THE TOWN COUNCIL

"Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown." The town fathers have carried an air of injured innocence since the mild and kindly criticism submitted editorially by The Observer last week. Any public office is a thankless job, and any public servant, who makes even a poor, but honest attempt at carrying out his duty, earns a salary even if he does no more than bear the brunt of the criticism that is levelled at him.

Today the editor reread carefully his editorial of a week ago and failed to find anything that could be sincerely retracted.

Hartland Town Council is comprised of seven as good and true men as could be chosen among 70 or more other men of the town. The editor would have felt it an honor to have nominated Mayor McFarland in the course of an ordinary town election. The Observer would gladly have supported his candidacy. His Council is comprised of men worthy and earnest. While they all must expect criticism from time to time, they should in spite of that, act for the town in the manner in which they as a Board of Councilors, deem most wise. They will be given a great deal of advice, but by far the best thing for them to do is to follow their own advice and not be guided to too great extent by any critic. It is well to listen to advice and criticism, but someone has said that "a fool's advice is the only advice there is—that it is a fool who gives, and a fool who takes it."

The Observer does not believe that any form of disaster will fall upon the town through the present council, and to offer its modicum of fool's advice it would suggest to the council to remember that "it takes all kinds of people to make a world." It takes all kinds of people to make a town, and the different classes, creeds, industries, all varying interests of the people of Hartland, should be treated in a manner unbiased and unprejudiced.

HOME AFTER 24 YEARS

Frank S. Stevens of Providence, R. I., was a recent visitor at the homes of the Hartland Stevenses. He is a son of the late J. W. Stevens, who moved away from Somerville to Fairville in 1889, and Frank, who was 16 years old at the time, has now seen the place of his nativity in all of the 24 years until the present visit. He, of course, could note that the town had made a considerable growth since that time, but when he left Hartland in his mind was quite a metropolis, but having lived so many years in the large American cities the town even after its growth does not appear to him so large as when he was a boy. He expressed great surprise that workmen coming into the town were taxed, when just the reverse was a chief factor in the up-building of the American towns. They based their growth upon the number of people they could induce to come and go to work.

For twenty years Mr. Stevens has been employed with Grinnell Co. of Providence, a very large concern that manufactures automatic fire extinguishing systems for the large buildings in the great cities. He went to work first as a mechanic's helper and he is now the company's consulting engineer. It has been a long time since he has held a pipe-wrench in his own hands but he directs a tremendous force of men who do that kind of work. He came to Houlton last week to make an estimate on the equipment for two of that town's largest business blocks and left on Monday for Bangor to secure data on a big piece of work in that city. The Fraser Companies' great mills are equipped with the fire extinguisher apparatus produced by the Grinnell Co., Toronto plant. While here Mr. Stevens visited the Somerville school house wherein he received the whole of his "book-learnin'." He was in a class with Donald McCormack, Oliver VanDine and Guy Sipperelle, and the four boys have all reached high positions although Mr. Stevens leads the others by going a few better than $5000 a year.

PRIMITIVE BAPTIST QUARTERLY MEETING

The Primitive Baptist Quarterly meeting convened with the church at Temple, York county, on March 17, Saturday, 10.30 a. m., the first meeting of the session led by J. M. Mallory. On account of recent storms there was a small representation, but the few that gathered had a good reason of prayer for the uplift of the cause of the Master. 2.30 p. m. met in Quarterly conference with a better attendance. This service was led by Rev. P. J. Quigg, and was of the usual spiritual interest so much enjoyed by God's people. At 7.30 met again for worship. Preaching by Bro. Thos. Stairs, who delivered a strong and interesting sermon on the "The City Which Hath Foundation," much enjoyed by the audience.

Sunday, 9 a. m., met for prayer and social service, led by Bro. Clifford Gray, continuing until 11 o'clock when the order of the meeting was changed to a preaching service led by Bro. P. J. Quigg with an interesting sermon on the "Mansions prepared for believers in Christ," pressing home the necessity of preparing for that prepared place. At 2.30 preaching service led by J. M. Mallory on the "God provided sacrifice." At the close of this service the Lord's Supper was observed in which an unusually small number participated. At 7.30 preaching by Licentiate W. Petchey on the "Lost and found condition of Man," with a strong appeal to the unsaved to get into the found condition; very much appreciated and listened to with wrapt attention. All the Sunday meetings were well attended.

Monday, 9.30, met for business; the chairman being absent on account of sickness, by vote Bro. Quigg acted. After the regular routine of business was disposed of a resolution of adjournment was passed to meet in yearly conference with the P. B. church, Hartland, first Saturday in July. The last meeting of the session being 7.30 p. m., several of the ministers remaining, this ending a profitable session.

At the Baptist Church

Record congregations were attendant upon all the services of the Hartland Baptist church on Sunday last. If the present response is any indication of what the future has in store for this church, larger accommodations shall have to be provided. Next Sunday at 11 o'clock the pastor, Rev. G. F. Boister, will preach, and will take for his subject, "The Realization of a Glorious Dream." Again at 7.30 o'clock the pastor will preach and will take for his subject, "Why The Guests Did Not Attend the Banquet." Good singing. A cordial welcome and warm hearted preaching make these services worth attending.

To Victory Bond Holders

Victory Bonds have never sold so high as at the present time. Many who hold Victory Bonds would improve their investment position by taking advantage of these high prices and reinvesting in non-taxable Provincial Government and Municipal Bonds. Victory Bonds are subject to local taxation.

These bonds are quoted:

1923.....5 1/2.....100.60	1924.....5 1/2.....100.90
1927.....5 1/2.....102.70	1933.....5 1/2.....106.30
1934.....5 1/2.....103.00	1937.....5 1/2.....108.30

Enquiries will receive prompt attention. Better write at once as these prices are very high and may go off any day.

WHEELSMAN SAYS—TROUBLE IS OVER

Toronto Citizen Suffered So From Stomach He Feared the Worst Tanlac Brings Complete Relief

"Tanlac put me on my feet three years ago and I have been in the pink of condition ever since," states John J. Mathews, 13 Ashby Place, Toronto, Ont., well-known wheelsman on the steamer "Toronto."

"I had stomach trouble so bad that at times I simply had to use hot appliances in an effort to subdue the pain. Gas almost choked me after eating, and I dreaded this so. I frequently made a complete trip on the steamer, two days, without food. I could never rest, and felt so near 'all in' I thought I was going to have to give up completely."

"It was a great day for me when I went to the drug store and got Tanlac for the medicine proved a god-send to me. I haven't had a sick day since I finished the treatment, but have been feeling as fine as I ever did in my life."

Tanlac is for sale by all druggists. Over 55-million bottles sold.

A few weeks ago Basil Seely while employed with F. E. Bayre's crew at Indian Brook, was kicked in the abdomen by a horse. Herula ensued and Mr. Seely was taken to Fisher Memorial Hospital for operation. His condition has been rather serious and he is still a patient at the hospital. Encouraging reports are received however, and his friends hope to soon see him home again as well as ever.
