After declaring labor had succeeded in having the properly qualified men in Winnipeg abolished, he said, "But labor is not yet represented in the Dominion house."

He declared that Fred Dixon was the only true labor man in the house, "and one reason why labor should be at Ottawa is because the federal authorities control the military and the courts. Labor is not going to get what it wants until it in some way gets control of the military and the courts."

In dealing with what he considered a maladministration of justice, he cited the amendments to the immigration act, whereby any one of the Winnipeg strikers born out of Canada may be refused trial by jury, and may be brought before a committee of the immigration department and without counsel, without a hearing, without even being there himself, may be ordered to be deported.

"You, who were born in England, Scotland or the United States," he exclaimed, "you have absolutely ceased the right to trial by jury. They may go into your homes by night, as they did into the homes of those men in Winnipeg, but you have no right to a trial."

CANADIAN PACKERS SHOULD STUDY EAST

Replying to an enquiry from the Canadian trade commission at Ottawa, regarding possibilities of trade in Canadian fish in Japan, A. E. Bryan, trade commissioner at Yokohama, says: "Wholesale grocery travellers from other countries come out once a year or so to show the various brands; they bring their supplies with them and quote right on the spot. So far as the writer is aware, there has never been any Canadian wholesale grocer or traveller come to Japan for this purpose. Today, when I was in one of the stores an American traveller has about half a dozen large trunks open, and was displaying as well as taking orders for the various lines which he carried. Every thing looked attractive and he did some good business. This should be done by Canadians. Fish packers should combine for export and should send a traveller out once a year who would carry their goods, as well as procure a general line of Canadian groceries. Nothing can be done here without samples and prices (i.e. Vancouver or preferably C.I.F. Yokohama). Canadian packers should come out and study the market not only here but in China, Korea and other eastern countries."
