JEWISH NEW YEAR

High Holidays Begin at Sundown on September 27

Sundown Wednesday, September 27, the first day of the Jewish month Tishri, will mark the beginning of the Jewish High Holidays. These holidays of deep religious significance, will commence with the feast of Rosh Hashanah, or New Year. The New Year will be followed by ten days of Penitence, which reach their climax in the Day of Atonement, October 1.

"On the New Year all the inhabitants of the earth pass before Him as sheep before a shepherd." In these words the ancient Jewish law book, the Mishna, refers to the significance of this day. It is a day of judgment when the sins and the merits of all men are weighed by the Divine Judge. The Talmud tells that in this annual new year judgment scene three books lie open before the Most High. In one book, the Book of Life, the names of the perfectly righteous, the sinless, are inscribed; the second book, the book of death, has recorded in it the names of the utterly wicked; and the third book is for the ordinary "middle type" of men, in whose behalf judgment is suspended through the ten days of penitence, until the day of atonement when the decision is finally made and recorded.

The services for the day are especially solemn. Prayers in prose and poetry, dwelling upon the theme of God's judgment of man, are recited and sung. The feast of the "Shofar" summoning men to prayer and repentance, is sounded in all synagogues. At the close of the service the worshippers greet each other with the words "May you be written down for a good year."

Orthodox Jews observe many ceremonies which suggest the ideas and emotions of the day. In the home honey and fruits are eaten and the pious wish expressed "May it be Thy will to renew to us a good and sweet year." During the day orthodox Jews will go to a river, shake crumbs from their clothes and recite among other prayers the verse from Micah, "and you will cast into the depths of the sea all their sins." While orthodox Jews observe the feast for two days, September 27 and 28 this year, reform Jews return to the ancient Palestinian custom and observe but one day.

Addressing the adult Bible classes of Bathurst Methodist church, Toronto, James Hales, chairman of the executive of the Committee of One Hundred, expressed the belief that Ontario would never repeal the prohibitory law. He concluded that some day the law would forbid the presence of liquor in the homes. The federal authorities were prepared to stop the importation of liquor as soon as the province was ready to make it illegal for the citizens to have liquor on their premises. Premier Haultain deserved much credit and support for his courageous and patriotic action.

Assistant of old lady who has handed in a badly spelled telegram—"What's this word, please?"
Old Lady—"Never mind that, miss; it's none of your business. They'll know at the other end."

A Money-Saving Bottle
A Bottle of Bovril in the kitchen will cut down a butcher's bill. It enormously increases the nourishing value of food—in fact, its body-building powers have been proved ten to twenty times the amount taken. It must be Bovril.
