Unless the provisions for the calling of the meetings are absolutely complied with, it is illegal, and the business transacted is of no effect.

3.—In some countries the people have the right to require a council or other governing body to pass a law if presented by a given number of voters. In such a case they are said to possess the power of initiative, that is, the power of originating legislation.

6.—The place where coins are made is called the mint. The Canadian mint at Ottawa is a branch of the Royal Mint of Great Britain. Some time ago all the Canadian coins were made at the Royal Mint in London and brought over to us.

7.—Municipal is that which pertains to local self-government. The word comes from the Latin, Municipium, meaning "a town governed by its own laws." Defer Action Re School Site

City Fathers Fear Objection from Taxpayers—Assessment Appeals Dismissed.

The City Council yesterday decided to defer action on the request for a school site on the West Side, thinking there might be some objection from the taxpayers of that section to having the public land voted away. Commissioner Frink's motion that the city pay one half the cost of a retaining wall on Brussels street was voted down, two of the commissioners objecting to a bond issue for this work. It was decided to buy an addressograph for the assessors department at a cost of $2,000 plus freight from Montreal and the appeal of Sir Douglas Hazen and the estate of Sarah A. Latta from their assessment was dismissed.

Mayor Schofield presided and Commissioners Thornton, Jones, Bullock and Frink were present.

Appeals Dismissed

The report of the committee of the whole as already published was adopted with the exception relating to the bill of M. E. Grass for entering sewer which was referred back to give Mr. Grass an opportunity to be heard. With regard to the appeal of Sir Douglas Hazen and the estate of Sarah A. Latta, from the assessment made by the Board of Assessors the committee made the following report: "Your Committee to whom was referred the appeals of Sir Douglas Hazen and the estate of Sarah A. Latta, after hearing Mr. D. King Hazen on behalf of the appellants and Mr. Murray Olive, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, in support of the said assessments, they recommend that the assessment in each case be affirmed and the appeals dismissed."

School Building Site

The Board of School Trustees wrote asking for a grant of land on King Square, West Side, for a site for a school building. Commissioner Bullock said it would be necessary to obtain legislation before the request could be granted and he moved that a questionnaire be prepared and sent to the taxpayers of that section of the city to find out their wishes in the matter before any action was taken. This failed to pass and a second and Commissioner Thornton moved the letter be laid on the table, expressing the opinion that any who objected to the school being known. This was seconded by Commissioner Frink and carried.

Applications

A request from the janitor of the police building for an increase of salary was referred to the Commissioner of Safety. A letter from W. E. Lane regarding water flooding his property was filed. An application from Emerson & Plesner for permission to cut a coal street in the sidewalk at 25 Germain street was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works. On motion the recommendation of the Mayor that an addressograph be purchased at a cost of $2,000 plus freight from Montreal, was adopted. On motion of Commissioner Thornton the city light bill for last quarter amounting to $9,662.28 was offered and he reported 378 are lights and 109 one hundred watt lights were in operation.

Commissioner Frink moved that the city pay $183 one half the cost of building a retaining wall at 298 Brussels street and a bond be issued for the amount. The issue of a bond was approved by Commissioner Bullock and Frink and the motion was carried and then adjourned.

Reflections of A Bachelor Girl

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

When love dies, it would be some consolation to a woman, to give it an elaborate burial, if the man wouldn't always insist on bringing the next woman to the funeral.

A man's idea of time is so fast moving, that every wife needs a couple hours around the house to tell her exactly when her husband will come in, evenings, and when to put the steak in the oven.

A woman's first kiss is a sacrament, her second an adventure, her third a surrender, her fourth an experiment—and all the rest, merely research.

When a flapper acquires a lipstick, a pair of green ear-rings, and an inscrutable expression, it is a sign that she has decided to take up "vamping" in a serious way.

A man may read a treatise on "The Art of Seduction" and then not know any more about them, than a hostess would know about an iceberg, merely from seeing a picture of one.

Eye was the only woman who ever got what every woman wants the complete and undivided attention of "the only man in the world."

No man would hesitate to marry an "angel," and then expect her to make over her old habits and use her wings to dust the furniture with.

The difference between a spinster and a bachelor girl is that the first thinks of marriage as something she has "missed" and the second thinks of it as something she has "escaped."

After forty, a man might as well marry; he is going to grow bald, greasy, and flabby, anyhow.

Marriage is the point at which a woman ceases being "babied" by a man, and begins to "mother" him.

Long Sleeves Are All The Mode

Among Important Details Dating Gowns Are the Style of the Sleeves.

(By Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

London, Oct. 26.—A dress is dated more than anything else by its details. This fall, if you wish to be up-to-date, everything will depend upon your sleeves. Collars are an important detail also, but although the high necked is assured of a great future, collar cut low at the throat will be worn almost as much as the high ones. With sleeves, however, it is a different story.

Long sleeves, there is the long, monotonous sleeve ending in a cuff which falls well over the hand. This sleeve is especially favored in transparent materials.

Then there is the sleeve with the long cuff. The Chinese pagoda sleeve will also be largely worn. For evening simple puffed sleeve sleeves made in some filmy transparency will supersede to a great extent the "no-sleeve" effect on your gowns.

In Paris the long sleeve has caught the fancy and is all the mode. With the revival of lace has necessarily come also the vogue for the lace sleeve. This is a dressy, ladylike thing. Many lace sleeves have deep arabesque and finish off in soft frills which fall gracefully over the hand.

Pagoda Finish.

