ROYAL REGATTA OPENED YESTERDAY--- DIAMOND SCULLS PRELIMINARY HEATS--- DIBBLEE, TORONTO; AYER, BOSTON, WINNERS

Henley on the Thames, July 1.—Robert Dibblee, under the colors of the Don Rowing Club of Toronto, and Jas. B. Ayer of Boston, today won their preliminary heats for the diamond sculls in the Royal Regatta. Both men pulled a strong oar and won with comparative ease.

William Tudor Gardiner, Union Boat Club of Boston, and Paul Withington of the same club, were eliminated from the contest.

In the next series Dibblee will meet J. L. Tann, Thames Rowing Club, who today defeated Withington, and Ayer will meet the Italian ornamental sculler, who today defeated E. D. Pinks, one of England's best oarsmen.

The regatta tomorrow will enter upon a more serious stage, when four heats for the grand challenge cup will be rowed. The Union Boat Club of Boston is expected to dispose of the London eight, and Withington should have no difficulty in defeating the Thames Rowing Club. The Harvard second eight is also favored over Leander, but the contest between the eight representing the Mayence Rowing Club of Germany and Jesus College, Cambridge, may be anybody's race.

The American contests will be bunched. Ayer rows Sinigaglia at 12:10 o'clock; Boston will meet London at 12:40 and Harvard-Leander at 12:45. The Harvard men are boated exactly as when they rowed against Yale: Bow, L. Salmonstall; No. 2, J. Talcott; No. 3, H. H. Meyer; No. 4, H. S. Middendorf; No. 5, J. W. Middendorf; No. 6, D. P. Morgan; No. 7, Louis Curtis; stroke, Charles Lunn; coxswain, H. L. Greger.

The Union Boat Club are as follows: Bow, G. Balch; No. 2, B. Fahey; No. 3, R. Tappan; No. 4, S. A. Sargent; No. 5, J. E. Wade; No. 6, L. Withington; No. 7, Paul Withington; stroke, R. Cutler; coxswain, G. P. Ables.

Harvard has accepted an invitation to send an eight and a four to the Hamburg regatta. The eight will be the same as here.

A Great Opening

A broiling hot day greeted the opening today of the royal regatta here and found tens of thousands of lovers of aquatic sports gathered along the banks of the Thames. The river near the shores was crowded with house boats and launches occupied by officers of the "crack" regiments and prominent society people and also, in many cases, by Canadians and Americans who had come to watch the performances of the trans-Atlantic entrants of the various events.

Never in its history has the course looked prettier than it did today with its crowds of brightly dressed people walking along the banks and the neatly arranged craft leaving an open way about 110 feet in width in the centre of the river for a distance of a mile and 550 yards. The course stretched from the end of the island along to Phyllis Court.

The day's programme was largely taken up with the eliminatory heats of the diamond sculls, in which there were a number of scullers from across the Atlantic. These were Robert Dibblee, amateur champion of America, from the Don Rowing Club, Toronto; Paul Withington, James B. Ayer, and Wm. Tudor Gardiner of the Union Boat Club of Boston.

For the grand challenge cup the four entries included the Winnipeg Rowing Club, Harvard second crews, and the Union Boat Club of Boston.

The Canadian and American crews and scullers were out on the water early for tuning up spurs to keep them in condition for their events. They seemed to revel in the heat which was sorely felt by the British rowers.

The entries total seventy-three crews and scullers, which is up to the usual average, although this year shows a scarcity of four-oar crews and only a small representation of the Oxford colleges.

Thirty-five crews are competing for the three eight-oar events, which are the grand challenge cup, the ladies' plate, and the Thames' challenge cup. The grand challenge cup is the big event of the regatta, and eight crews are entered for this. They are the present holder, the Leander Club, Harvard second crew, Jesus College (Cambridge), the London Rowing Club, the Mayence Rowing Club of Germany, the Thames Rowing Club, the Winnipeg Rowing Club of Canada, and the Union Boat Club of Boston.

Of the chances of the crews in the grand challenge cup, a well known sporting writer says: "London Rowing Club has better crew than usual, but it will hardly be good enough to beat either Winnipeg or Mayence, while the two American crews are an unknown quantity. But the Jesus crew is very good, and it would create no great surprise if that club contested the final with Leander, just as it did last year."

The same writer says of the entrants for the diamond sculls: "There is an entry of sixteen for the diamond sculls, but we take, say Dibblee, the Canadian, as a standard on a par with present form, we can neglect at least of the river for a distance of a mile and 550 yards. The course stretched from the end of the island along to Phyllis Court."

BASEBALL, SITUATION IN PROVINCES

The baseball situation in the provinces does not look as promising as it did a couple of weeks ago, and yesterday the North End diamond was idle, when on the same date last year about a thousand dollars was taken in at the gates.

In Montreal many difficulties have been encountered, whereby it was found advisable to let the imported players go as not enough games were being played to warrant the management holding the men at high salaries. The Halifax management has changed hands and they asked such a large amount of money to play two games here yesterday that the local management could not see their way clear to agree so the proposed games were cancelled.

From the present outlook St. John fans will have to put up with amateur ball for the remainder of the season.

WILLIAMS DEFENDED HIS TITLE
New Orleans, July 1.—"Kid" Williams of Baltimore successfully defended his newly acquired title of heavyweight champion of America in a ten round no decision bout here last night with Pete Herman, of New Orleans. A newspaper decision gave Williams seven rounds, Herman two and one even.

SHOOTING ON RANGE YESTERDAY

The City Rifle Club held two matches at the range yesterday, one at Kings Ranges in the morning, and one at long range in the afternoon. The morning was very disagreeable, being cold with a fine drizzle combined with a tricky wind from right front. In the afternoon it cleared up, but occasionally a very heavy mirage as well as a changeable wind, making very difficult scoring, especially at the 1,000 yards where many of the best shots fell down badly.

BEN BEY

MOST men who smoke Ben Bey used to think ten cents too little for a good cigar.

It would be--if Ben Bey's makers didn't know tobacco like a banker knows arithmetic--and if they didn't have a strangle-hold on the particular crops and the particular blend that makes Ben Bey possible. They have been in the business for forty years--and Ben Bey is their leading brand. There has been a particularly big and good Ben Bey crop, and that is why, for the first time, there are enough Ben Bays to go around to each man.

Ten cents is too little for a good cigar, unless you remember to say "Ben Bey"--then it's a plenty.

Ten cents--Everywhere

Says Ben Bey!
