JUDGE WILLIAM W. WELLS THIRD MEMBER OF COMMISSION

Announcement made by Lieut.-Gov. Wood, yesterday—Has had honorable career as member of Bar in this province—Judge McKeown, chairman.

Judge McKeown who has been named as chairman of the commission to investigate the Dugal charges, said last night that he had not yet made any definite plans for the sessions but was waiting for his commission to arrive.

His Honor William W. Wells, who Lieut.-Gov. Wood named yesterday as the third member of the commission, has had an honorable career and was regarded as one of the most prominent members of the bar in this province. He was appointed county judge for Kent and Westmorland counties on October 21, 1893 and successfully filled the office until his retirement two or three years ago.

Judge Wells was born in Bayfield, Westmorland county, on June 10, 1885 and studied in the office of the late Dr. A. A. Stockton.

Early in his career he taught school in Cumberland county, N. S., and at one time was a law partner of the late Judge Hanington. While practicing law he contested the county of Westmorland for the New Brunswick legislature in the interests of the Conservative party but was defeated by A. E. Killam. In recent years he has been living for the most part in Ottawa. A portion of each summer he has spent in Westmorland county and during the winter he has lived in the south. He has travelled extensively.

POLICE FORCE MUST FACE ANOTHER PROBE

Mayor Frink to investigate Matter of Extra Time.

WARM DEBATE ON THE RESOLUTION

Commissioner Potts believes there has been enough investigations, and secures amendment.

Resolved, that in the opinion of this council, the action of the chief of police in allowing officers of the force for so called extra time after the lapse, in some cases of over two years, from the time of its performance, and in other cases after several opportunities to credit such time had passed, is an improper practice and has never been brought to the knowledge of the common council by the chief of police nor sanctioned by that body.

And further resolved, that the chief of police be directed in future not to credit any extra time for services performed or apply such time against time lost by police constables, except by the direct order of the commissioner or of public safety.

And further resolved, that the circumstances attending the allowance of extra time and crediting it aforesaid be referred to His Worship the Mayor to investigate and he be empowered to make such investigation under oath as provided by the act.

The above resolution was introduced at the meeting of the common council yesterday by Commissioner McLellan. In submitting the resolution the commissioner said that the payrolls of the police department were not correct, for some officers had been given extra time without the proper authority. The city had been paying for extra time it should not have been paying for, and Commissioner Potts thought we were getting as bad as Russia, with police spies. He thought that the first section should be cut out of it but referred to the members of the council that the statement was true. Men should be paid when they work. He was in favor of the part of it but regarding improper practices he was rather uncertain about these.

Commissioner McLellan—"There is to be an investigation."

Commissioner Potts—"We have had enough investigations."

It was finally decided to cut out the first section and the resolution as amended was then passed.

Mayor Frink announced that he would conduct the investigation but that he was not going to seek re-election when his term of office ran out, and he had no fear of the electors in this case.

Daring Thieves Enter James McIntyre's Home

Ransack residence during absence of occupants, and make away with $200 in cash—Smash the doors

A daring robbery which was committed some time Sunday was brought to light yesterday when Mr. and Mrs. James McIntyre returned from the country to find that during their absence their home had been subjected to a thorough and complete ransacking and that by carefully examining every piece of furniture and literally turning the house upside down the thieves had succeeded in getting away with all the money which had been left in the dwelling. In all a sum in the vicinity of $200 was stolen. Mr. McIntyre said last evening that he had not missed any of the household articles, and it is apparent that the culprits were intent on securing all the ready cash that they could lay their hands on.

While the robbery was made while those occupying the house were absent from the city, Mr. McIntyre's confidence from the nature of the break that the burglars were familiar with the interior of the dwelling and well prepared to make the haul. In making the entrance the front door of the house was first forced open by snapping the lock. After they had gained admittance the thieves went to the collar and procured a heavy axe which they used to force open the doors of the dining and other rooms. Along with this other instrument was used in prying the dining room door, and it is evident that the thieves were prepared for business.

After the different doors had been forced burrains, sideboards, desks and other pieces of furniture were carefully searched and the money which had been left in the house from Saturday was collected and carried away by the thieves.

In conversation with The Standard last evening Mr. McIntyre said that he missed about $200 from the house, but that he did not know of any household articles having been removed. The robbers evidently kept a watch for the break was made at a most opportune time—when the occupants were absent from the city—this will recall the cases brought to light some weeks ago when house pilfering was in order.

THE CAVALRY SCHOOL OPENS

Much interest taken in first session, last evening—Many pupils in attendance.

The cavalry school, which is to be conducted in the city under the supervision of Lieut. H. Stethen of the Royal Canadian Dragoons, was formally opened last evening when several were on hand to receive instruction. There was no actual drill or instruction carried on last evening, however, as the time was taken up with organizing and preparing for the regular work of the five weeks' course. The lieutenant and his assistant instructors enlisted all those prepared to take the course and gave the men a plain talk on the course.

