His Excellency addressed the troops as follows:—
I can speak a few words only in this crowded hour and these few words are chiefly to those who will shortly embark to join the Regiment on active service.

I hardly know how to address you. In this room we are fellow club men bound by ties of comradeship; on parade we are members of the same glorious Regiment in Newfoundland; you represent all that is bravest and manly among us; and above all, you will always be had in remembrance as among those who have rallied to the call of duty when our Flag and our Nation are in peril.

In Europe you will carry our Honour in your hands. I need not abjure you to hold that Honour as your most sacred possession, as your standard of conduct in camp and as your battle flag in the presence of the enemy. As soldiers you will carry the words of advice to all soldiers of the King by that peerless Knight,

"In battle close a fighter grim,
In camp a counsel sage."
That organizer of victory, Earl Kitchener of Khartoum, the greatest hero of you all.
You do not need words to exhort you to bear yourselves in battle, as your forefathers have done. That you will do because, as Newfoundlanders, you cannot fail in consistency and courage. Nor do you need words to remind you that as Newfoundland-ers and Christians you will put to shame our brutal foes and bear yourselves with moderation in the fast approaching hour of victory.

Sir Douglas Haig has said "Newfoundland may well feel proud of her sons." These are his words on behalf of "the whole of our Armies in France." As our Sailors have done amid the perils of the Seas, as our Regiment has borne itself at Gallipoli and in France, bear yourselves as warriors "surpassed by none."

Before closing Major Montgomerie on behalf of the Regiment thanked the ladies of the city for providing the Club Rooms and for the enjoyable entertainment given them. The C. L. B. Band played several selections, following which refreshments were served by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. King, Misses Clouston, Rendell, Johnson and Jones.

Health Hints.

Have you ever noticed a bread wagon with the doors wide open and the dust and dirt from the street blowing in over the bread? Just stop and think of the dirt, and you will always ask your Grocer for Lynch's Bread wrapped and sealed by machinery in a dust and germ-proof wrapper.—July 18, 1916

Three Times Wounded.

In answer to a telegram sent, Mr. M. Shea, of Monroe & Co's office received a message from London yesterday stating his brother, Private Edward F. Shea, First Newfoundland Regiment, was in the 3rd London Stationary Hospital wounded in the right side and arm. The wounds though of a serious nature are not dangerous. Private Shea who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shea, of Hamilton Street, was wounded and in hospital on two previous occasions.

S.S. Kite for far North

The S. S. Kite, Capt. Parsons, is now provisioned and outfitted for a cruise to the far north. The crew signed on yesterday and she will likely get away from here sometime to-morrow, proceeding direct to Baffin's Land where she will land a party who will go along from St. John's. The Kite will not remain long in the frozen regions, this trip and immediately on her return will go to New York where, it is understood, she will be put in readiness by an American party for an exploration voyage north.

AT THE CRESCENT

To-day the Crescent Picture Palace presents "Divorçons" the wittiest of all Sardinian brilliant comedies produced in four reels by the Biograph Company featuring Mary Malatesta, Dell Henderson and Charles H. West. "The Eyes of the Soul" is a strong appealing drama with Claire McDowell and Josi Ruben. A new program of music to accompany this big show has been arranged by Professor McCarthy. To-morrow "The Reaping," a great three reel feature.

Advice—Often Worth Heeding

—particularly when that advice refers to habits that directly affect one's health and comfort.

Thousands, annoyed by headaches, nervousness, biliousness, sleeplessness, etc.—often due to tea or coffee drinking—have heeded a friendly suggestion to quit both tea and coffee and use

Instant Postum

This pure food-drink is made of wheat, roasted with a bit of wholesome molasses. It has a rich, snappy flavor, fine color and aroma, and it contains no caffeine—the drug in tea and coffee—nor other harmful element.

Freedom from caffeine gives Nature right of way to rebuild and revitalize the mental and physical forces.

There are two forms of Postum: The original Postum Cereal must be boiled; Instant Postum, a soluble form, is made in the cup by adding boiling water—ready instantly. Some prefer one, some the other; they are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.

With most tea or coffee-drinkers the change to Postum marks the start to better health and greater comfort.

In Memory of One of "Ours"

Memorial Service at Kenville For Lieut. Frederick C. Mellor, Who Was Killed in Action.

Kenville, July 15.—A memorial service for the late Lieut. Frederick Courtney Mellor was held this afternoon in St. James' Church, of which Rev. T. C. Mellor, the father of the honored hero, is rector. The hymn "Hark, hark, my soul," was sung by the choir and the opening portion of the service for the dead was read by Chaplain Tupper.

Rural Dean Dixon, of Wolfville, spoke briefly on the subject of "why this waste of our manhood" and in a few words on the situation and needs of this so called "waste" spoke of the heroes, our own men, who gladly gave their lives and counted it not as waste. In closing the Rural Dean paid not only tribute to Lieut. Mellor, but to all those "gallant gentlemen" who had laid down their lives. They had given their lives for King and Country—could any man die in a better cause.

Rev. J. D. Hull, the rector of St. John's Church, Church Street, gave a brief personal sketch of Lieut. Mellor's life, speaking with the knowledge of an intimate personal acquaintance of the man, whose highest ambition was to serve his King and Country, but who had now passed into the presence of the King of Kings. At the conclusion of the service the band of the 85th Highland Battalion played, and a closing hymn, "For all the Saints" was sung. A detachment of the 85th, a company of the 193rd Battalion, and many of the officers from Aldershot, including Lt. Colonel A. H. Borden, were present.

Much sympathy is expressed for Rev. and Mrs. Mellor in their sad bereavement. Their remaining son, Sergeant W. M. Mellor, is serving with his regiment in France.

THE VETERAN.

What has he left of the name and fame that came to him from the good old game?

The game his soul had learned to love? A faded dream—and a worn-out glove.

Owing to the strain on Cooney, of the Lions, which would be necessitated if he were to pitch to-morrow afternoon and again to-morrow night, the Mt. Cashel game between the Lions and Cubs called for to-morrow night at 6 o'clock, has been deferred until Thursday night at 6.30. Will fans and players please take note?

THE COMING UMPIRE.

Dad and Ma were talking one night of what we'd be, in eight kids all snug in bed, and all asleep but me. Said Dad, "John wants to doctor equine or human ills; Maude to join the movies and specialize in 'drills'; Marmaduke's to study law; Hannah-Ann will teach; Laura Jane is sure to write, and Perigal to preach. Won't you help the orphans? God meant little Molly to reign in someone's home; but Sam (that's me) is the problem, with that Gibraltar home. Nature never wined him up to anything at all; He couldn't clerk or preach or teach, or play a game of ball."

"O, bosh!" said Ma, "Dame Nature's no fool is Sam is, Jim, for, can't you see, she means to make an umpire out of him."

Some answers to correspondents have been held over until Saturday owing to pressure of space.