Others are built with the pagoda finish. Some of the evening cloak sleeves are so diminutive as to be little more than appendages in a woman's dress. The bishop's sleeve, very full at the base, the fullness caught into a narrow cuff terminated by a fringe, has also caught on. In fact the choice of new sleeves is so varied that there is no excuse for clinging to the old ones. So the best advice is to be up-to-date in your sleeves.

Some velvet house-frocks still show the type of short sleeve that was worn so much in the summer. These are a little and a little, but they are still worn. Long sleeves in velvet, of course, are apt at times to prove a heavy, especially when worn under a thick fur coat.

There is a certain vogue for multi-colored, multi-colored sleeves, which serve to emphasize the Oriental touch which is lighting its way into the new fashions. Long sleeves in black velvet, with a fringe, have also caught on. In fact the choice of new sleeves is so varied that there is no excuse for clinging to the old ones. So the best advice is to be up-to-date in your sleeves.

Wonderful Recital At The Imperial

Distinguished Artists Took Part in Demonstration of New Edison Phonograph.

"Edison has snared the soul of music." The truth of this was demonstrated yesterday afternoon at a recital at the Imperial theatre in which the following artists took part: Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, soprano; Miss Madeleine MacGuigan, violinist; Ignor Sokoloff and Reinal Thomas, pianist; Jacques Glocks, of the Edison laboratories made an introductory address.

These recitals in which the singers or musicians sang or played with the re-creation of their own performances to be called "Tone Tests," but the perfection which the New Edison has reached has made that name a misleading one. It is no longer a tone test, it is a triumph for the inventor, for so perfectly is the voice or instrument reproduced that it is well nigh impossible to distinguish between the original and the re-creation.

Audience Deceived.

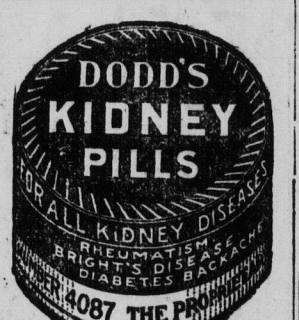

To prove the actuality of re-creation Miss Betsy Lane Shepherd, a soprano with a delightful personality and a voice of rare tone quality sang "In the Gloaming," the lights of the theatre being darkened. Miss Shepherd stepped quickly from the stage and sang the song in a room on, although Miss Shepherd's lovely rendition of the old favorite had continued the person of Jacques Glocks was disclosed. The audience appreciated the sly smile with which Miss Shepherd on her return to the stage continued singing. It was best to leave you darling, she sang, and Mr. Sokoloff played several lovely trios in which, as they passed at intervals, the three instruments could be clearly distinguished in the re-creation.

Instrumental Selections.

With a charmingly sympathetic touch Miss MacGuigan gave several violin selections including the Ansel's Serenade (Danish) and Spanish Serenade (Chaminade). Ignor Sokoloff delighted the audience with two cello selections. Accompanied by Reinal Thomas at the piano Miss MacGuigan and Mr. Sokoloff played several lovely trios in which, as they passed at intervals, the three instruments could be clearly distinguished in the re-creation.

Report Confirmed.

New York, Oct. 26.—A cable message, received today at the Russian Soviet government bureau here, confirmed a report that Washington, D. C., had been visited by a representative of the Russian Soviet government, a syndicate of Pacific coast capitalists had concluded an agreement with the Russian Soviet government for the development of the natural resources of Northeastern Siberia. The message, signed by George Tchichibin, commissar for foreign affairs, was addressed to Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, representative of the Soviet government in the United States. The message also stated that the syndicate is also acquiring a lease with the right to purchase of the Seattle waterfront property purchased by the czar's government negotiations are proceeding successfully. It was stated that the syndicate will become "our financial agents in the United States, financing purchases up to $500,000,000; all purchases to be made through your office."

Woman Wants To Sit In Lords

Viscountess Rhondda Petitions King to Summon Her to Take Seat.

London, Oct. 26.—Viscountess Rhondda, who is a peeress in her own right, has petitioned King George to order a writ issued summoning her to serve in parliament as a member of the House of Lords.

Peeresses in their own right, of whom there are about 25, have all the dignities and privileges of peers except that of sitting in the House of Lords, thus being in a different position than the wives of peers, who merely take their husbands' titles. Lady Rhondda claimed recent legislation equalizes the position of the sexes and declares she wishes to participate in legislation before the House of Lords. This is the first time a peeress has sought the right of admission to the upper house of parliament. The title was bestowed on viscountess Rhondda, who was created a baron in 1906.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. FRANCE MAKING QUICK RECOVERY FROM WAR LOS

Over Half Homeless Population Rehabilitated—K roads and Canals Normal

By HENRY W. FRANCIS.
(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

Paris, Oct. 26.—More than half the population made homeless by the Franco-German war have been rehabilitated, homes according to French official figures on the progress of reconstruction work just issued. Out of 2,712,000 persons who were deprived of homes by the war, 1,388,000 have been provided with living quarters. These and other figures indicate that the work of building up the devastated sections has advanced much farther than generally was believed. More than 2,000 houses have been reconstructed and 14,000 have been temporarily repaired. These numbers, however, provide only a partial picture of the relief needed. In war 619,366 houses were entirely destroyed and 213,675 partly destroyed. Making Good Progress.

Of 4,875 bridges and viaducts made useless by the Germans, 3,424 have been rebuilt. The enemy destroyed 1,340 miles of railroad and 1,581 miles of canals, but 4,070 of the former and 790 of the latter have been repaired or reconstructed. Destruction of crops covered 37,238 miles; of these 7,100 miles have been repaired or rebuilt. More than 6,000,000 acres of ground were made useless, but 5,767,000 have been reclaimed. The Germans destroyed 11,500 factories in 1918; 278,000 persons were employed in 1919.
