 28th of June, exhibits the following results:—

The circulation of the Bank of England has increased in the amount of 41,000, and the deposits in the sum of 685,000; the Securities have increased in the sum of 1,162,000, but the amount of bullion in their possession has decreased in the sum of 436,000. The excess of the assets over the liabilities, usually termed "the profit," is 2,806,000, precisely the same amount as on the last return. The stock of bullion has increased on the half-year by the sum of 150,000; but the circulation on the same period has been extended in the sum of 678,000. The result of this return, therefore, fully bears us out in all our statements that bullion has for some time past been steadily, though not in very heavy amounts, leaving this country. It also shows that the Bank of England Corporation, for its own safety, has sufficient on its hands already, when the relative amount of their circulation and deposits are considered with reference to the present stock of bullion, and it confirms our often expressed opinion of the folly and imprudence in that Corporation, shackled as it is with the present limited gold standard, to attempt to grasp at the idle, unwieldy scheme of manufacturing and restricting the whole of the circulating medium of the country to the issue of its own paper.

The Bank Directors recklessly enough, would double their issues, if they could drive the other Joint Stock Banks out of the field; but we trust those useful checks upon the Bank, aided by the commercial interests, will resist any future attempts at the extension of their already unmanageable monopoly.

The British Funds opened steadily at the closing prices of Friday evening, and the transactions were very limited until late in the afternoon, when many persons on hearing of the serious state of Mr.

Rothschild's health made sales in Consols, which caused them to fall suddenly from 91½ to 90½, and for time from 91½ to 90½ a 100. The heavier Securities partook of the same depression.—The Three-and-a-Half per cent. reduced Annuities fell to 99½, and the New Three-and-a-half per cent. Annuities to 99½. The premium upon Exchequer Bills rules at 9 a 11. India Bonds are at 2 discount. Bond Stock is 213, and India 259 money.

The Foreign market opened as it closed on Friday evening, with little or no business doing until the afternoon. A species of panic took place, and Spanish Bonds fell suddenly from 38½ to 36½ a 100.—Passive Bonds rose 1½, and Defaced rose ½. Portuguese New Bonds were sympathetically affected, and declined from 75½ to 74½, and the Three per cent. Bonds, from 49 to 48. Goldsmith's Scrip is 100; Brazilian Bonds are 82½; and Colubian, 28½. Danish Bonds are 77 a 74. Dutch Stock fell back to 55½, and the Fives to 104; the market altogether closed heavily. The Share market was dull to-day.

At Gardery House, Lunenburg, on the 11th July, David Dobie, Esquire, of Gardery.

We have today to perform the melancholy task of recording the death of Sir Francis Evelyn, Bart. Secretary of the General Post Office, which took place on Sunday morning last, in the 72nd year of his age.

Sir Francis was born on the 26th of August 1764, at Bristol, and commenced his official career as a clerk in the Post-office in the year 1782. On the establishment of the new system of mail-carriage, by Mr. Palmer in 1785, he was selected, on account of his superior ability and intelligence, to assist him in carrying his improvements into effect, and was consequently intrusted with the resignation of 1787, where he has successively filled the offices of Surveyor-General, Joint Secretary (with the late Mr. Todd) and sole Secretary for nearly half a century.

Sir Francis enjoyed the entire confidence of Mr. Pitt, and every succeeding Administration. He was created a Baronet by George the Fourth, in 1825, as a reward for his services, in which that Minister appreciated his public virtues, and lived to see the department which had risen mainly by his own exertions, and the regulations he made, arrive at a point of excellence which renders it an object of admiration to every other State.

Sir Francis was three times married, and had three widows, and leaves behind him a numerous family. In the various relations of husband, father, friend, and supporter of merit in distress, and the active promoter of all undertakings likely to benefit his fellow creatures. In his manner and conversation there was an unassuming amiability and cheerfulness, which, combined with his intellectual ability and goodness of heart, rendered him universally popular, while his merits and qualities cause his loss to be deeply regretted, even far beyond that circle of relations and friends to whom he was so justly endeared.—John Bull, July 17.

Communications.

MR. EDWIN.—It is somewhat remarkable that, in the disputes which have at different times taken place, as to whether the Kirk of Scotland, or not an established Church in this and other British Colonies, so little direct allusion should have been made to the only document which is capable of settling the question, and which does indeed settle it in a way which ought in common fairness to quiet all controversy for ever. The document to which I allude, is the Act of 5th Queen Ann, cap. 8, entitled "An Act for the Union of the Two Kingdoms of England and Scotland." As the question has been lately revived, I send you a few extracts from the Act, which will in no doubt prove satisfactory to all who take an interest in it.

The preamble of the Act recites, that an Act had passed in the Parliament of Scotland, intitled "An Act for the settling of the Protestant religion, and Presbyterian Church Government," which of the articles of the Union of the Two Kingdoms of England and Scotland, and expressly declared to be a fundamental and essential condition of the treaty of union in all times coming. The tenor of this Act is as follows:—

"Our Sovereign Lady and the Estates of Parliament, considering that by the late Act of Parliament, for a Treaty with England for a union of both Kingdoms, it is provided that the Commissioners of that Treaty should not treat of or consent to any alteration of the worship, discipline and government of the Church of the Kingdom as now by law established; which Treaty being now reported to the Parliament, and the same necessary to be considered that the true Protestant religion as presently professed within this Kingdom, with the worship, discipline and government of this Church, should be actually and undeniably secured; therefore Her Majesty, with the advice and consent of the said Estates of Parliament, doth hereby establish and confirm the same, and expressly provides and declares, that the foresaid true Protestant Religion, with the form and purity of worship presently in use within this Church, and its Presbyterian Church Government and discipline, (that is to say) the government of the Church by Presbytery, and the true Protestant religion as presently professed within this Kingdom, with the worship, discipline and government of this Church, should be actually and undeniably secured; therefore Her Majesty, with the advice and consent of the said Estates of Parliament, doth hereby establish and confirm the same, and expressly provides and declares, that the foresaid true Protestant Religion, with the form and purity of worship presently in use within this Church, and its Presbyterian Church Government and discipline, (that is to say) the government of the Church by Presbytery, and the true Protestant religion as presently professed within this Kingdom, with the worship, discipline and government of this Church, should be actually and undeniably secured; therefore Her Majesty, with the advice and consent of the said Estates of Parliament, doth hereby establish and confirm the same, and expressly provides and declares, that the foresaid true Protestant Religion, with the form and purity of worship presently in use within this Church, and its Presbyterian Church Government and discipline, (that is to say) the government of the Church by Presbytery, and the true Protestant religion as presently professed within this Kingdom, with the worship, discipline and government of this Church, should be actually and undeniably secured; therefore Her Majesty, with the advice and consent of the said Estates of Parliament, doth hereby establish and confirm the same, and expressly provides and declares, that the foresaid true Protestant Religion, with the form and purity of worship presently in use within this Church, and its Presbyterian Church Government and discipline, (that is to say) the government of the Church by Presbytery, and the true Protestant religion as presently professed within this Kingdom, with the worship, discipline and government of this Church, should be actually and undeniably secured;
