Spirit of Rebellion-Millions of Ne-groes Deprived of Their Franchise. AUGUSTA Me. Nov. 18 -A large num-Blaine serenaded him this evening as an expression of good will and admiration of his conduct in the national campaign. In response to a complimentary address. Blaine made a lengthy speech. Among O'aber things he said: Speaking not as a defeated candidate but as a loyal and devoted American I think the transfer of the political power of the government to the south is a great national misfortune because it introduces an element which cannot secure harmony and prosperity to the people. It introduces into a republic the rule of a minority. The cause of affairs in the south has crushed out the political power of more than six million of American citizens and has transferred it by violence to others. Forty-two presidential electors are assigned to the south on account of the colored population and yet the colored deponded to the south on account of the colored population and yet the colored population and yet the colored population and yet the self-se suffrage, and their rights has editizens are scortfully trodden under foot. In the south the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina have an aggregate of forty-eight electoral votes. They have 2,800,000 white people and over $,000,000 colored. In the north the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Calicolored. In the north the states of wis-consin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas and Cali-fornia have likewise an aggregate of forty-eight electoral votes and they have a white population of 5,600,000. LOUISVILLE, Nov. 18.—Robert Bryce an extradition warrant by Sergt. Webb of affrighted because they think all legal protection for them is gone. Few persons in the north realize how completely the chiefs of the rebellion wield the political power which triumphed in the late election. It is a portentious fact that the democratic senators who come from the states of the late confederacy without a single exception personally participated in the rebellion against the national government. It is a still more significant fact that in those states no man who was loyal to the union, no matter how strong a democrat he may be, to day has the slightest chance of political promotion. The one great avenue to honor in that section is a record of zealous service in war against the government. It is certainly an atounding fact that the section in which friendship for the union in the day of its trial and agony is still a political diqualification should be called now to rule over the union.

I have spoken of the south as placed by the late election in possession of the government and I mean all that my words imply. The south furnished nearly three-fourths of the electoral votes that defeated the republican party and they will step to the command of democracy as unchallenged and uncestrained as they held the same position for thirty years before the war. The contest just closed utterly dwarfs the fortunes and face of candidates whether successful or unsuccessful. Purposely, I may say instinctively, I have discussed the issues and consequences of that contest without reference to my own defeat, without the remotest reference to the gentleman who is elevated to the presidency. Towards him personally I have an cause for ill-will and it is with cordiality I express the wish that his official career may prove gratifying to himself and beneficial to the country, and that his administration may never experience the embarrassments which the peculiar source of its power imposes upon it from the hour of its birth.

Kerry Gow is well acted from Mr Murphy down to the pigeons. It is well out on, the "get ups" are good, the realis ticism of the different scenes is excellent and the persons taking the various parts suit the enaracters admirably A'l played their parts so well that it is needless to pick out isolated instances.

The chief feature of last night's acting was the "business," as it is called: the very utmost was made even out of the minor characters. Maurice H ppard, for example, with his inevitable "Mr. Hay; sir," drew forth much laughter Miss Eva Byron as Alice Doyle gave grea prominence to a secondary character; and above all William Leary as Sergeant Bull the "uncertain talker," was very amusing perhaps too much so.

The large audience, as is so common in plays of the character of Kerry Gow, was ore apt to applaud the sentiment excessed than the acting. From one point of view this is a high compliment—it was last night, for it shows that the acting is so good as to draw no attention to itself. The encores, the calls before the curtain evinced the appreciation of the play.

What the public is most interested in is the putting of the bank on a solid basis, and it this is accomplished the best interests of the shareholders will be secured. It probably may be said in speaking of the large reduction that it is necessary, owing to the losses and lock ups, for the purpose of attracting good customers and muliding up business again on a perfectly safe and sure foundation; and although Mr. Yarker may have been inclined to under-estimate the assets, yet it is clear that the interests of the board lay in the other direction, and consequently between the two it is highly probable that the figures arrived at are not a great way out. hat they are in no way re-p one

With regard to the unfortunate losses which the bank has sustained, the explanations which the board will give to the meeting at length, will we hope, be deemed attifactory, and that there will be a spirit of unanimity in supporting and carrying at promptly the proposals of Mr. Yarker. To cry over spitt milk is always foly, and useless cavilling and controversies only make bad things wo sa.
