

PASTOR RUSSELL'S PHOTO-DRAMA

Formally Opened in the Boston Theatre on Sunday.

BIG SUCCESSSES EVERYWHERE

In Sermon Pastor Russell's Subject Was, "Satan's Great Lie—What Harm It Did"—The First Lie—Where It Was Told—Why It Was Told—To Whom It Was Told—Its Result—Its Repetition—The Disastrous Results to Humanity—All Manner of Crimes Are Its Fruitage—The Only Remedy—Why?—When?—How?

Boston, Mass., February 8th.—Pastor Russell is here, and in the Boston Theatre to-day conducted the opening exhibition of his Photo-Drama of Creation, which will be exhibited at this theatre every Sunday at 10 A. M., and 3 P. M.

Since the Photo-Drama of Creation was first shown to the public at the Temple in New York City on January 11, which was the beginning of a series of worldwide productions, it has been introduced in several cities to crowded houses, in all of which it continues to enjoy a wide patronage.

Profound Bible scholars say that there is nothing of the kind in the world to-day comparable to Pastor Russell's Photo-Drama of Creation and its ninety-six remarkable photographic talks, and that in several parts are superior to a seminary course in theological preparation.

In his sermon in the forenoon Pastor Russell discussed that creature of "Satan's Great Lie, and What Harm It Did." His text and discourse follow:

"When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own; for he is a liar, and the father of it."—John 8:44. Nonsensical traditions handed to us from the Dark Ages have greatly confused the people of God on every Bible subject; for instance, Satan has been pictured grotesquely, and described as presiding in a far-off torture chamber. He has been presented as superintending the tortures of the non-select of humanity. The Bible account has been wholly ignored. Instead of the Bible's representing Satan as a repulsive being with hoofs, horns, and a tail, it tells us he was an angel of a very high order—beautiful in person and highly endowed. Instead of residing afar off, he is the "prince of the power of the air," instead of stoking fires, he "worketh in the hearts of the children of disobedience," seeking to blind them and to bind them with ignorance, superstition, falsehood.

According to the Bible, Satan's primary sin was an ambitious pride. He imagined he could direct the affairs of the universe, and he tried to set up a separate dominion, and try out his schemes. When Divine Power created Adam and Eve, and bade them multiply and fill the earth, Satan saw his opportunity to put his ambitious schemes into operation. The holy angels were not to think of rebelling against Divine authority to co-operate with him in his schemes; but here was an inexperienced man, who might be deceived into disobedience to God, and thus be won over to Satan and his schemes. Through him he saw his way to an earthly empire in which his will would be done as Jehovah's will is done in Heaven.

Thus it came that when God instructed Adam and Eve in respect to the fruits of the Garden of Eden and forbade their eating of one certain kind of fruitage, and put a penalty upon disobedience, then Satan, through the serpent, lied to them. He told them that their Creator wished to keep them in a measure of slavery, that the very fruit necessary to their highest development, that so far from doing them injury it would be a boon, and make them as wise as God Himself. Satan intimated to them that God did not wish them to be as wise as Himself, but desired to hold them in the slavery of ignorance.

The thirst for knowledge and the doubt of God's Wisdom and Love came before our first parents as a temptation; and they yielded. They disobeyed. This was sin. And it brought upon them the penalty God had foretold—"Dying, thou shalt die." The dying process began immediately, but so strong was the perfect man that even in the imperfect surroundings of the accursed earth, outside of Eden he was able to prolong his dying 930 years.

Satan obsessed, or took control of the serpent, and so guided it that it spoke the deceptions to our first parents. It is not even necessary to suppose that the serpent spoke with an audible voice. Quite likely, as our sages say, its actions spoke louder than words. It partook especially of the fruit forbidden to our first parents. The fruit did not kill the serpent. On the contrary, Mother Eve perceived that it was wiser than any other of the beasts of the earth. By its actions it declared to her mind that God had misstated the facts when He told them that the eating of that forbidden fruit would bring death to them.

When Satan beheld Adam and Eve outcasts from Eden, and perceived that gradually the penalty, "Dying, thou shalt die," would come upon mankind, weakening their mind, in body and in morals, he himself has been convinced of the folly of his crime. But no, an evil course of pride, once entered upon, leads further and further astray. Instead of surrendering to the God of all grace, Satan became more defiant. Instead of repenting of the lie by which he had injured a race, he added to it, still seeking to lower God in the eyes of humanity.

Apparently Satan sought so to alienate and demonize mankind that a perpetual barrier would be raised in their hearts against the Almighty, and thus humanity might be hindered from ever again coming into fellowship with God, no matter what provision God's mercy or grace might make for their return. For six thousand years Satan has been carrying on his wicked work of alienation and misrepresentation of the Divine character and purpose.

According to the Scriptures, Satan was disappointed that his subjects were dying, and was resolved to remedy this matter. Hence his next step was to inoculate the race with a fresh strain of life vitality, to show from the angels, who had never shown any symptoms of death. These, possessed of the power to materialize—to assume human bodies—were encouraged by Satan to violate the law of their being and the law of misrepresentation of the Divine character and purpose. Satan's word to our first parents, "Ye shall not surely die," must be upheld. By hook or by crook he would strive to fulfill his word, and to make the Almighty the falsifier.

