Did You Ever Notice

That the merchant who says he hasn't time to attend to his Advertising every week is generally the one who sits around so much complaining about people going to sales in nearby cities or buying so many articles from Mail Order houses that he can sell just as cheaply.

Then there is always the man who says "People don't read the ads. anyway!"

Don't laugh at him; pity him Go into almost any home and see how the mail order catalogues, the city sale posters and the daily paper ads. are being studied and compared around the fire these Fall evenings.

Buyers haven't the money to spend this Fall that they formerly had—therefore, get your goods before them now through your local paper—"The Guide-Advocate" (Ask us to help you.)
