

MISS SUSAN HENNING TO ENTER BIG RACE WEDNESDAY

The Penchant for European Titles Lures Louisville Girl Into Wedded Bliss.

To Marry Marquis de Charette Next Week--Is the Game Worth While?

New York, Nov. 5.—A new player steps out into the field for the great series of games between the Noblesmen of Europe and the Girls of America.

She is Miss Susan Henning of Louisville and New York. The game begins Nov. 10 at St. Patrick's beautiful cathedral in Fifth Avenue, New York.

Her opponent will be the Marquis de Charette of Brittany. He is said to be a splendid representative of the Noblesmen of Continental Europe, and they are expecting great things from him over there.

Miss Henning, however, has had some great coaching for her part. She is acquainted with most of the Girls of America who have played and lost in the game with the clever and shifty noblemen. If Miss Henning fears that she will be loser she does not show it.

She is said to be as courageous as any American girl that ever tried to win a victory in the game.

Helpful information. Miss Henning has a vast amount of helpful information to draw from. She knows about Anna Gould, who, with $15,000,000, lost out to Boni de Castellane, who won by spending her money on other women, abused her and caused her to get a divorce.

The case of Helen Morton may give her point. Miss Morton married the Duc de Valency, who won out over her in a short order by insulting her immediately after the wedding and deserting her. Then there's Alice Thaw's experience with the Earl of Yarmouth, who extorted some of her $5,000,000 from her on their wedding day and deserted her.

There are many pointers, too, in the case of Ella Haggitt, with her $5,000,000, who married Count Pestetics de Toina. He tried a new but very successful system, deserting his wife after he had taken her among cannibals.

And then there's Alice Helme, with $10,000,000 who lost out to the Prince of Monaco, when he excluded her from state ceremonies and forced her to get a divorce. The game that Prince Carstern-Chimay played against Clara Ward, with her $8,000,000, when he drove her into bad company and forced her to divorce him, is also full of warnings.

Mary Wheeler. Here are some other cases from which she might gain information: Mary Wheeler, with $5,000,000, who married Count Pappenheim, was denied standing in court, and divorced.

Countess Yzanga, with $5,000,000, was deserted by the Duke of Manchester for a music hall singer. Eva Mackay, with $25,000,000, was divorced from Prince Colonna, because he was unfaithful and squandered her money.

Elizabeth Carey, with $5,000,000 was forced to divorce Baron de Stuers because he kept her a prisoner in his castle. Margaret Furman with $1,000,000, got a divorce because her husband

Count Laroche-Guyon, pawned her jewels to get money for a dancer. Eleanor Patterson lost badly to Count Jos. Gzicky, who, even after he deserted her, stole their child repeatedly to extort money from her. Anna Reid, $1,000,000, who was beaten and abused by her husband, Sir Arthur Aylmer, furnishes an opportunity for Miss Henning to gain some more valuable points for her coming contest.

Of course, the investigation of all these cases would be a tremendous task for Miss Henning and perhaps not worth her while. And these are only a few in which the girls lost.

Miss Susan Henning, Who Will Marry The Marquis De Charette on November 10.

WINNIE'S COUSIN IN OPERA NOW

Miss Christina Hellane Arrives in New York for Season at the Metropolitan--Her First Visit.

New York, Nov. 4.—Miss Christina Hellane, whose father is a cousin of Lord Minto, Viceroy of India, arrived yesterday on board the Carmania, of the Cunard Line, to begin a season with the Metropolitan Opera Company. She is a lyric soprano, and sang recently in Covent Garden. A contract to sing in the Royal Opera House in St. Petersburg had been offered her, she said, but she preferred to come to this country, not having been here before.

Miss Hellane, who in private life is Miss Ella Elliott, began her musical career as a violinist. She studied under Ysaye and later in Paris she discovered "that she had a voice," as she remarked. Then she put aside her violin. She will sing in new operas to be produced here.

BOY PUPILS OBJECT TO SURFEIT OF PINK TEAS

500 High School Pupils On Strike in Cleveland--Boys and Girls Have Separate Grievances.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 5.—All day sessions, broken only by pink tea luncheons at high prices, is the grievance of the 500 pupils of the West High School, whose strike was suspended at the close of the school week this afternoon until Monday morning.

The main grievance of the boys is against the forenoon and afternoon sessions. They want to work during the afternoons. The girls are objecting to the price on the luncheon menu, although the boys of the football squad assert that they cannot cover their colors with glory on cream puffs and caramel ice cream, or on pickles and cookies at one cent each.

