TERRIBLE HOLOCAUST AT PORT WILLIAMS

There was many sad and heavy hearts at Port Williams and vicinity on Tuesday morning when the people learned that a destructive fire had occurred in their midst with the loss of three lives and three others so burnt that they were obliged to go to a hospital.

About 11.30 o'clock Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Harley Eisenhauer who resided near the Baptist Church were awakened by smoke and flames.

The parents and two children slept upstairs while Mr. Eisenhauer's father, Joseph, an aged and partly paralyzed man of about 70 years slept down stairs with two other children a boy of six and a girl of nine.

Mr Eisenhauer and his household had all retired, prior to eleven o'clock and it was about eleven thirty when the fire was first discovered. The fire upon discovery was burning savagely, the whole house being a mass of flames. Mrs. Eisenhauer with her young baby, made for the open. Upon getting out they were wrapped in flames. With great presence of mind the mother rolled herself on the ground and extinguished the flames of her clothing. She and her child, however were badly burned and taken to a neighbor's home where their burns were dressed by Dr. Fullerton.

The father and one child got clear of the house, suffering only slightly, but not so the grandfather and one boy and girl. They were burned to death. Despite the efforts of the neighbors who turned out en masse to render what assistance they possibly could, streams of water from the hydrant nearby were played on the house, but all in vain and in about half an hour the house was nothing but a smouldering mass.

The father after escaping himself made frantic efforts to save the other three and rushing into the flames was very badly burned—all to no avail.

The father, mother and baby were in a critical condition.

A jury was empanelled in the morning by Corner Dr. Fullerton. The community is greatly shocked by the sad event the most tragic that has happened here for many years.

Mr. Harley Eisenhauer and family moved to this part of the country over a year ago where employment was found as cooper. Mr. Eisenhauer and his father, the deceased were natives of Lunenburg County. Mrs. Eisenhauer is a native of Halifax County. Her maiden name was Murphy and she comes from the Musquodoboit Valley.

WEDDING BELLS

Baird-Oikle

A quiet wedding of much interest to people of the town took place at the Baptist Church on Wednesday morning, Nov. 1st, Rev. A. W. West officiating. The contracting parties were Mr. Lawrence St. Clair Baird and Anna Maud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Oikle, all of Kentville.

The bride was one of Kentville's bright and charming young ladies. For some time she has been bookkeeper at Yerxa's store. She will be much missed in town especially by her Sunday School class which she has carefully trained.

Mr. Baird is an electrician and expects to continue his work at Montreal or Niagara where they will reside.
