Editor Evening Telegram,

Dear Sir,—In your note on the House of Assembly in to-day's issue of your paper, your reporter, referring to my presentation at the Bar of the House, of Resolutions on the subject of modification of the Prohibition Act, took occasion to remark on the practice of presenting requests in this manner, and suggested that the Government should put a stop to it. In the first place, let me remark that no member or prominent supporter of the Government was in any way consulted in the matter. mission to speak at the Bar is another thing, and was graciously accorded me by His Honor the Speaker.

Permit me to correct an error in your report in another column. The name S. Harris should read S. Merils, in the list of the deputation.

Yours truly,

SUGGEST NEW TAXATION RATE.

About 100 motorists attended the meeting called by the Nfid. Motor Association in the Board of Trade Rooms yesterday to discuss means of obtaining a reduction in the present rate of motor taxation. Mr. H. E. Cowan presided. Many of those present took part in the discussion in cluding the following, Messrs. Dr. Carnell, D. A. Ryan, N. Snow, G. Parsons, F. G. Bradley, John Davey, Thos. Soper, J. Cocker, Eric Bowring, Wm. White, E. D. Spurrell, W. B. Comerford, Collishaw, Thomas, Gus Lester and W. H. Hynes. The opin-lon of the meeting rate of the competitions we suggested that certain vegetables and flowers should be grown selecting those which seemed most likely to be successful under the cultivation of young and inexperienced gardeners. This year, however, we leave the choice to you. Three varieties of vegetables or three of flowers are to be submitted for inspection in September. You may if you wish grow four or five kinds and enter the three which look best. The rules of the competition are: (1) Competitors must reside within the city limits and be under 16 years of age; (2) Names and addresses of
