EXPORT DEMAND SOON TO VANISH

Belief That Foreign Countries Will Become Sellers Weakens Prices.

CHICAGO, March 15.—Wheat today made a new price record for the season. Belief that thru fear of war spreading European countries had over-bought and would, therefore, soon diminish exports, had much to do with breaking the market. The close was unsettled, ranging from last night level to 5-8c to 3-4c down.

Predictions were current that not only would export demand for wheat fall away, but that sufficient moisture was available to meet needs for a long time. It also was pointed out that the Argentine yield is probably record one, and is being shipped on a scale never before equaled. General liquidation prevented any material rally. This was partly due to primary receipts for the week being nearly double those at the same time a year ago.

Corn and Oats Weak.
Bear leaders in corn ignored the fact that the largest holdings of the week were in the hands of the market. Selling was encouraged by bad reserves, liberal receipts, increasing stocks, and above all by a killing discount on cash deliveries.

Oats weakened thru dread that supplies carried over into the new crop season would prove the largest ever known. Provisions suffered because of larger receipts of hogs. Prices were also affected by weakness in grain.