They declare are undignified and unmanly. As to the double sessions, the girls also have some complaint. They maintain that the art of domestic science, such as cooking, sweeping and washing dishes at home, is sad, which here was a considerable quantity in the house for use as a medicine for a sick horse.

The family physician when asked about the case this afternoon, stated that Mrs. Cook was now recovering, but it would be impossible for him to say what kind of poisoning she had suffered from, although he was led to believe it was arsenic. It is unlikely that any action will be taken against the suspect.

ST. MARYS GIRL UNDER GRAVE SUSPICION

Fredrickton, N. B., Nov. 5.—According to reports which have been made to the authorities, Mrs. Harvey Cook, of St. Mary's had a narrow escape from poisoning this week and suspicion has rested upon a young girl as being responsible for administering the poison. The girl in question is about 16 or 17 years old. It appears that day or two ago Mrs. Cook was suddenly ill. A physician was summoned and for some time the condition of the woman was serious. In the meantime a detective was engaged on the case by Mr. Cook. It is thought that the poison administered to Mrs. Cook was arsenic, of which there was a considerable quantity in the house for use as a medicine for a sick horse.

The family physician when asked about the case this afternoon, stated that Mrs. Cook was now recovering, but it would be impossible for him to say what kind of poisoning she had suffered from, although he was led to believe it was arsenic. It is unlikely that any action will be taken against the suspect.

The Week in St. John

Since the commencement of the gaily season, hostesses have entertained more or less in a small way, but with the first week in November society has been caught up in a whirl of social functions, which are likely to continue until the approach of the busy Christmas week. The outlook for the coming week is a bright one, as invitations are already out for a number of teas and bridges.

Mrs. Daniel Mullin, Carmarthen St., was hostess at a very smart tea on Tuesday afternoon given in honor of her sister, Miss Gertrude de Bury, one of the season's debutantes. Mrs. Mullin received her guests in a gown of white satin with bodice of heavy tulle insertion caught with white tassels on either side. Her gown was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, which prevailed everywhere, in the drawing room, ferocious looking black cats adorned the curtains, bats with wide spread wings circled the chandeliers, mysterious looking witches in white brooms swept the walls and the never-failing pumpkin with large eyes lighted up the halls. Mrs. E. Simonds, wearing a cream serge with blue silk gowns, ushered the guests into the tea room. Mrs. Vroom and Mrs. Wm. Hazen presided at the tea hour, the former wearing a black velvet costume, with lace and white tulle in black lace with a panel of mauve silk inserted in the bodice. The table decorations were most unique, a large pumpkin being placed in the centre of the table, around which were several witches, caldrons, miniature wheelbarrows, rabbits perched on tiny boxes, and filled with delicious bonbons. Assisting in the tea room were Miss Lou McMillan, in white princess gown of lingerie, with large black hat. Miss Winifred Raymond in pale blue crepe de chene Empire gown, with large picture hat, Miss Kathleen McInerney in pale blue and white pompadour muslin, with large white hat; Miss Ena MacLean in mauve lined with violet hat; Miss Kathleen Lee in white lingerie Empire gown, yellow sash, and large hat with yellow roses, and Miss McAvenny in white eolienne, with large black hat; Miss V. Robinson in anything but black, in white tulle gown. Among the guests were Mrs. Joseph Allison, Mrs. Wm. Allison, Miss Agnes Blizard, Mrs. R. C. Skinner, Mrs. de Soyres, Mrs. Neales, Mrs. Doody, Mrs. John McArthur, Mrs. Clara Hales, Miss Gladys Bullock, Miss Flanders, Miss Stevens, Miss Jean Ketchum, Mrs. Walter Harrison, Mrs. Inches, Mrs. Prescott, Mrs. Robinson, Miss Grace Fisher, Mrs. Percy Thomson, Mrs. Olive Stone, Miss Jane Stone, Miss Mollie Robinson, Miss Marjorie Lee, Miss Nellie McInerney, Mrs. Dever, Miss Nellie Jack, Miss Leslie Smith, Miss Sydney, Mrs. Wm. Stockton, Miss Daisy Brittain, Miss Louise Ketchum, Mrs. Bessie Foster, Mrs. Clara Hales, Mrs. Murray MacLaren, Miss Robinson, Mrs. C. Allen, Mrs. H. Powell, Miss Edna Austin, Miss Valerie Steves.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Mullin was seated at a delightful luncheon in honor of her sister, Miss de Bury. Halloween decorations were once more in vogue, tiny pumpkins, witches, demons and miniature fruits filled with bonbons were placed on each table, the score cards having witches painted on them. Tea was served at five at small tables, on which were placed mysterious looking paper napkins in small paper rings, which on being opened contained a walnut, out of the top of which was a gilded nut. On forcing the nuts open, each guest received a tiny favor of some description. The prizes were won by Mrs. Lee Day, Miss Ena MacLaren, Miss Kathleen McInerney and Mrs. Walter Harrison. The guests were: Mrs. Harold Schofield, Mrs. Keltie Jones, Mrs. Lee Day, Mrs. Charles Gray, Miss Katie Hazen, Mrs. Jim Sealy, Miss Ena MacLaren, Mrs. Kent Scovill, Mrs. Harry McAvity, Mrs. Jack Outram, Miss Lily Raymond, Miss Lou McMillan, Miss Vera Robinson, Miss McAvenny, Mrs. Harry Harrison, Mrs. H. Raymond, Miss Gwen McDonald, Miss Audrey Bullock, Miss Smith, Miss Madeline de Soyres, Miss Sylvia Stockton.