The attempt was successful. Many of the angels heeded God's adversary and indulged themselves in the pleasures of sin. Of this matter we read in Genesis 3:7. Those angelic sons of God, saw the daughters of men, that they were fair, beautiful, and took of them for wives such as they chose, and started human families—all contrary to the Divine arrangement of their being, wholly misusing their power of materialization. Satan's course seemed to prosper. God's time to intervene had not yet come. He would allow disobedience and a certain amount of liberty that it might eventually illustrate to all certain great principles and lessons respecting the Divine character, Plan and arrangement, designed for the good of all God's creatures.

The children of this combination of angelic vitality grafted upon the human stock was a race of giants—physically and intellectually superior to the condemned and dying race of Adam, and born under purely lawful conditions, and in violent opposition to the Divine will, this new race of giants retained nothing of the image or likeness of God. They were brutish, sensual tyrants. Under their rule the human family would soon have been exterminated; for we read respecting conditions that God perceived that the earth was full of violence and that the thoughts of men's minds were only evil continually. God's Wisdom saw that it would be best to blot out entirely that order of things, and to start a new arrangement, The Deluge accomplished this.

Therefore those angels who for centuries had lived in sin were restrained from materializing again, and separated from the holy angels, being confined to Tartarus—or earth's atmosphere. Meantime, instead of starting a new race of men, God carried over Noah and his family of seven. These constituted a new start for the Adamite family. And the Lord said that they were perfectly generated and that they had no angelic adulteration, assures us of the solidarity of our race, and that the Redemption-price paid for Adam includes every one of us; under the Lord's arrangement that "as all in Christ shall be made alive."

"This was the first defeat that Satan had met with—the first great manifestation of Divine Power in opposition to him. But still it only partially stopped his program. His fallen angels were therefore restrained, limited to earth. No longer had they privilege to roam the universe. Furthermore no longer were they permitted to assume a human form by materialization. They still, however, had their original perfection of organism and their general liberty. Satan thus had opportunity for assuming that God had done all that He was able to do in the way of restraining and opposing him.

By laying himself to the new conditions, Satan and his fallen host attacked mankind in a new way after the Deluge. They would poison the minds of humanity against God. They would declare that Satan's original lie was the truth, and that God's statement was the lie. They would seek to prove to mankind that the dead are not dead—that they have merely changed their condition from a lower to a higher one and that they are more alive than ever. Whoever would come under the influence of this teaching would discredit God's statement—would "believe the lie," would think of a dead man as really advanced to a higher station, instead of having fallen into death.

Men, persuaded that the dead are alive, could easily, on the basis of that error be led to believe that the dead were suffering torments, and the thought that God would authorize and permit such torments would tend to brutalize mankind, and tend also to stop them from thinking of God as gracious, merciful and sympathetic. Thus, alienated from God in their minds, they would be more amenable than ever to Satan and his associates in evil. Then, too, upon the basis of this falsehood, this deception, other errors could be introduced. Some could be taught respecting a purgatory and respecting the possibility of escape from purgatory under certain terms and conditions. All this would tend to bring about the slavery of the human mind, and make possible further inroads by the evil spirits.

St. Paul refers to these doctrines of demons, and styles them also "strong delusions, that they should believe a lie because they did less pleasure in the truth. These strong delusions have been operating in the world for new more than four thousand years. Can we wonder that they have gained a strong hold upon humanity? Can we wonder that they are to be found in every corner of the earth—among the savage Indians of America, among the blacks of Africa, among the millions of India, China, Japan? We cannot wonder at this, especially when we remember the Apostle's statement, "We wrestle not with flesh and blood, but with wicked spirits in high (invisible) places."

Of course, there must be some channel, some theory, some attempted proof given in support of Satan's lie. Of old it was accomplished by witches, and necromancers. These pretended to communicate with the dead, and to get from them answers to the questions from the living. Thus by continued deceptions in accordance with Satan's original lie, mankind was kept from knowing the source of these instructions and the demons, the fallen angels, were permitted to "investigate" mankind, thus binding them more closely than ever with fetters of ignorance and superstition.

So far as the world in general was concerned, God permitted this, intending eventually to deliver mankind from the bondage of Satan's favored nation. He especially intervened to shelter them from the attacks of the Adversary, by special laws and regulations prohibiting mediomantic operations of the evil spirits. It is this by means of which we have been hindered from anything what-aver to do with those who had familiar spirits—witches, necromancers, wizards, etc. Under penalty of death some of these were to reside in Palestine.

Some of them, however, risked the penalty and did reside there, as evidenced by King Saul's visit to the Witch of Endor, when he desired to communicate with Samuel, the Prophet, who was dead. Of course, Samuel was dead, and neither Saul nor the witch could revive him. But the evil spirits could impersonate Samuel; and that they did so, is the record. They caused the witch to see certain things, which she described to the king and which he interpreted to himself. Thus was the presence of the evil spirits in God's special mission, separated from all the others of the world to be His people.

