

THE LEGISLATURE OF ONTARIO.

The first Legislature of the Province of Ontario meets tomorrow in Toronto. The event is one of much importance to this Province, for it is the fruit of a long and persistent struggle by the Reformers of Western Canada in behalf of just and equitable representation. Viewed in this light, it is the victory secured after a hard-fought battle, and our hope now is that the system brought into operation under Confederation may realize the expectations of all who wish it well, and give a new impetus to the prosperity and progress of this and all the other Provinces composing the Dominion. Seventeen years have passed since the late Province of Upper Canada, baptised at the birth of Confederation under the name of Ontario, had a separate government of its own established at Toronto. Under the late legislative union, the seat of government shifted about from time to time; having been successively at Kingston, Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa. But the legislative union served its purpose, and has now given way to Confederation; under which the General Government has its seat at Ottawa, and the Local Governments at Toronto, Quebec, Halifax and Fredericton respectively. Did not the Imperial Act enjoin that the Assembly of Ontario, as that of the other provinces, should meet before the close of the year, it is questionable if it would be called together for a few days yet—at any rate, till after the holidays and the municipal elections. But that Act is imperative, and the 27th is the time appointed, being within four days of the legal limit. And though some may not look upon the meeting with any degree of interest, yet it may be recollected that the population whose special legislation it will control is now nearly as large as that of both Upper and Lower Canada at the time of the union in 1840. Moreover, it is a population nearly as large as that of the three other provinces combined, and at the next census, it will, there is good reason to believe, be found to hold an equal place in the enumeration. Parliament will be opened by Governor Stisted, with the usual ceremonies, and the House of Assembly will proceed to elect a Speaker. On Saturday the Speech will be delivered, and there will be greater parade than on Friday. It is said that the Garrison will be out, regulars and volunteers, and the Judges and representatives of learned and religious bodies will be present in the House. Toronto has voted itself a half holiday on Friday, and everything gives promise that the opening ceremonies will come off amid great eclat. We believe it is now considered good as settled that the Speaker to be chosen will be a Reformer. This will of course disappoint the Conservatives greatly, who were counting some time ago of carrying everything their own way. But John Sandfield Macdonald is not so pliable as they imagine, and though since he became premier he has gone dead against the wishes of Reformers, he is now anxious to make friends with them, and to make them and the country believe that he is as good a Reformer as ever.

RECRUITING FOR THE PAPAL SERVICE.—It is announced by telegram from Montreal that a recruiting office has been opened in Montreal with the object of raising a regiment for the papal service. It is also publicly reported that Capt. Desilets, Military Instructor, Melet College; Alfred Prendegast, Ensign in the Three Rivers Rifles, and one Henault of St. Cuthbert, left Montreal on the 19th inst. on their way to Rome, to enter the military service of the Pope. If these statements are true, then it is high time that the Government authorities had interfered to prevent any further proceedings of this kind. Of course it is impossible to prevent private individuals from leaving Canada to enter the military service of any foreign power they think proper, but the opening of a recruiting office in Canada to enlist men for the Papal or any other service, is an open violation of the Imperial Foreign Enlistment Act, which applies to all Her Majesty's dominions. The Journal of Commerce publishes a prospectus of a joint stock company now in process of formation, to be called the Anglo-American Peat Company, with a capital of $200,000 to be subscribed in 8000 shares of $25. It further says:—It is proposed by this Company to purchase a large bed of peat in the County of Welland. It has been satisfactorily demonstrated, we believe, that a ton of the peat is equal to a cord of the best hard wood, and that it can be advantageously used, with a little adaptation in stoves and furnaces, for domestic and manufacturing purposes and for steam locomotion.

The Hurricane at Calcutta.

The arrival of the India mails bring us tidings from Calcutta to the 8th of November. These accounts increase the seriousness of the disaster. In Calcutta 109 deaths have been recorded, 101 brick built houses destroyed, and 2,338 tiled and thatched huts levelled with the ground. In the suburbs the loss of life is estimated at 285; and 62 brick-built houses, 1,945 tiled huts, and 25,148 thatched huts have been destroyed. On the river, 622 lives have been lost. In addition there have also been lost two ferry steamers, 67 sloops, 81 dinghies, 82 native boats, and 386 up-country boats. The greater portion of these boats, together with those lost in the canals, were laden with jute and grain. The grand total of lives ascertained to have been lost is therefore, 1,016; of brick built houses destroyed, 163; and of tiled and thatched huts, 20,231. Of the larger shipping in the river, only 26 ships have escaped uninjured, and three have sustained serious damage, one of them being a complete wreck.

The cyclone has occurred at a time when the rice crops were in the ear, and the whole Province, wasted by famine and pinched by high prices, looked forward to an abundant harvest. Where the ear was formed it was torn off; where the stalk had reached mature height it was snapped. On a low estimate at least one-half of the rice crop has been destroyed in the 10 miles to the south of the Hooghly, over which the cyclone extended. From Nuddea, still suffering from an inundation of the Ganges more severe than those of 1863 and 1856, we learn that vegetation which survived that calamity has been almost destroyed. Not only will the rice crop yield but half its tale, but of the cattle which had been sent to the high lands from the inundated tracts, a tenth has perished, for they had to withstand the storm for two days and a half without shelter or food. All the crops recently sown within the tract blasted by the whirlwind have been destroyed. The condition of Jessore is worse. Not 5 per cent of the brick houses in the district have withstood the blast.

A general system of relief was contemplated. The balance amounting to about 19,000 rupees, of the previous cyclone Relief Fund, has been made over for the purpose of affording relief; and Government had promised to contribute doubling the amount of subscriptions. If you want Wine, Brandy, Rum, Gin, Extra Old Rye, Malt, Scotch Family Whiskeys, go to Geo. Wilkinson's.