Mrs. Walter Allison was hostess at a luncheon on Tuesday in honor of Mrs. F. M. White, who sailed on Wednesday for England. Among the guests were Mrs. Keltie Jones, Mrs. Simon Jones, Mrs. James Seely, Mrs. Percy Thomson and Miss Nan Barnaby.

Mrs. Harold Schofield was hostess on Monday evening at a bridge party. The prizes were won by Miss Katie Hazen, Miss Lou McMillan, Mr. Fred Taylor and Mr. Stanley Emerson. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. L. Barker, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harrison, Miss Katie Hazen, Miss Lou McMillan, Miss Mary Harrison, Miss Elise McLean, Miss Winifred Barker, Mr. Alex. Fowler, Mr. Alex. McMillan, Mr. Stanley Emerson, Mr. Fred Taylor, Mr. James Harrison, Mr. Fred Keator, Mr. Kenneth Inches, Mr. Cyrus Inches.

Mrs. Joseph Allison was hostess at a fashionable tea at her handsome residence on Princess street, on Thursday afternoon. The interior of the house was a lower of flowers, potted plants, violets and large jars of chrysanthemums being in every available place. The conservatory could be likened to fairyland, hundreds of tiny lights and Chinese lanterns swinging amongst the foliage.

Mrs. Allison received her guests in a gown of black lace, trimmed with the tea room. Mrs. James P. Robertson and Mrs. Alex. Wilson presided. The former gowned in wolverine hat to match, the latter in pale blue crepe de chene and hat to match. In the centre of the tea table was an exquisite bowl of carved Indian silver filled with white chrysanthemums. Assisting at the tea hour were Mrs. Walter Allison, Mrs. Wm. Allison, Mrs. Keltie Jones, Mrs. Theo. Cushing, Mrs. T. E. G. Armstrong, Mrs. H. Puddington, Miss Mabel McAvity, Miss Meale Smith, Miss Nan Barnaby, Miss Edith Skinner, Miss Ruth Flanders, Miss Mary Warner.

Why Stanfield's Use Nova Scotia Wool

THE chief reason is because the Stanfields have never found any other wool that makes Underwear so peculiarly suited to Canadians.

The salty, ocean breezes and healthful climate, coupled with the rich grazing, give Nova Scotia wool a quality which is not found anywhere else.

Nova Scotia wool is perfectly blended. It is soft and smooth, yet staunch and strong. It can be spun like silk and wears almost like steel. Garments, knitted of this fine wool, give the desired warmth and are not heavy or bulky.

It is no exaggeration to say that the Stanfields get the pick of the Nova Scotia wool. The founder of these mills did much to develop the sheep-raising industry throughout the Maritime Provinces. The farmers saved their best wool for him, and continue to send their high grade wool to the Stanfield mills.

Then, too, this wool reaches the mills in the best possible condition. There are no long railroad hauls—no lengthy journeys in the holds of tramp steamers. The wool is shipped direct to Truro as soon as sheared. Experts sort, clean and make it ready at once for its trip of transformation into Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear.

Stanfield's Underwear is made by the only process which takes the shrink out of the wool before the garments are knitted.

The value of this discovery—made by the founder of the Stanfield Mills—is shown by the growth of this business, which is now capitalized at $750,000.00 and employs over 300 operatives.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear is made in 3 standard weights, Light (Red Label), Medium (Blue Label) and Heavy (Black Label) and in 17 other weights and qualities to suit the requirements of every man and woman.

The best dealers everywhere handle Stanfield's Underwear. Catalogue showing styles, and samples of fabric, sent free for your address.
