SHEEAN IS SMALL COVERS GROUND

New Second Sacker Makes Good Impression—Hollander Trying Out at Third.

DURHAM, N.C., April 15.—The reporting of Tom Sheean made the Toronto Ball Club look a lot different. He is ready for the call "Play Ball" after the training trip with Cincinnati and, of course, he is a good arm, his well-known just beginning to sprout in a striking sense. Sheean is small and slight, but he is full of ginger and is playing ball all the time, whether the play is in deadly earnest or lagging at the close.

On a quick glance the newcomer looks as tho he would make a great player alongside of Rube. The two weren't going more than five minutes on Monday before they got their heads together and were at once coming to an understanding on throwing and playing generally.

Good Ground-Cover. Sheean looks like a great ground-cov-er. He is another change, whether bat, always behind the ball, and thinks he is a good arm, his well-known just beginning to sprout in a striking sense. Sheean is small and slight, but he is full of ginger and is playing ball all the time, whether the play is in deadly earnest or lagging at the close.

The placing of Sheean at second brought about another change, whether significant or not, the week's work will pretty well tell. Hollander, who has been playing first base, is being moved to third for the regulars, Isaac playing that corner for the second. Hollander is a left-handed batsman, a right hander, and while his opening performance was not in keeping with his position, he showed last season, still he stands up and meets the ball nicely. And all the time we feel that he will and ought to hit.

Pepe is shifting around from third to short, and Trout is performing at second and first. Graham is working regularly at first base, and is doing well in nursing his foot and bringing it along by degrees, leaving Graham, Brackett and Clark in undoubted possession of the outer garden at least for right now.

The team began the week with three practices on the university grounds, and they got on as early in the morning as they like and can have possession until 3 o'clock. It is in addition a great dis-advantage, while the other is skin. It is a new ground just sodded and is naturally soggy after a night's rain. However, it means longer seasons and a better set-ting up of the mud, and he has shown his side. The veteran catcher, Jack Ryan, now with Washington, was out playing first for the second time.

Pitchers Coming Along. The improvement noticeable daily among the pitchers is having its effect on the hitting. The clatters are popping a lot more in the air than at the beginning of the season, and the batter is taking the place of the moderate paced fast ball. Gradually they are working up speed, and Manning and Geyer have handed out unmistakably clever nuckle balls or fasters. Lake is working along nicely, doing much duty in the outfield, and Herbert is coming along splendidly. Wagner is leaving them up much the same as last year, lacking only the finishing touches, which will come this week. Blanche's soft arm has kept him umpiring, and he has shown nothing so far.

The regulars are suffering more or less from the same ailment, but this perfect boiling, training weather will quickly right that. Jordan and Isaac are troubled some, but it is nothing worse than what comes to all in the spring dings.
