WINTER WHEAT DID NOT COME THRU IN PROMISING SHAPE

Alternate Thawing and Freezing Does Considerable Damage.

RYE ALSO SUFFERS

Cattle Are in Good General Condition, Tho Not Many Bees.

The following information regarding agricultural conditions in this province is contained in a bulletin prepared by the Ontario Department of Agriculture, based upon information furnished by a large number of correspondents, under date of April 12.

Altho most farmers who grow winter wheat had intended to treat their wheat last fall, the late harvest and the severity of help kept the area sown in about half the area sown in the winter wheat is not encouraging, most of the fields being more or less brown and patchy, and all of them standing in need of good spring rains, as the latter part of the winter was very dry. The snow cleared off, the nights continued very cold, and the crop suffered from the alternate freezing and thawing of the unprotected fields. The present appearance of the winter wheat is not encouraging, most of the fields being more or less brown and patchy, and all of them standing in need of good spring rains, as the latter part of the winter was very dry. The snow cleared off, the nights continued very cold, and the crop suffered from the alternate freezing and thawing of the unprotected fields. The present appearance of the winter wheat is not encouraging, most of the fields being more or less brown and patchy, and all of them standing in need of good spring rains, as the latter part of the winter was very dry. The snow cleared off, the nights continued very cold, and the crop suffered from the alternate freezing and thawing of the unprotected fields.

Winter rye has also suffered injury by the trying spring weather, but not to so great an extent as the wheat. Clover, however, has come thru better than either wheat or rye. While some having been injured, and while looking sick in places, the general appearance of the fields is encouraging, considering the rather untoward spring weather. As correspondents reported, the crop was needing rain in order to receive a good spring start.

Condition of Orchards. Unusually low temperatures during the winter injured some of the buds on tender varieties of peach trees and froze back a portion of the young wood on some grape vines, but the total amount of damage is not serious. There are complaints of girdling of young fruit trees by field mice and rabbits. The general condition of fruit trees, however, is favorable.

Live Stock Situation. Horses are plentiful, and drivers and underlined general purposes animals are selling cheaply, but heavy working horses are more in demand and are commanding good prices.

Cattle are in good general condition, altho not so many beef animals are being fed owing to the high price of grain and millfeed. Many dairy cows are falling off in milk from the same cause.

The swine industry is at high mark. More brood sows are kept than ever before. What is known as "hog camp" has been pushed widely and vigorously for several months past, and farmers generally are raising the young pigs they can feed, considering the discouragingly high prices of all classes of feed and the comparative fallure of the corn crop.

A Wellington County correspondent states: "I have raised already 200 suckling pigs, and could sell 400 more, if I had them, at 75¢ each. There will likely be a steady increase in the number of hogs from now on, altho animals ready for the bacon market are at present relatively scarce."

Sheep are increasing in popularity in various sections of the province. There has been a good lamb drop already, and the prospects for development of the neglected class of farm animals are brightening.

There has been more than a sufficiency of hay, but there is a danger of too much of it being sold. There has also been an abundance of straw, much of which is now being fed. The corn crop, on the other hand, was the poorest for years, both for husking and silage. Much of what went into the silo was frost-killed, making inferior feed, and, owing to the early cold weather, considerable standing corn was caught in the field and had to remain out all winter. The cereals are so dear that grain is being sparingly fed. However, there is a good supply of field roots on hand. The bulk of the reports indicate that most farmers have the necessary supplies on hand to make fairly well-balanced rations, but that careful feeding must be the order of the day until pastures are ready.

A Brant correspondent describes the general farm attitude wisely: "Most farmers would like to increase their acreage for field production if they could depend upon procuring sufficient labor." However, despite the probable lack of help, an endeavor is being made by many farmers to extend the area of spring crops. A considerable number are about to try spring wheat for the first time or increase their former acreage. More barley will also be sown. With the unusually dry weather so far prevailing, farmers have been able to get up to $12.40; cows and heifers, $7.50 to $12.70; sheep and lambs, $5.00 to $12.70; hogs, $5.00 to $12.70; and calves, $5.00 to $12.70.
