The Rev. W. Mortimer Heath has celebrated his 85th birthday and the holding of the living of Lytchett Matravers (Dorset) for the 57th year.

A new oak Communion Table was placed in Dunkerrin Church, and used for the first time on Christmas Day. There is a very handsome east window in this attractive little church.

Mrs. Henry Gladstone has presented a beautiful altar cross to be placed in the memorial chapel at Hawarden Church. The work has been designed and executed under the superintendence of Sir William Richmond.

A handsome little organ has been erected in the Parish Church of Ballyrashane. It is the gift of a native of Ballyrashane, the Rev. Denis Coyle, now rector of Raydon, in the Diocese of Norwich, in memory of his wife.

Workmen engaged in re-roofing Middleton Parish Church have discovered a long narrow stone which had been used as a section of a window-frame. It is beautifully carved, and it is supposed to have been an ancient coffin-lid. This, however, is mere conjecture, and archaeological experts will be consulted. This stone is believed to have been put in the wall when this portion of the church was built 400 years ago.

A movement has been set on foot for the celebration of the diamond jubilee of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury, on June 29th next. A corporate appeal to the home and colonial world is to be made for a sum of at least £5,000 in order to increase the usefulness of the college.

An interesting discovery has been made in Exeter Cathedral. Workmen engaged in some alterations in the Canon's vestry suddenly came upon a deep hole, sealed with a slab of stone, leading to a large chamber, evidently an old reservoir. Several earthen pitchers and one metal dipper were found about the centre of the chamber in the mud. The bottom of the chamber is about 12 feet below the foundation of the cathedral wall on the south side. Water rises readily, and stands at a depth of about 2 feet.
