SNAP-SHOTS AT VARIOUS SPORTS

Mr. Ed Baker, a clever writer upon turf topics, has the following in the Horse World: Although the Canadian performers on the Grand Circuit this year have been as numerous as in former years they have not covered themselves with glory, the main cause being the common enemy to horsemen, "hard luck." Havis James, of Hamilton, had probably the most formidable string early in the season, but a distressing accident which befell himself at Listowel and by which his collarbone was broken, disorganized the stable to some extent as the horses did not perform as well in other hands as they surely would have done in the hands of the skillful Hamilton reinsman, who is one of the past masters in the art of developing and driving harness horses.

The veteran London reinsman, Dan McEwen, has been disappointed with the showing of the horses in his charge up to date, but as there are several heats yet to go and as Dan is known to be a great finisher, he may be relied upon to come home with enough ducats to carry him through another campaign down the ice circuit here this winter.

Great things were expected of Pearl Tipping, in Alex Hassard's stable on the big rings this year, and early in the game she showed that a mile in 2:05 was within her capabilities, she went off just when she should have been good and had to be returned home.

Little Buck, the hero of Stratford, made a stab at some of the pots in the Grand Circuit, but the company proved just a little too fast for the midget pacer, and Jimmy Easson wisely decided to get back to the side shows with him.

Harry Stinson, trainer for the Cruickston Park Farm, of Galt, started the season with encouraging prospects but misfortunte soon overtook him. Alexander and the pacing mare Fond Heart had to be sent back to the farm. But Harry still has Kentucky Todd, and if this son of Todd should cop the Kentucky Futurity at Lexington, Harry's cup of joy will be filled to the brim and every horseman and many others who are not horsemen, in Canada, will shout "Bravo!"

McCarthy, of Toronto, made one record in the Eastern League. He beat all the pitchers in percentage of losses, though McLean, of Rochester, lost the same number, 21. Burchell, of Baltimore, pitched 38 games this season—more than any other pitcher, Mason, also of Baltimore, pitched only four games fewer, but he leads all the Eastern League pitchers in percentage of victories. There are three other pitchers who haven't lost even one game, but two of them pitched only four times and the third appeared but once.

The last time the Chicago Nationals won a championship was in 1886. The first championship in National League history was won by the same club in 1876. During the 30 years of the National League's existence Chicago has won the flag seven times, including this year's pennant. The Giants captured the bunting four times, Pittsburg three times (in succession), Boston eight times, and Brooklyn three times. In 1887, Detroit, which was then in the National League, finished first. In the American League (up till 1900 called the Western League), the Chicago team won the championship three times out of the six years of the league's existence.

The Ontario Rugby Football Union, of which the Forest City team is a member, was organized in 1883. In 1900 a London team took the championship in the intermediate series, and in 1888-89 and 1900, a London team took the junior series. In the senior series the Hamilton Tigers held the championship in 1903, 1904 and 1905. Here is hoping for another championship for London when the Forest City boys get into action.

Sporting Editor: A contends that a referee in a Rugby football match, under the auspices of the O. R. F. U., has the authority to give a game to the visiting team if the spectators are allowed to encroach on the field. B contends that the referee has no power to give a team the game on such grounds. Please decide this.

Answer—Rule 10 of the O. R. F. U. says: "The referee shall stop the play if spectators encroach upon the field. It is the duty of the home team to keep the grounds clear, and should they fail to do so, after warning, the referee may, in his discretion, award the game to the visiting team."

The Canadian pacer, Miss Shelton, owned by Mr. Bessey, of Hamilton, Ont., and in the training stable of W. S. Hunel, of Titusville, Pa., is booked for the 2:10 class in 1907. She was sired by Theodore Shelton, has been a mile in about 2:15 over a half-mile track in a race, and that will hold a big bunch of the green "uns." Mr. Hunel knows how to pilot a pacer to the front when watermelons are ripe.—Horse World.

