COUNCIL OF ORANGEMEN.

Triennial Gathering Opens At Glasgow.

REPRESENTS THE WORLD.

President N. C. Wallace, M.P., Makes His Annual Address.

Refers to the Chief Causes of Growth of the Power of England—Speaks at Length on the Manitoba School Question—Shows Who Helped to Defeat the Remedial Bill Which it Was Proposed to Pass Through Parliament.

Glasgow, July 14.—The triennial gathering of the Imperial Grand Council of Orangemen of the World was held in the Waterloo Rooms, Wellington-street, to-day at 11 o'clock a.m., there being a large and representative gathering.

Among those present from Great Britain were: The Right. Hon. the Earl of Erne, Imperial Grand Master; Col. Warring, M.P., Grand Master of England and Vice-President of the Triennial Council; Col. Saunderson, M.P., of Armagh, Grand Master of Scotland; William Johnston, M.P., of Ballykilbeg, Rev. Dr. Kane of Belfast.

Among those present from Canada were: Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, President and Grand Master of British America; J. W. Bell, M.P. for Addington, Provincial Grand Master for Ontario East; D. M. Jermyn of Wiarton, Provincial Deputy Grand Master of Ontario West; H. H. Pitts, M.L.A., Provincial Grand Master of New Brunswick; Stewart Mulvey, M.L.A., Provincial Grand Master of Manitoba; Williams Cairns of Ottawa, delegate from the Grand Lodge of Ontario East.

The President's Address.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace presided, and after the opening ceremonies delivered his address as President of the Council. Among other things, he said: We meet in an historic year. The echoes of the Jubilee yet vibrate through the Empire, and the fervent thanksgiving of the British people still ascends to Heaven that the matchless monarch "who wrought them lasting good" lives to crown her reign with ever growing glory. In all the pride of power, with all the splendid pomp and pageantry from the four corners of the earth, have come the subjects of the sovereign to testify their loyalty and love, to tender their devotion to the throne, to demonstrate that from the widening of the bounds of empire, the acquisition and development of colonial possessions, the enlargement of constitutional liberties and the expansion of the powers of self-government, have issued a higher civilization than the world has ever before known, bringing in its train the blessings of prolonged peace, widely diffused prosperity, ardent and enduring loyalty and an uplifting of the people to a higher plane of comfort, thrift, freedom and intelligence than history has ever recorded in the past.

The Chief Causes of Growth.

And we may ask to what chief causes, under Providence, have the glories of Victoria's reign been due. If I sought an answer to the question I should find it in these: The Protestant faith, an open Bible and popular government. As no nation since the world began has attained the eminence of Britain in all that contributes to the greatness and prosperity of its people, so no other nation has enjoyed these three concurrent blessings, unless it be that brother nation sprung from the same stock as ourselves, a branch from the same tree—the United States. Individual freedom, liberty of conscience are essentials of popular self-government, which form of government, to be stable and enduring, must rest upon the moral precepts of the Bible.

The contribution of Orangemen to the glorious achievements of the Empire has not been inconsiderable. In the councils of Imperial and Colonial statesmen they have held an honored place. The father of the Canadian Confederation was a member of our association. In the triumphs of British arms and valor they have had a large and conspicuous part.

I am happy to be able to give the Triennial Council the assurance that in the Dominion of Canada the vigor has remained unimpaired and the membership has more than kept pace with the growth of population. New lodges are constantly being formed and ranks recruited with young men animated with a determination to espouse through life tenets of our faith.

The Manitoba School Question.

