Inspiring Exhortation Given by Rev. Hugh Miller; Chaplain

SOCIETY MEMBERS WALK TO ST. DAVID'S

Special Music-Society Expresses Thanks to Pastor. Session and Choir

Preaching from the text Exodus 3:3: "And Moses said unto the people, remember this day," Rev. Hugh Miller, chaplain of the society delivered a stirring exhortation to the members of St. Andrew's Society at their annual church service observance of St. Andrew's festival, held yesterday morning in St. David's church. Between fifty and sixty of the members of the society, headed by their pipers, playing Scottish airs, marched from their rooms in Germain street and took part in the service which was deeply inspirational. There was a arge congregation present. Specially arge congregation present. Specially chosen musical numbers were very beautifully rendered by the choir and the special soloist was A. C. Smith. who sang with much feeling "The Land o' the Leal." The flag of Scotland and the Scottish ensign were hung behind the pulpit and on it Mr. Miller's insigna as chaplain was placed. The

Harold W. Rising, president of St. George's Society, marched in the procession, accompanying A. R. Mekrose, president of St. Andrew's Society. Mr. Miller spoke of his pleasure in welcoming St. Andrew's Society and the representative of the sister organization in his dual capacity as minister of the church and chaplain of St. Andrew's Society. He welcomed them because of the honored names of a fertile past. I wonder if we are althey be taken as fruition in the soul. When the soul is lacking the people perish. The soul of a nation is expressed in the lives of its sons and daughters. The outstanding features of that expression were:

First, it is God fearing. This is noticed in its literature, education and practical life. Its national patron is a saint. The founders of one of its greatest cities were not ashamed to adopt as its motto, "Let Glasgow flourthey bore and because of the great ways just in interpreting the past, value of the soul.