Some people take great pleasure in knocking football, lacrosse, hockey, and other games, on the ground that they are rough. Beyond doubt these sports are not for weaklings; it requires men with muscle and brains to play them; but with due acknowledgment to the occasional serious accidents which befall the players, what kind of a race of young men would exist if muscle-building and brain-developing pastimes such as these were not played? Possibly it would suit some of these members of the anvil chorus better if young men devoted their spare time to indulgence in checkers, parlor croquet or ping-pong. President Roosevelt, even, often doffs his White House garments long enough to indulge in a spirited boxing set-to. One point which the opponents of strenuous pastimes have bought up, however, is worthy of consideration. That is the fact that many of the members of the college and school teams rush through their lessons in order to get out on the gridiron or on the ice for a hockey game. Although this has never been proved to be the rule, it is nevertheless a fact that in some cases the charge is true. That is not as it should be. Necessary as it is to develop the muscles, it is equally essential that mental development should not be neglected.

The recent confession of a jockey to the effect that he had "pulled" numerous horses during his riding career, but emphasizes the fact that the average man has but a slim chance to beat the turf game. At the risk of being accused of belonging to the anvil chorus, the writer would say that the average man who tries to beat the races migh better throw his money into a convenient sewer. "But the races have been beaten," has often been said. Admitted. Such men as Pittsburg Phil, and Mike Dwyer have beaten the bookies at their own game; but they were not average men. Those two plungers had an almost superhuman knowledge of horseflesh. And after all, how much were they ahead of the game? Pittsburg Phil died in the prime of manhood, a nervous, physical wreck. And Dwyer, when he "cashed in" for the last time, not long ago, was a confirmed paralytic. They robed the turf of wealth, and the game took their greatest asset, health, in return.

The Tigers swamped Peterboro Saturday, 37 to 0, in the senior series of the O. R. F. U.

The Toronto Telegram, in speaking of the Tecumseh-Toronto lacrosse game on Saturday, says: And that Saturday game was a hard game of lacrosse, fast at times for any kind of weather, and fast at all times considering the conditions. Many's the hard rap was handed out to show that the players were taking an interest in the game. And as those raps hurt more on a cold day, they were generally returned with interest. To be sure, the officials, Robertson and McIntyre, were on the alert and the players had to be careful, but the game easily ranks as the most earnest of the season. As a spectator aptly remarked, "The best of ill-feeling prevailed at all times."

Capt. Bobby Hague, the newly-elected leader of the Forest City football team, has not found the berth strewn with roses, up to date. For some unknown reason only a few of the faithful turn out evenings for practice. It is up to the football players of the city to help place in the field a team which will hold its own with the other teams in the O. R. F. U., and this can only be done by consistent and earnest practice. Capt. Hague issues an appeal to all players having the interest of the team at heart to turn out each evening for practice.

THE TURF.

YESTERDAY'S WINNERS.

FALL MEET FOR CHATHAM.

Chatham, Oct. 8.—Secretary Massey, of the local trotting association, announces a three days' meeting here next week. In all, Mr. Massey is hanging up $2,000, as as the Thursday of the racing is Thanksgiving Day, is assured of big crowds. The harness classes are for either gait.

LINEUP OF CUBS VS. SOX TODAY

Excitement at Chicago Over the World's Series Is at Fever Heat.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Altrock and White, Reulbach and Brown; these are the men on whom all baseball interest centered tonight. If Altrock pitches the opening game for the Sox it will practically mean that "Doc" White is not in condition. Lundgren may work for the Cubs if the day is cold, but weather possibilities barred, Brown will be the slabman. Latest reports say the three-fingered marvel is in shape again after his troubles with a lame arm.

Almost equal to choice of the box men in interest is the condition of George Davis, the Sox shortshop, and Sullivan, the catcher.

Sullivan showed poorly on Sunday against Detroit, and if he is in bad form tomorrow his inability to throw to second may cost the game. The loss of Davis would make the American infield look like a joke as far as the left wing is concerned.

Excitement over the series is at fever heat tonight. The Annex, where the national commission is meeting, is flooded with correspondents and baseball magnates from every city in the two circuits. A delegation of Detroiters is expected tonight. The probable lineup for tomorrow's game is as follows:

Sox—Hahn, r. f.; Jones, c. f.; Isbell, 2 b.; Davis, s. s.; Donohue, 1 b.; Dougherty, l. f.; Sullivan or McFarland, c.; Tannehill, 3 b.; Altrock or White, p.

