

WHEAT PUT ON FREE LIST BY
U. S. SENATE AFTER CLOSE VOTE

Democrats Stand Together to Defeat Attempts to Put Any Duty on Wheat, Flour and Eggs—Big Fight Is Expected in Congress Over New Proposals.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Aug. 15.—The Democratic amendment putting wheat on the free list and striking out the 10c per bushel tariff rate, offered by the House Democrats, was adopted by the Senate yesterday by a vote of 37 to 23.

A subsequent motion by Senator Gronna to fix a duty of 6c per bushel on wheat and one eighth of a cent per pound on wheat flour was defeated 37 to 31. Senators Ransdell and Thornton, of Louisiana voted with the Republican side.

The Democrats also defeated an amendment proposed by Senator Gronna to restore a duty on eggs contained in the House bill. The vote was 35 to 25 in favor of the Senate committee's proposal for free eggs.

First Effort Failed.

The first definite effort of the Democrats to ensure an agreement for an early vote on the tariff bill failed in the Senate today, when Republicans served notice that consideration of the measures would be continued indefinitely.

Landing Senators of both parties, as a result of the day's developments last night predicted a session of congress that would remain over November.

No Recess Allowed.

Early in the day President Wilson had made it known that he would not approve of any congressional recess until the currency reform bill had been disposed of. This attitude was endorsed by Democratic leaders and those who had favored a recess after the passage of the tariff bill apparently had resigned themselves tonight to a continuous session of Congress.

Senator Simons, as manager of the tariff debate, made a formal request when the Senate took up the measure, for an agreement to vote August 25. Republicans of both the "regular" and "progressive" elements objected. Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader tried to draw the Democrats out as to whether they possess weapons, but in many cases they refused to answer. The Democrats declined to commit themselves on the subject.

CHAOS REIGNS AS RESULT OF SULZER'S ACTION

Preparations as if for a Siege Are Being Made by Glynn.

Locks Are Being Changed and Guards Placed at Each Entrance.

[Canadian Press.]

Albany, Aug. 15.—Formal demand for the surrender of the executive chamber and offices, the privy seal and all books, papers, records and documents relating to the executive department was made upon Governor William Sulzer this afternoon by Lieutenant-Governor Martin H. Glynn.

Governor Sulzer refused to comply with the demand.

Included in Governor Sulzer's refusal, according to D. Cady Herick, chief of his counsel, is a proposal that Glynn and Sulzer prepare an agreed statement of the facts in the controversy and submit them to the courts to determine who is governor of New York State.

A HOPELESS MIXUP.

[Canadian Press.]

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Lieutenant-Governor Glynn, on entering his office at the capitol today, confirmed the report that he would call upon Governor Sulzer formally by letter to vacate his office today.

Preparations as if for a long siege were made at the executive chamber upon the arrival of Lieutenant-Governor Glynn at the capitol.

The locks on every door leading to the chamber and the governor's private office were changed and an attendant was stationed at each entrance.

Secretary Is Back.

Secretary of State May returned from Saratoga today and called at the office of Lieutenant-Governor Glynn, before the latter's arrival at the capitol. "I merely called to pay my respects," said Secretary May, "and to assure Mr. Glynn personally that I have decided to recognize him as acting governor of the state. As I read the law I can see no other way to act consistently. It is not with me a case of taking sides. I can see no other way to perform my duty under the constitution. I have not yet asked the attorney-general for an opinion as to whom I should recognize. However, if I am asked to certify an act of William Sulzer as governor, I shall submit the question to the attorney-general and await his formal opinion before taking action."

Chaos at Capitol.

The second day of the dual administration in New York State dawned on a whirlpool confusion in the capitol. A steel chair, with a heavy padlock, secured the great seal; the privy seal lay under lock and key; the way to the executive chamber, William Sulzer's stronghold, was barred and barred, and from two offices the rival claimants to the governor's chair continued to exercise their functions.

Control of the national guard, access to the great seal, recognition by New York's secretary of state, and by the governor of the neighboring state of New Jersey were prerogatives stripped from Governor Sulzer, impounded by Lieutenant-Governor Glynn, who claims to be the acting governor. Possession of the privy seal, whose imprint validates all documents coming before the governor or affairs wholly within the state, and occupancy of the executive chambers, remained with Sulzer.

