MORE THREE CORNERED CONTESTS THAN EVER.

LONDON, Nov. 27. Nominations yesterday show clearly that every party is out to fight for its own hand. There are more three-cornered contests than ever before; the total being two hundred and forty. It was plain even a week ago that there is a possibility of the three parties returning something like equal forces. Straight fights are distributed as follows:—Conservatives vs. Liberals, 118; Conservatives vs. Labor, 82; and Liberals vs. Labor, 60.

BETTING ODDS ON ELECTION RESULTS.

LONDON, Nov. 27. The odds quoted in financial quarters on the election results this morning were four to one in favor of the Conservatives against the Liberals, and fourteen to one in favor of the Conservatives against Labor.

ALBERT RETURNS MANDATE.

BERLIN, Nov. 27. Dr. H. F. Albert abandoned his effort to form a Ministry and returned his mandate to President Ebert because of his inability to find sufficient Reichstag supporters for a Cabinet under his Chancellorship. President Ebert thereupon began negotiating with leaders of the Bourgeois parties for the formation of a five party bloc, inclusive of Socialists.

JEWELLERY STORE ROBBED.

TORONTO, Nov. 27. Two armed men entered the wholesale jewellery store of Paquette and Hughes on the third floor, 269 Victoria Street, at noon to-day, and held up Paquette, who was alone, and stole ten thousand dollars worth of jewellery. They cut the wires and knocked Paquette unconscious before departing, and it was not until some time after the robbery that the police were notified.

BANKS REFUSE TO QUOTE MARK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 27. For the first time since the German mark started its speculative career of decline the New York banks to-day refused to quote it even nominally. Previously the banks had discontinued regular dealings in German exchange, but were willing to make a nominal rate. One broker quotes marks at twenty cents a trillion.

Research Work of Dr. Spahlinger

IN CONNECTION WITH TUBERCULOSIS.

LONDON, Nov. 23. (Canadian Press)—Dr. Henry Spahlinger, of Geneva, whose researches into the treatment and cure of tuberculosis have attracted considerable attention in recent years, and who has been in London recently at the invitation of Baron Henri de Rothschild, has been in conference with medical experts with a view to making arrangements for the circulation among members of the British medical profession of a pamphlet which will give a history of his work. Spahlinger has been at work on his tuberculosis cure for twenty years and has exhausted the resources of his family in pursuing his investigations.

When the pamphlet has been in the hands of the doctors for a month or six weeks it is proposed, if funds are still necessary to enable Spahlinger to proceed to the production on a large scale of his sera and vaccines, to issue a public appeal for money to carry on the work.

Baron Henri de Rothschild, who is himself a doctor, and Dr. Spahlinger have made public the reason why financial assistance is necessary to enable research work to be continued until Spahlinger is prepared to publish the details of his discoveries. Spahlinger is firm in his determination not to submit his system to a commercial exploitation although it is stated that he has been offered so large a sum as £250,000 for the disclosure of his treatment. His purpose is to prepare sufficient quantities of the sera and vaccines which he uses for his cure to permit them to be distributed on an adequate scale in the chief European countries so that they may be exhaustively tested and afterwards to publish his formula. The preparation of the sera and vaccines requires a period of four years and Spahlinger is apprehensive that premature disclosures would lead to Reichstag on Nov. 22nd, was deliberately staged by orders from Moscow declared a statement issued by the Socialist press. It published a letter dated Nov. 19th, signed by Karl Radek, Soviet emissary who is in Berlin, severely reproving the German proletariat and ordering them to so conduct themselves at the next session of the Reichstag that they would be forcibly elected from the house. The letter as quoted advised the following up of this action with street demonstrations.

HOME BANK PRESIDENT OUT ON BAIL.

TORONTO, Nov. 27. H. K. Daly, President of the Home Bank, appeared in court this morning before Mr. Justice Masten and was released on bail of one hundred and two thousand dollars in six securities of seventeen thousand dollars each.

VISCOUNTESS MORLEY DEAD.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., Nov. 27. Viscountess Morley died at her home here to-day, nine weeks after the death of her husband.

ALBERTA MINERS STRIKE.

EDMONTON, Nov. 27. Miners in Stereo and other mines in the Coal spur and Mountain Park district, are out on strike, according to information from that centre which is confirmed by Alberta Provincial Police reports. President William Sherman, of District 18 U.M.W., and Vice-President Ryan, have organized the men who are demanding union wages. The mines affected are stripers and have never been manned by skilled workers.

ONLY TEN REPORTED.