Cubs—Hofman, c. f.; Sheckard, l. f.; Schulte, r. f.; Chance, 1 b.; Steinfeldt, 3 b.; Tinker, s. s.; Evers, 2 b.; Kling, c.; Brown or Reulbach, p.

Umpires—O'Loughlin and Johnstone. Time of game—2:30.

"I have but little doubt of Davis' condition to play," declared Comiskey tonight. "He'll be in the game all right. I'm positive of landing the series."

"Brown is in fair shape," said Manager Frank Chance of the Cubs. "It is hard to say whether he will pitch the opener, however. We beat the Sox last year, and we have a better team this season. I can't see anything to it but a victory for our club. It will be no walkaway, but we will win."

GAMES YESTERDAY.

At St. Louis—Americans 4, Nationals 3.

At Hartford, Conn. — Washington (American) 0, Philadelphia (American) 2.

GOLF.

TITLE HOLDER IN LEAD.

West Newton, Mass., Oct. 8.—The honors in the qualifying round, which opened the 12th national women's golf champion at the Braeburn Country Club today, rested on the shoulders of Miss Pauline MacKay, of the Oakley County Club, of Boston, and the present title holder. Her score of 87 for the holes was the best card of the 70 which were handed in. Miss F. O. G. Phepoe, of Hamilton, Ont., made 46-51, total, 97.

SEVENTH WILL NOT HAVE HOCKEY TEAM

But It Will Have Indoor Baseball, Basketball, Bowling This Winter.

The Seventh Regiment Athletic Association met in the armories last evening and elected the following officers for the season:

Honorary President—Major Hume Cronyn.

President—Captain Frank Reid.

Vice-President—Lieut. Bentley.

Secretary—Lieut. B. Ware.

Treasurer—Lieut. Spry.

Chairmen of Committees — Indoor baseball, Lieut. Gordon Ingram; basket ball, Lieut. Carling; bowling, Capt. McCrimmon.

The various committees reported on last season's work, and the reports showed that everything had been run off according to schedule.

Two trophies will be offered for first and second place in the baseball league, and one for first place in the basketball league.

The military school and the A. M. C. applied for admittance to the basketball and baseball leagues. The applications were granted.

The executive has decided that there will be no hockey team from the association this season.

By a unanimous vote it was decided to have a team compete in the Canadian Club road race on Thanksgiving Day.

CANADIAN SOO TO HAVE HOCKEY

Roy Brown, Brantford, Signed to Manage Professional Team and Play Point.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Oct. 8.—Roy Brown has been signed to captain, manage, and play point for the Canadian Soo hockey team in the International Hockey League the coming season. Brown, whose home is in Brantford, arrived in town yesterday, and, after a conference with the club Executive, signed the contract. He will direct the organization of a team and will have the backing of a club that is particularly well fixed financially.

Brown played with the Canadian Soo team two years ago, the first of the International League's existence, and all around the circuit was accorded the honors as premier point player of the league. He easily outclassed all others in that position. He has several good players in view for this year's team, and if the men are on the market and money can procure them, the Canadian Soo will have a winning seven. The manner in which the Canadian Soo supports hockey is almost phenomenal. For two years the people of the town have put up money, which in its amount runs up into the thousands, for a team to represent them in the International League. Twice the team finished at the foot of the list, but the enthusiasts have rallied again, and the club now has at its command enough money to finance it through the season without having to wait for gate receipts.

Brown will go east again, and, if necessary, will seek personal interviews with the men he wishes to sign for the team. Billy Taylor, now with the Toronto Lacrosse Club, is about the only one of last year's seven who will be retained.

The officers of the reorganized Hockey Club are as follows: President, J. D. H. Brown; Vice-President, T. E. Simpson; Secretary, M. Laughton; Treasurer, Wm. O'Brien; Executive Committee, R. H. Sweetser, George Millington, J. Hockshaw, G. Fisher, J. Culbert, M. F. Goodwin.