Sulzer Is Firm.

Governor Sulzer continues firm in his determination to occupy the executive chambers and administer the state's affairs today. The possibility of being served with a court order, enjoining him from so doing, had been the topic of long discussions among his counsel, but they gave no indication of their course should such a step be taken.

Lieutenant Governor Glynn expected to visit the capitol today in his asserted capacity as acting-governor, and attend to any matters that might come before him.

Still Critically Ill.

Mrs. Sulzer still lay ill of a nervous disorder, unable to see her friend and with specialists in constant attendance at her bedside. She was improved when she awakened this morning from a refreshing sleep, but was still gravely ill. Aaron J. Levy, majority leader of the Assembly, who led the fight on the Assembly floor for impeachment, was suffering from a nervous breakdown. He is at a local hotel, and was reported better this morning.

The impeachment of Governor Sulzer will not affect his salary check preliminary to or during the impeachment trial. He will continue to draw $833 a month, the office of the comptroller during the remainder of his term, unless convicted on the impeachment charges. Then, of course, his salary would stop.

HENRY DOAN IS MISSING
DETECTIVES INVESTIGATING CASE

Elderly King Street Man Disappeared on Civic Holiday, and Nothing Has Been Heard of Him Since—All Efforts to Locate Him Fail to Furnish Clue.

Telling his daughter Violet, that he was going away for over the holiday, but without saying where, Hy. I. Doan, 778 King street, an employee of the McClary Manufacturing Company, and a man of from 65 to 67 years of age, left home about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Aug. 2, and has not been heard of since.

Expected to Return.

Miss Doane told The Advertiser that she asked her father where he was going, but he would not tell her. She expected that he would return home after civic holiday, Aug. 4, but when he failed to do so she communicated with the relatives of the family, including several of her married sisters, whom she thought he might possibly have gone to visit. After waiting for nearly two weeks, Detective Thomas Nickle was informed of his disappearance and the police are now working on the case.

A Steady Worker.

He was employed steadily at McClary's Chelsea Green foundry, sweeping floors and doing similar work, but he appeared contented with his work. He had worked at McClary's for about three years past. Saturday, Aug. 2, before quitting work at noon, he told some of the men that he was not coming back.

Melancholy at Times.

According to Miss Violet Doan, he had never left home before without telling his family where he was going. Two years ago his wife died, and since then he has been subject to fits of melancholy and considerable brooding at times. His daughters are afraid that some violence may have happened to him or that his purpose in going away as he did may have been self-destruction. Miss Doan said that she had been keeping house since her mother's death. Three sisters younger than she are living at home, the youngest a child of 8 years.

Mr. Doan has eleven daughters, five of whom are unmarried. One of the married daughters is Mrs. J. A. McKay, of 136 Mamelon street. She did not see or hear of her father before he left home. According to his family, Doan was strictly temperate and had no bad habits.

The family home is a large, comfortable, and attractively furnished two-story frame house at 778 King street. He had not been complaining of ill-health, his work or anything else, nor had he been brooding or suffering from melancholy just before he disappeared.

Leader of Rebels
Asks Intervention

Col. Carranza Wants U. S. To Take a Hand in Mexican Troubles—Thousands of the Indians Reported To Have Risen and Situation Is Very Critical.

[Canadian Press.]

Mexico City, Aug. 15.—The Mexican consul at El Paso reported to the Government late last night that Col. Jesus Carranza, a brother of Governor Venustiano Carranza, of Coahuila, the head of the revolution, had asked the United States to intervene in Mexico.

John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson, had a conference lasting an hour late last night with Federico Gamboa, the Mexican foreign minister, at Senor Gamboa's private residence. Mr. Lind went and returned unaccompanied.

Indians Have Risen.

Several thousand Indians in the Huasteco district of the state of Vera Cruz, have risen in revolt, according to official reports received here. The Indians are said to have listened to promises made to them that the land is to be divided among them.