SEATTLE, Nov. 27. With ten men of the crew of thirty-five reported safe on Western Shore Alaska, near Cordova, the fate of the other twenty-five aboard the Japanese freighter Shinkoku Maru is unknown. The vessel's wireless operator stopped sending yesterday at noon, and a ninety mile an hour gale continued late into the night.

ANOTHER REPORT.

CORDOVA, Alaska, Nov. 27. One member of the crew of the Shinkoku Maru, the Japanese freighter which was yesterday impaled on the rocks at the north end of Montague Island, was drowned and the remainder of the crew are clinging and waiting for quiet seas to enable the tug Humanona to reach them.

commercial exploitation of his remedies in a way which would fail to make them fully effective. When once he has been enabled to demonstrate the value of his methods, however, he is willing and anxious that they should be put to the widest possible use.

Spahlinger's own faith in his discoveries is proved by the fact that the fortune of his family, amounting to $80,000, has been spent in carrying through his experiments. The recent threat of the imposition of a capital levy in Switzerland may be said to have precipitated the financial crisis which is now impeding his work at Carouge. The investigator had borrowed money from the banks on the strength of securities, and when the banks called for their money these securities had to be sold at a sacrifice. Pressed by creditors, Spahlinger had to dispose of many of the animals essential to his work.

The character of Spahlinger's experiments has been made familiar by previous descriptions. He inoculates horses with toxins to induce them to provide antibodies against the various poisons which cause tuberculosis. He has isolated twenty-two separate poisons which are connected with the disease, and by obtaining sera from twenty-two horses he prepares the complete serum which he uses in dealing with his cases. With one hundred horses at his disposal he contends that he could treat ten thousand cases of tuberculosis at one time. The treatment is not swift, and in advanced cases would need to be spread over a year and a half.

Even if Spahlinger obtains the financial help he requires, two years must elapse before he will be fully equipped with the material he requires to undertake the treatment of any considerable number of fresh cases.

King George at the Nickel Next Monday

ROYAL FAMILY IN "THE CHRISTIAN."

A whole royal family in one moving picture. It frequently happens that the "great king" of Rutland, Nebraska, gratifies a whim to which wealthy persons are subject, and appears before the movie camera; or the "sweat-queen" of Scranton may be discovered playing extra parts inco. But the royalties which will be seen in Maurice Tourneur's production of "The Christian," which comes to the Nickel Theatre on Monday for three days, are not dependent for their titles upon commercial ratings and American journalists. They are no less personages than Their Majesties the King and Queen of England, and H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, who will be easily recognized in scenes taken in London, and on the road to Epsom Downs race track on the day of the great Derby.

This is only one of the numerous advantages gained by the Goldwyn company in sending Richard Dix, Mae Busch and a company abroad for three months. The great thing is the supreme air of verisimilitude of the scenes taken in the exact locations of the novel, on the Isle of Man, in London, and in other parts of the British Isles.

Everybody knows the world-wide popularity of Hall Caine's greatest story "The Christian" and we predict the greatest audience that ever attended the Nickel Theatre. Remember this is positively the greatest film attraction on the boards next week. In the home where Crisco is used you will find an odorless, smokeless kitchen for Crisco does its work without odor or smoke and gives excellent satisfaction.

Why He Was Delayed

(From an Exchange.)

A crowd had gradually collected outside the single telephone booth, and waited with varying degrees of patience while the man using the phone held the receiver to his ear for half an hour. He made no attempt to talk, and his expression was practically blank. Finally one, bolder than the others, opened the glass door and enquired, "Are you speaking to anyone?" "Yes," the silent telephoner replied, "I'm speaking to my wife."

Too Little Thought Given This Subject

WHEN you see a woman with red, roughened hands, you may be sure that she has given little thought to the soap she uses for household and laundry purposes.

Yet this is a very easy matter to correct, as thousands of thinking women have realized. Go to your grocer and ask for Kirkman's Soap, and you will secure a soap for every household and laundry purpose as harmless to your hands as is the most exquisite toilet soap.

To make Kirkman's Soap only the finest materials are selected, in factories as clean and sanitary as Government inspected milk canneries. This has been the Kirkman Policy of soap-making for 86 years, a policy that results in the making of but one grade of soap: The very best.

KIRKMAN'S SOAP contains no lye to hurt the hands, and is absolutely free from all adulterants, such as starch, talcum powder or water glass, which have no cleansing properties.

Therefore, for the sake of your delicate hands, it is well to remember that there can be no better household soap than Kirkman's at any price.

Without Question or Argument

Kirkman's Soap is sold to you with the distinct understanding that it satisfies YOU in every way. Your grocer will return your money without question or argument, if you are not pleased with results. You alone are the judge.