CAMBRIDGE'S WIN TRIUMPH OF STYLE

English Critic Declares Victory Was Due to Systematic Coaching.

The result of the recent Harvard-Cambridge boat race on the Thames was a distinct triumph for the English style of rowing, says the London Field, in commenting on the race. Cambridge, with their long and lively stroke and smart grip of the water, completely outpaced Harvard from start to finish, it declares. It continues:

"The sculling stroke which had been taught Harvard by James Wray, the Australian professional sculler, was of no avail when the crew rowed anything more than 32 to the minute. When they exceeded this number they went slower instead of faster. Nor have they mastered the art of rowing themselves out as the English crews do, and still keep going.

"Neither in the practice nor the race did they do so. As long as they could go at their own pace they could, under the exceptionally favorable conditions they met with, do fast time, but they never showed any real pace, and when they were forced out of theirs, the result was disastrous.

"Under no circumstances did their boat travel well, and run between the strokes as did that of Cambridge. This may, to some extent, have been due to her being only 60 feet long instead of 63 feet of the Cantabs' one, the extra three feet no doubt giving more buoyancy, but on the other hand the swivel rowlocks which the Harvards used should have given them some advantage. The quickness with which they got their hands away was excellent, and they drove hard with their legs, having more body swing than other American crews have had, but they did not quite get their shoulders back. As a rule, their bodies were very even, and gave the impression that they were well together, but this was scarcely so, as the blades were often very irregular.

"Cambridge, on the other hand, were remarkably even with their blades, and fairly quick and steady with their swing, also driving well with the legs. S. D. Muttlebury and F. J. Escombe, their coaches, are to be congratulated on the good condition in which they brought the crew to the start, Owing to some of the men having had an excessive amount of rowing for many months past, while others had done much less, the coaches had a difficult task. It seems impossible, however, for D. C. R. Stuart to do too much, as he never stroked better, and the two of the crew who did not row against Oxford in the race this spring, did exceedingly well, especially H. G. Baynes, who is one of the best heavyweights that has been seen for years.

INTERNATIONAL BALLOON RACE.

Berlin, Oct. 8.—Emperor William has offered a prize for an international balloon race, to take place Oct. 14. In a race between balloons and automobiles next Wednesday, Prince Ernest von Saxe-Altenburg, Duke Adolf Friedrich of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, and Prince Henry of Prussia will take part as automobilists. There will be four balloons in the race, and each will be followed by three automobiles. If an automobile reaches a balloon within 20 minutes after the balloon lands, the automobile will be the winner.

How to Reform the Boxing Game

Portland, Maine, Oct. 8.—For many months various people have been figuring on how the boxing game might be reformed. Rev. C. H. Priddy of the Congress Street Methodist Episcopal Church has worked out what he thinks is the right plan. He suggests limiting bouts to three or four rounds, and eliminating decision fights, and would even allow six-round bouts, but no fights for a decision. He would have no boxer allowed to compete unless he has undergone a rigid examination by a competent physician. He would exclude smoking from all boxing clubs or require the installation of first-class ventilating apparatus, as no boxer can do good work in an atmosphere reeking with tobacco smoke.

All boxers addicted to any drug should be barred from the ring, and proper officials should be employed who have moral courage to stop a fight when the danger point is reached. With these things enforced he thinks that boxing could be made one of the pastimes.

NEITHER COULD LOWER RECORD

Sweet Marie and Dan Patch Went Against Mark at Lexington Yesterday.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 8.—Lillian R., owned by David Shaw, of Pittsburg, won the Johnston stake for 2:24 class trotters today at the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association from a field of brilliant 2:10 trotters.

The game Lillian R., although lame from her hard campaign on the Grand Circuit, won in successive heats after losing the first heat to Sister Collette, full sister to Charlie Herr. Brilliant Girl, favorite in the race, was distanced in the first heat.

Early in the afternoon it was decided not to start Sweet Marie and San Patch against their records, owing to the strong wind. Later, however, they were brought out to go an exhibition mile. The wind was still blowing strongly and both failed to break their previous records. Sweet Marie has a mark of 2:02, and finished the mile this afternoon in 2:03¾.