These promises are declared by officials to be similar to those alleged to have been made by agents of the rebel governor of Coahuila, Venustiano Carranza. The Indians are poorly armed even when they possess weapons, but in many cases they have no arms at all. The governor of the state of Vera Cruz has sent a mission to try to bring about their pacification.

Sending Troops.

The presence of bands of adherents of Emiliano Zapata, the rebel leader, in the neighborhood of Milpa Alta, within the federal district southeast of the capital, and other groups of rebels in the neighborhood of Texcoco and Otumba, to the northeast of the city, has caused the authorities to dispatch detachments of federal troops against them. Some minor engagements have taken place as a result of which the rebels have retreated.

WESTERN ONTARIO CROPS

Farmers Will Have a Greater Return Than Ever This Autumn.

Dun's trade report says: The crops throughout Western Ontario are higher than the average, and the result must give the farmers a greater return than ever before, for the acreage in most lines has increased, and prices are good. Oats and wheat are good; corn excellent; tobacco fair; sugar beets good, while fruits and roots indicate a large yield.

Retail trade, for the year, to date, is ahead of last year by 10 or 15 per cent, and collections are nearly normal. Manufacturers and jobbers find Ontario business good, but in some lines, cigars, metal goods, furs, carriages and implements, in dealings with the Northwest, orders are less and collections poor. Money is tight, but for legitimate purposes there is sufficient without causing hardship; building permits so far are ahead of all last year, and there is still a scarcity of houses. No failures.

THE WEATHER.

FIRMAN COOK
FOUND DEAD

Neighbors Broke Into His House When He Was Not Seen.

A WESTMINSTER PIONEER

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lambeth, Aug. 15.—Firman Cook, aged 55, a farmer living on the 7th concession of Westminster, was found dead in bed this morning. He had not been seen around the farm for a few days, and the neighbors, fearing that something was wrong, broke into the house. Mr. Cook lay dead in bed.

The appearance of the body indicated that his death had occurred some days ago. Mr. Cook was a bachelor, and had lived alone all his life on the farm where he was born. He was in his usual health when last seen, and the cause of death has not yet been ascertained.

The neighbors phoned to his cousin, Mr. G. F. Morris, who left this morning with Coroner Dr. Rutledge to investigate. Mr. Cook is survived by two sisters in Muskegon, Mich.; another in the Territory of Washington, and a brother in British Columbia.

Dominion Govt. Have Doubled Positions to Meet Demands of Job-Seekers.

AND END IS NOT YET

Since the present Dominion Government came into power, the number of positions in the customs and inland revenue service is said to have practically doubled.

While it is granted that the growth of business in the last ten or twelve years has justified a certain increase in the staff of both departments, the doubling of strength is looked upon as merely a response to the clamor for jobs from a long-denied army of position-seekers.

Clerkships, cashierships and deputyships have been handed out. In some cases it has been necessary to reduce the salaries in positions vacated by death, in order that two or more places might be made and a larger sum spread among a larger number.

It is said that the end is not yet and that there are a large number on the waiting list still to be supplied. In the postoffice the same condition applies. Many men have been added to the strength, all of them chosen from the "truly loyal."

Off for the East.—Mr. H. J. Brown, accountant at the Grand Trunk depot, and Mr. A. E. Bending, private secretary to Mr. W. R. Davidson, leave tonight for an extended trip to Montreal, Portland, Boston and New York.

"Too Much for Me."

"The other man who was injured at the time was in bed also, and I turned to him and asked him if this man lying in bed."

Hands Across the Sea

Significant of the close ties of the Empire was the visit paid London this morning by C. Fitzgerald, principal of the Oxford Home School, London, Eng. Principal Fitzgerald is the head of the big London school with which flags were exchanged by the local Collegiate Institute, and between which two institutions there is annually an exchange of greetings.

In company with City Clerk Baker, Mr. Fitzgerald was taken through the Collegiate Institute, the Normal school, and the new Alexandra public school. He expressed amazement at the size of the local institutions, and evinced the keenest interest in them. He is in Canada on a holiday tour, and has been through to the western coast. Mr. Fitzgerald left at noon for Ottawa.