In the days of our Lord we find that many of the people had been dabbling in spiritism, and had come under the influence of the fallen angels to the extent of obsession, and some of them to the extent of being possessed by evil spirits, which did their thinking and talking for them, merely using their human organs as the servants. This would seem to have been the alternative to materialization. If the fallen angels could no longer materialize, they would get control of the mind of some individual and thus have control of his body.

In all such cases, it would appear that the victim, becoming a tool of the evil spirits, is frequently guided by them to say and to do things indicating depravity greater than he has before the obsession. He seems to be toward licentiousness. In the days of Jesus and His Apostles, according to the Scriptural accounts, they cast out demons from many people, some of whom had more than one. One man had a legion. Many physicians know well that some who are apparently insane are not really so as respects any brain disease. They merely are obsessed, possessed of evil spirits. When several of these gain control of one man, they make his life unendurable by the conflicts which they establish, especially operating along the auditory nerves.

Throughout this Gospel Age Satan and his demon legions, operating through dreams, mental impressions, etc., have been working their way toward the conflict which they establish, especially operating along the auditory nerves. The process of supporting the lie continues. Writing mediums, trance mediums, tipping mediums, and psychics, all support the theory that a dead man is more alive than a living one. In the symbolical language of the Book of Revelation, all nations have been made drunk with the wine of false doctrine.

Those who discern the falsehood have learned a great lesson—to put confidence in the Word of the Lord and not in human imaginations. This great lesson, long ago, will be taught to all, and we may assume that God will justify the Lord's course in permitting Satan's lie to flourish so thoroughly and for so long. We know not certainly what further terrible experiences may come to man as a result of believing the lie of Satan, instead of the Word of God, but certain Scriptures seem clearly to imply that this Age is to end with some great catastrophe, which will demonstrate the wisdom of those who hold fast the Truth and the folly of those who neglect it.

The Dean's Office.
"Who is this Dean Swift they are talking about?" a parent once said to Lady Bulwer. "I should like to invite him to my reception."
"Alas, madam," replied Lady Bulwer, "the dean has done something that has shut him out of society."
"Dear me, what was that?"
"Well, about a hundred years ago he died."

Her Jail Experience.
"You admit that you have been in prison?" said the cross-examining lawyer sternly.
"Yes, sir," answered the shrinking young creature.
"Now, will you please tell the court whether you were there as a criminal or a suffragette, or an investigator for a reform association?"

From Great Lakes to the Rockies

Women Sing the Praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Saskatchewan Lady Adds her Testimony to What Has Already Been Said of the Great Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing.

Cedarville, Sask., February 2nd, Special.—The scarcity of female help in the new country subjects the women of the prairies to unusual strain, and careful observation has established the fact that this strain first makes itself felt in the kidneys. For this reason Dodd's Kidney Pills are making an enviable reputation from the Great Lakes to the foothills of the Rockies.

Everywhere you will find women singing the praises of the great Canadian kidney remedy that has banished their pains and weariness, and brought them back to health. Among the many is Mrs. Edna Cowan, an estimable lady of this place. "I have found Dodd's Kidney Pills very beneficial," Mrs. Cowan states. "If anything I can say can help any sufferer I am glad to add my testimony to what has already been said." The kidneys strain all the refuse material out of the blood. If they are out of order this refuse remains in the blood and becomes poison. That's why sound kidneys mean pure blood and good health. Dodd's Kidney Pills make sound kidneys.

SCIATIGA VANISHES INSTANTLY IF NERVILINE IS USED

CAN YOU BEAT THIS CASE?

No ordinary liniment will even relieve Sciatica. Nothing but the most powerful kind of a remedy can penetrate through the tissues and finally reach the Sciatic Nerve. You can always depend on the old-time "Nerviline." Nothing made today is as good for Sciatica as Nerviline was when first produced, about forty years ago. All this time the same old "Nerviline" has been curing Sciatica, Lumbago, Rheumatism, and is considered to be without equal in relieving pain of looserness anywhere. "Nerviline" couldn't be made stronger or better, writes James E. Edwards. "The way it cures Sciatica is to so simply a miracle. For years I suffered frightfully. I rubbed my neck, arm and shoulder with Nerviline, and my mother cured herself of chronic lumbago with Nerviline. Our family always swears by Nerviline and we are never without a 50c family size bottle on our home. We find that for external pain, for coughs, colds, earache, such minor ills it is a veritable family physician."

The "SALADA" Tea Company has just purchased from the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. a parcel of land at the corner of Berkeley and Stuart Sts., with a frontage of 100 feet on Berkeley St. and 55 feet on Stuart St., Boston, Mass. The land is part of Park St. Station property and owing to its location is very valuable. The price paid was in the neighborhood of $100,000. A seven story granite and terracotta warehouse is to be erected on this land and will be the headquarters of the United States business. They will employ from 75 to 100 men.