The first actual instruction will be given this morning when the course will open with lessons in equitation. Elementary work taken up, and as the men show the result of the training, this will be gradually shifted to squad and troop drill. The fifth week of the school will be given up to the instruction of the advanced pupils and will be a sort of brush-up course.

When those attending the school have gleaned sufficient knowledge to warrant it they will be taught tactics and drilled in picket work, manoeuvring within a radius of five or six miles of the city. The supervising instructor is very well pleased with the interest that has been shown in the opening of the school and he looks for encouraging results. Lieutenant Stethen speaks appreciatively of the cordial welcome extended in the city. Colonel McLean is trying to arrange to have the school continued after Camp Sussex and it is probable that this plan will be carried out. It is probable also that Lieutenant Stethen will be numbered among those attending the camp this summer, and that the horses used in the local cavalry school will figure in the drill.

While relieved from his regular duties Lieutenant Stethen is willing to have the senior officers grouped for special instruction on Wednesday or Friday evenings.

You can make a great saving on your purchases of lace curtains, curtain nets and scrims if you will take the advantage of the alteration sale now going on at P. A. Dykeman and Co's store. They have about one thousand pairs of Nottingham lace curtains that were bought at one-third less than the regular price, they run from 45 cents to $4.50 a pair; the regular price would be from 70 cents to $6.75 a pair. English cottage nets which they are showing at 18 cents to 25 cents are the best things for windows that have been manufactured for some time.

MATTERS IN POLICE COURT

In the police court yesterday afternoon John Ryan, who was arrested some time ago on the charge of stealing coffee, was again remanded to jail. He said that he was not guilty of the theft, but was told by the court to try and get some person to give him a character.

A man who was arrested two weeks ago Sunday, for being drunk, was allowed to go on his promise to sign the pledge for six months.

Richard Parker, who was arrested a few days ago for drunkenness and who is said to have been robbed by Mark Allen, was brought before the court and again remanded to jail.

The two women named Pierce and Dauphinee, who with J. London and John Walker, were arrested as being inmates of a questionable house on Brussels street, were before the court. It was shown that London had entered the house with Walker and had only been there a short time when the place was raided. He was given a good character and allowed to go. Walker was fined $50 or three months in jail.

The Dauphinee woman, who had a five months' old child with her asked that her case be postponed until tomorrow morning when her mother will obtain counsel for her. The Pierce girl on being asked some questions said that she was 19 years old and that her father resided in St. John, but at present was in jail where he had been for five months doing time for stealing. She was remanded to jail, and her case will come up this morning.

Yesterday Clara Stewart, a colored woman, was taken in custody by Deputy Chief Jenkins as an insane person. She was taken to the Provincial Hospital yesterday afternoon by Officer Pitt.

The case against Mark Carey will be taken up in the police court this morning at 11:30 o'clock.

MAKE RECORD FOR SETTLERS TO PROVINCE

Arrangements made for large number to come out this spring—Time well spent.

Advices received by the provincial superintendent of immigration yesterday state that S. L. Harrison who was sent to Great Britain about two months ago by the provincial government as special immigration official is returning with a party consisting of twenty second class passengers and fifty third class passengers. Considering that Mr. Harrison has only been in the old country a few weeks, the number of people he is bringing out gives evidence that his time has been well spent.

A letter received by Jas. Gilchrist yesterday from the provincial agent in Glasgow stated that he had already arranged for a party of fifty to accompany Mr. Bowdler, the representative of New Brunswick, when he sails for here on the 7th of June. In view of the large party being brought out by Mr. Harrison and the contingent for which the Glasgow agent has already arranged, the immigration officials are looking for a record in the matter of immigration to New Brunswick this spring.

SCOTT ACT CAMPAIGN OPENED IN ST. JOHN

An enthusiastic and well attended meeting was held last evening in the Queen's Rink when the entire programme was devoted to the advocacy of Scott Act in the city of St. John. The meeting was presided over by George Knight, and the principal speaker of the occasion was Rev. Dr. Burrows, who chose as his subject "Booze and Bosses." The address was heard with much interest by the large audience present.

There were in all about fifteen hundred persons in attendance. Rev. Dr. Giff opened the meeting with prayer. Vocal music was rendered by a quartet from the Leinster street Baptist church and instrumental music was nicely rendered by the Temple Band. Rev. Mr. Stavert, Field secretary of the Dominion Alliance in New Brunswick, delivered a brief address and he was followed by Dr. Burrows in his address on "Booze and Bosses."

The point dwelt upon by Dr. Burrows was that the saloon was injurious to the community at large and that Scott Act, if introduced, would be a means of checking the evil effects of the saloon. An appropriate solo, "The Brewer's Big Team Can't Run Over Me," was sung by E. P. VanHorne. Special invitations had been given to the members of temperance organizations in the city to be present and