The annual meeting of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Ontario, held at Windsor in May last, was among the most notable and most enthusiastic it has ever been my privilege to attend. One question—that of the educational system of the young and lusty Province of Manitoba—has deeply concerned the Orangemen of Canada, and has excited the profound interest of the whole people of Canada. A brief allusion here to the position of the question will not, I trust, be amiss. You are familiar with the earlier history of the case—how that in 1890 the Legislature of Manitoba, in concord with the desire of the vast majority of the people of that Province, abolished the system of Separate Schools and established that of public unsectarian schools; how that an appeal to the courts against the legality of the measure having been taken by the Roman Catholic minority, the legality of the legislation was upheld by the Judicial Committee of Her Majesty's Privy Council; how that the power of interference by the Governor-General-in-Council, as provided by the British North America Act, in certain contingencies, was then invoked by the minority of this branch of the question in turn submitted to the courts, and how that the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council decided that the Governor-in-Council had jurisdiction to hear the appeal of the minority. The effect of this latter judgment was to make the question essentially and distinctly a political one and to remove it from the sphere of the courts. The Governor-in-Council, in other words the Ministry of the day, might and did hear the appeal, and thereupon issued an order upon the Government of Manitoba requiring the latter to modify its school system to meet the views of the minority, that is to say, to re-establish Separate or Roman Catholic Schools. The Manitoba authorities, having declined to recognize this order, it became a dead letter, unless supplemented by legislation of the Parliament of Canada, which body under the constitution is clothed with power to override the action of the Provincial Legislatures with respect to education in certain defined cases. Legislation to the end of restoring Separate Schools in Manitoba was actually introduced in the Parliament of Canada in the session of 1896.

How It Was Prevented.

Shortly before that event I had felt it a duty incumbent upon me to withdraw from the Government of which I was a member, in consequence of the determination to pursue this policy, and on the floor of Parliament, in company with other members, more particularly Brothers Sproule, McNeill and Tyrwhitt, and Messrs. McCarthy, Weldon, Maclean and O'Brien, we combatted the proposed legislation with all the Parliamentary resources at our command. We succeeded in preventing the consummation of the legislation to restore Separate Schools in Manitoba, and in the ensuing elections the Dominion Government was defeated, largely because of its school policy. We had won the battle for Public Schools, and the cause of Provincial control of education had triumphed. To the victory thus gained the Orangemen of Canada contributed in an influential degree, holding the principle that the line of distinction between secular and religious education ought to be drawn, the one being the duty of the State, while the other pertains to the church and the home.

The triumph of Public Schools in Manitoba is, I trust, complete, but the efforts of the advocates of Separate Schools, the Roman Catholic minority, to destroy the system, have not wholly ceased. At the solicitation of certain members of Parliament of that denomination, the Pope has recently sent an ablegate, Mgr. Merry del Val, to Canada, to survey the ground and report upon the character and position of the controversy. His report will be awaited with interest in the Dominion, but we Canadians will resent the interference of a foreign potentate. For my own part, I am persuaded that all the attempts to destroy the Public School system will prove impotent and abortive, for—

"If England's poets and people join in one,
Nor France, nor Spain, nor Pope, shall do them wrong."

YORK COUNTY COUNCIL.

Filled the Vacancies Caused by the Resignation of Councillor Ramsden—Other Business Transacted.

York County Councillors spent the greater portion of yesterday morning in committee work, and resumed business soon after 11 o'clock. Under the head of enquiries, Councillor Norman asked if the York road debentures had been sold and realized upon. He was answered by the warden to the effect that the sale was completed, but the money had not yet been received.

Re Filling the Vacancies.

The positions in the County Council held by the new clerk, ex-Councillor Ramsden, took considerable time refilling. His position as a member of the Finance Committee was given to Councillor Norman, and when the committee met his office as chairman fell to Councillor Fisher. A vote was taken as to who should have his position on the Industrial Home Infirmary Special Committee, which resulted in Councillor High getting the position by a vote of 10 to 6 over Councillor Reesor. As a member of the special committee to confer with the City Council in regard to rooms in the new Court House, Councillor Baker was appointed. Mr. Baker was also elected to the vacancy on the Education Committee. Bylaw 671, dealing with the Metropolitan Railway extension, was so amended as to read Johnson instead of Ramsden, and the vacancy on the Board of Audit was filled by Councillor Hall on a vote of 9 to 7 over Councillor Stokes.

Claim Through Bridge Repairing.

Mr. N. Silverthorn addressed the Council, claiming damages to about 600 yards of his farm at Summerville, caused by teams traveling over it whilst Craig's bridge over the Etobicoke was being repaired last year by the Councils of York and Peel. The claim is $60, but as Mr. Jones, the tenant, has been paid $58 for the privilege and work of lighting lamps during the construction of the bridge and was quite satisfied with his remuneration, the Council did not feel like granting the claim. Councillor Evans was appointed a commissioner to confer with a commissioner from the County of Peel to decide on what the Council should do in the premises.

Other Matters.

The County Solicitor will draft the letters of condolence to the bereaved families of the late clerk and Councillor W. J. Bull, which are to be signed by the warden and forwarded prior to the November session of Council.