Traction Service
Was of the Best

Handled Over 3,000 Persons in Connection With the Irishmen's Picnic and I. B. S. President Says That Service Was Entirely Satisfactory.

Over 3,000 persons were handled by the London and Lake Erie Transportation and Railway Company in the Irish picnic rush to Port Stanley. Despite published stories of an inefficient service, General Manager Warburton, backed up by committee members of the Irish Benevolent Society, declares that the entire day was gone through without accident or delay.

A half-hour service was promised the I. B. S., and this was adhered to throughout the day, the first car going out at 6:30 in the morning and being run at 30-minute intervals until after midnight. There were 62 cars sent out of London during the day and 72 from St. Thomas.

President John Forristal, of the I. B. S., declared that the service of the London and Lake Erie was satisfactory. "The service was a satisfactory one, and exactly what Manager Warburton promised us," was the president's statement this afternoon.

Little Wilfred Mowat Charge Meets With Tragic Death in the West.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mowat, 497 Charlotte street, received a telegram yesterday from their daughter, Mrs. W. K. Charge, of Winnipeg, informing them of the death by drowning of the latter's three and a half year old son, Wilfred Mowat. The telegram stated that the little lad had been drowned in the river. Mrs. Charge and her little son spent six months in London last year, and the early part of this year. They left for their home in Winnipeg about the end of January. Wilfred was a regular attendant at King Street Presbyterian Church Sunday school, while in the city and was a bright, clever little fellow.

Mrs. Charge was Miss Margaret Mowat before her marriage, while Mr. Charge is a Winnipeg boy.

A NEW SUB-STATION
FOR THE HYDRO SERVICE

Will Be Located on Dundas Street East Near Factory District.

Another sub-station is to be added to the city electrical service, and the private transmission line to the asylum from the government station in East London, will be taken over by the water commission. These two announcements were made by General Manager H. J. Glauz, of the water commission, who returned this morning from a conference with Chief Engineer Gabey, of the Ontario power commission, and Chairman Hon. Adam Beck.

A New Station.

The new station will be located on Dundas street, near the new McCormick factory site, and will serve the entire factory district of that locality. The power for the asylum will also pass through this sub-station, which will be known as Station 4. Sub-station 2 is over a mile away from the location chosen for No. 4, and as there will be a power consumption of 750 horsepower in the vicinity of the latter within a year, the department demands were for a station where the power could be stepped down.

200 Postoffices

Have Been Closed

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Aug. 15.—One consequence of the rural delivery extension is the closing of some of the postoffices. During May, June and July two hundred offices in Canada were closed.

Most of these were in Western Ontario, where the land is thickly populated and the rural delivery system has been extensively introduced. Applications for additional rural mail routes are still coming in.

MEDICAL SCHOOL STRENGTHENED BY REORGANIZATION

Thanks to Generosity of Medical Men, Western Will Have Splendid Staff.

Full-Time Lecturers, Who Are Specialists, Being Secured For Staff.

One of the last public acts of the late Lieut.-Col. J. W. Little was the signing, as vice-chancellor of the Western University, the papers transferring the Medical School to the board of governors. They were signed at "Hazelton" during his illness. The committee of the board of governors dealing with the matter were Col. Little, C. R. Somerville and Capt. T. J. Murphy.

A Strong Faculty.

The faculty as reorganized is very strong and this year promises to be one of the best in the history of the school.

One splendid feature is the interest the medical men of the city are taking in the reorganization and the fact that they are giving their services on the teaching staff entirely free of charge for this year, so that all the funds of the school may be available for the paying of several full-time professors and improving the equipment and appliances of the school. This example set by the medical men should be followed by other citizens in assisting the university in all its departments.

The New Officials.

The calendar for 1913-14 has just come from the press. The new dean is Hugh A. McCallum, M.D., M.R.C.P., a doctor of the highest standing in the city, who has been president of the Medical Association of Canada, and who was largely instrumental in bringing the great Medical Council to London this year—a man of large experience and well known in the profession all over this continent. The registrar is Dr. W. E. Waugh, who has filled this