Dan Patch went the mile in 1:58, three seconds slower than his record.

The last of the estates of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, which have been in the Irish land courts since his death, has been disposed of by the sale of houses situated in St. Stephen's Green, Dublin. The Avondale house and demesne, the home of Mr. Parnell, are now the property of the Government, and are used as a school of forestry by the Irish department of agriculture.

SOME PERSONS have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed, no further trouble will be experienced.

Excel in Every Department Save Ability to Get Many Runs from Few Hits.

The latest dope on the Cubs and White Sox shows that the National Leaguers have it on the American League pennant winners, says the Cleveland News.

The figures include games up to Tuesday last.

The dope shows that the Cubs have the advantage in almost every department of play except the ability to get as many runs per hit as Comiskey's team—and no team on earth can equal them in this respect.

The Sox haven't a single regular hitting over .300, while only three of their veterans are over .250.

On the other hand the majority of the Cubs are batting at a higher rate than the .250 mark.

From the slab record it would seem that Doc White will be the man to face Minor Brown—although Walsh has won most of his games in the last two months of play, as he drew a bad start before July set in.

The White Sox, according to the figures, have done very little batting all season, with very few long hits. Their record of sacrifice hits and stolen bases, however, shows the best kind of hustling "inside play." The fielding records are of high degree, as are the figures of the pitchers.

The records of the two Chicago clubs show few points of similarity excepting in good fielding and speed on the bases. The Cubs were infinitely the heavier batting club—in team records, individual work and long hits. On the face of the figures it can be seen how easily the Cubs marched to the flag and how desperately the Sox had to fight their way.

The Cubs' records are fat and juicy with hits and stolen bases. The figures:

FLANNIGAN TO TRY TO BREAK RECORD

New York, Oct. 7.—"I'll make one more effort to break down my own record with the 56-pound weight and the 16-pound hammer at the autumn games of tre Irish-American Athletic Club at Celtic Park next Sunday week, then I will take it easy, and give the other lads a chance," said John Flannigan yesterday.

The retirement of Flannigan will be felt in amateur athletic circles, as he has been a star performer for several years.

"I believe there is a limit to the possibilities of the human frame," said Flannigan, 'and, although I thought several years ago I had reached my limit, I was able to throw the weight and the hammer further and further until I reached the present mark. But in the meantime I was getting into the full prime of manhood. I realize that I will soon pass the point at which a man is at his best physically and I want to quit when I set a mark that will keep the young fellows busy trying to reach it for years to come."

He has for many years been the world's champion weight thrower. In the hammer throw he has a record of 172 feet 11 inches. He also holds the record in the 56-pound weight.

IRON SIDES WON HANDICAP BY A HEAD

New York, Oct. 8.—Iron Sides at 1 to 2, won the Jerome handicap for 3-year-olds, 1 5-16 miles at Belmont Park today, and in winning, the Meddler colt equaled the world's record for the distance, by stepping it in 2:10 3-5, Bedouin won the stake in the same time last year. Good Luck, the favorite, was second and Running Water third.

Iron Sides broke in front and Radtke sent him into the lead. At the end of the first half mile he was in front by two lengths and continued with this advantage to the stretch. Here Williams, on Good Luck, began to close, and coming very strong, soon was on even terms with the leader, but Williams stopped riding. Good Luck and Radtke put Iron Sides under a hard drive and won by a head.

In the colt's half of the $10,000 Matron stakes, 6 furlongs, straightaway, Ballot, the 9 to 20 favorite, scored an easy victory. He took command early and won by one and a half lengths. Adoration, well backed at about fives, won the fillies' half of the Matron. She ran second to the favorite, Pope Joan, to the final quarter when she drew away and won by two lengths.

One of the first settlements in Ohio was made by colonists who had no idea of overworking their muscles in the wilderness. The French dupes of an unscrupulous land company who founded Gallipolis, on the Ohio River, came to America exacting impossibilities, and they carried much of the gaiety of Paris into the forest.