The complication arising out of the two motions, one appointing Nelson Eakin, son of the late clerk, and another J. McDougall, clerk, until the new clerk takes office, was remedied by the appointment of J. McDougall as clerk. Nelson Eakin will receive the $100 per month for the unexpired time.

The request of the Ontario Brick Paving Company for the privilege of running a tramway from the Humber river across the Scarlett-road bridge was referred to the warden and county commissioners, and will be dealt with by them to-day, together with the Berkeley-street lot matter.

Council then adjourned to meet in November.

A Handsome Sketch.

In Dineens' window, at the firm's temporary premises, 81 Yonge-street, is displayed a very handsome sketch in water colors of the new "Dineen Building" now in course of erection at Temperance and Yonge-streets. It reflects credit on the architect, Mr. F. H. Herbert, and gives a little conception of the magnificence of the latest addition to Toronto's fine business blocks. When completed, it will be one of the best appointed public buildings in Canada. Mr. Dineen is unstinting in the outlay to make his new hat emporium the best in the land, while that portion of the building which will be occupied as offices will be easy of access and in what will be at no distant day the most convenient and most sought after district in the city for such office space as the "Dineen Building" will afford. The firm expect to occupy their new premises about Oct. 1.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Jubilee Blunder.

Evening Telegram: A policy of free trade may be very well adapted to England's geographical position and very ill adapted to Canada's geographical position.

It was not at all necessary for Wilfrid Laurier to proclaim in words Canada's attachment to the doctrines of free trade. The acts of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's own Government show that Canada is not joined to the free trade idol, and if the Premier in Britain uttered any word that could prevent the fiscal unification of the Empire on a basis of preferential duties, his blunder may yet cost the Liberal party dear.

Is It An Easy Contract?

The will of Mrs. Sarah Nelson, of Newmarket, who leaves an estate valued at $5600, has been entered for probate. The estate is left to her children, with small bequests to relatives, with the additional legacy of $25 to Mr. Cassidy, presumably a poet of some reputation in Newmarket, if he will write for her tombstone some "verses that have sense."

MRS. STERNAMAN'S CASE.

Mr. W. M. German of Welland at Buffalo in Conference With Mr. Thayer, the Buffalo Lawyer.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 14.—W. M. German of Welland, Ont., was in the city this morning. He came to consult with Wallace Thayer, concerning the case of Mrs. Olive A. Sternaman, who is wanted in Canada for the alleged murder of her husband. Mr. German is associated with Mr. Thayer as counsel for Mrs. Sternaman, and will conduct her defence in the event of her being extradited to Canada.

The only recourse now to be had in Mrs. Sternaman's behalf is an appeal to the Secretary of State. If Secretary Sherman so considers, he may direct that Mrs. Sternaman be discharged. Mr. Thayer hopes, when opportunity offers for argument before the Secretary of State, to convince that officer that the evidence in the case does not warrant taking the woman to Canada for trial. Charles J. Thomas, attorney for the Canadian Government, will oppose her discharge.

In order to obtain the argument desired it is necessary that the evidence in the case, which forms a very large volume, be transmitted to the Secretary of State. A few days ago the evidence had not been sent to Washington, and Attorney Thomas was trying to induce former United States Commissioner Fairchild to send it to Secretary Sherman.

The law is said to provide that within sixty days after being held by a commissioner in the case of a person to be extradited, application must be made for extradition to the Secretary of State. Delay in this case might interfere seriously with the plans of the Canadian Government. Mrs. Sternaman probably would be content it the evidence in the case were not sent to Washington within the specified sixty days, which will expire Aug. 19.

Mr. Thayer places great reliance upon that part of Justice Wallace's opinion which declares the evidence to have been unsatisfactory and far from convincing of Mrs. Sternaman's guilt. He believes the opinion expressed by the Court of Highest Appeal will have much weight when Secretary Sherman is asked by him not to grant an order for Mrs. Sternaman's extradition.

Mrs. Sternaman is in jail. She has been there since last October.

Laid Away for Two Years.

Fred Bell was talking to a woman on Louisa-street late on Tuesday night, when a mulatto named John Tinsley came along and brutally assaulted him by knocking him down and kicking him in the face. Magistrate Kingsford sent Tinsley to the Central yesterday morning for one year and 364 days.
