NEW WAR LOAN

The Third Canadian War Loan is before the public. The issue is $850,000,000, five per cent, 20 year bonds, on the market at 96.

The last loan was $100,000,000 at 97 1-2 for 10 years.

The present loan will work out to about 5.40 per cent, which is a little better than the last loan.

This interest return will greatly improve, when in time the bonds, listed on the market, go above 96.

This is the best Government issue ever put before Canadians.

Germans Are Preparing For a Great Offensive On the Western Front

London, March 13—Special dispatches received here from Holland contain current reports of German preparation for an expected great offensive on the western front.

The latest rumor, which is attributed to Belgian sources, is that the Germans intend to try to break through on the Yser, with Calais as their objective.

The Belgian newspaper, Echo Belge, which is now published at the Hague, hears that Field Marshal Von Falkenhayn has passed through the front on his way to the Flemish front.

The writers say that the tight closing of the Dutch Belgian frontier for several days past and the suspension of all sailings from Antwerp for Holland make it impossible to ascertain the exact value of these reports but that universal belief is that most important movements are in progress.

We have been using MINARD'S LINIMENT in our home for a number of years and use no other Liniment but MINARD'S, and we can recommend it highly for sprains, bruises, pains, tightness of the chest, soreness of the throat, headache or anything of that sort. We will not be without it one single day, for we get a new bottle before the other is all used. I can recommend it highly to anyone.

Why He Couldn't

An Irishman in a town in the south was careless enough to let his priest catch him emerging from a saloon with a demijohn under his arm. The priest waited for him to come by and said: "Mike, what is it you have in that demijohn?"
"Whiskey, sir."
"To whom does it belong?"
"To me and me brther Pat, sir."
"Well, Mike pour yours out and be a good man."
"I can't Father," said Mike, "mine's on the bottom."

Count Zeppelin died at Charlottenburg, near Berlin, on the 8th from inflammation of the lungs. He went the way of all the world, before his murderous wish "to lay London in ruins" was realized.

Frank H. Simonds, author of "The Great War," has just arrived in New York from England. He says the war will last another year.

Medford

Mr. Austin Simpson, of Saskatoon is spending the winter here.

We are glad to report that Mrs. Wm. West, who has been ill, is slowly recovering. Mrs. West is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Holmes.

The Pie Sale held in Medford Hall on March 8th, was a decided success. The sum of $28.50 was realized. This was given over to Mrs. N. W. Eaton, Pres. of Red Cross Society, Canning.

On Friday evening, Mar. 9th, the pupils of Grade seven and eight, gave their teacher, Miss Weaver, a pleasant surprise to wish her a happy birthday.

Mrs. Edwin Ellis is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Loomer.

Mrs. Lorne Parker very enjoyably entertained a number of the young people a few evenings ago.

Miss Cessie Palmeter spent the week end guest of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Newcombe, Habitant.

Mrs. Charlie Keizer is spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Parsons.

New York, March 12—German sent out one hundred submarines just before February 1st to enforce her blockade against the allies. Of these forty-eight were either captured or sunk before February 25th, according to an officer of the Carmania, arriving yesterday from Liverpool.

This officer stated that he had seen many large German U-boats—he declined to give the exact number—in the harbor of Davenport, on the south coast of England. Davenport has recently been christened "the Roche drydock" by the British jacksies, since so many of the German undersea craft have been compelled to put in there

THE WAR LOAN

"Let everyone at home picture to himself the sacrifice, courage and endurance of the sailors on the sea and the soldiers in the trenches, who are preserving us and our homes from ruin, starvation and devastation, and then let him ask himself, 'What am I doing to help? Can I by some self-denial hasten the end by my contribution, however small?' The man who contributes is doing his bit, and the man who makes no effort to contribute is a shirker"

The above quotation is from an appeal by Sir Edward Carson to the British public in support of the latest British war loan. The words, so powerful and direct, so nobly responded to by the men of Britain, splendidly put forward the case for the new loan about to be raised in Canada. Every dollar subscribed by the humblest citizen of the Dominion to the nation's latest appeal will be an encouragement for our soldiers suffering hardships and perils in the trenches.

Failure of a Canadian war loan at this juncture would bring comfort and renewed hope to Berlin. It would be interpreted by the Empire, by our Allies and the world, as a sign of wavering Canadian resolution when faced with the final test. Let every man, prepare to do his utmost to make the loan the greatest possible success. Let us serve notice to the world that we are in this fight to the end. If we cannot, in this noblest of causes, offer our lives, let us at least prove that we gladly give our treasure. It is a privilege which, to use Sir Edward Carson's words, none but the "shirker" will miss.

German Spies are Trailing Mr. Gerard

New York, March 13—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana, dated last night, says:

Secrets agents of Germany trailed James W. Gerard from the moment he landed at Havana until the time of his leaving here on board the steamer Governor Cobb, this morning. When the vessel started one of the German agents occupied a stateroom near that of the returning American diplomatist. A high officer of the company informed me that this agent will be turned over to the authorities at Key West when the Governor Cobb arrives there.

While talking in the lobby of the Plaza hotel this morning Mr. Gerard saw one of the German agents, who had been most obtrusive and persistent in his efforts to shadow him. Mr. Gerard hastened up to the man, who was a typical German. The former ambassador's trail was taken up immediately by another German, who followed him to the steamer, where the spy had reserved a stateroom, through an authority close to Mr. Gerard I was informed of the persistent efforts made by Germans to stop the American diplomatist from reaching Washington.

I am in a position to say that Mr. Gerard carries papers containing information which will place Germany in a more unfavorable position than she has yet occupied. According to men close to Mr. Gerard important developments are expected in the German situation soon after his conference with Mr. Wilson.

CHILDREN

In disorders and diseases of children drugs seldom do good and often do harm. Careful feeding and bathing are the babies' remedies.

Scott's Emulsion

No Praise Too Great for Men Who Captured Bagdad

London, March 12—Andrew Bonar Law said the fall of Bagdad came as a sequel to a series of brilliant operations carried out by British and Indian troops with dash and determination for which no praise could be too high. When General Maude, commander of the Mesopotamian, army, crossed the Tigris, about Kut-el-Amara, last month, he imperilled the safety of the Turkish army. The Turks immediately retired on Bagdad, and were pursued with the utmost energy.

Large numbers of prisoners and quantities of materials of all kinds were captured. Mr. Bonar Law said, there being good reason to believe that two-thirds of their artillery was captured or thrown into the river.

On the night of March 8th, the British established a footing on the north bank of the Diala. On the 9th and 10th, troops on the right bank of the Tigris in spite of dust storms, pressed their advantage and drove back the Turks to within three miles of Bagdad. At the same time the troops on the Diala thrust the Turks back on the city, which was entered on Sunday morning.

General Maude in these operations, Mr. Bonar Law continued, has completed his victory by a pursuit of 110 miles in fifteen days, during which the Tigris was crossed three times. This pursuit was conducted in a country destitute of supplies, despite the commencement of the summer heat. Such operations could be carried out in such a country only after the most careful arrangements made for the supply of the troops thoroughly and systematically, had been effected.

The fact that General Maude not only has been able to feed the army, provide it with munitions and assure proper attention for the sick and wounded, but has been able to report that he is satisfied he can provide for the necessities of his army in Bagdad, reflects the greatest credit on all concerned.
