WATER ON AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON

City Heights in Bad Way Since Sunday Morning Succession of Breaks in the Mains Made Busy Time for the City Department Workers—Repairs Finally Completed This Morning.

Owing to three bad breaks in the water mains leading from Lake L'Amore to the city, which occurred over the weekend, citizens on heights throughout the city were without water much of the time from early Sunday morning until this afternoon. The first break occurred on Saturday in No. 3 main between the city and the One Mile House. This was repaired after considerable difficulty and on Sunday morning at 2:15 o'clock another break occurred in No. 2 main in McDonald's field, which is situated between Fernald and the One Mile House. The side of one of the joints was blown out and the water had to be shut off this main in order that repairs could be effected. The men had just completed making repairs to this main when another break occurred last night about 9:30 o'clock in the same pipe on Silver Falls hill. When the men uncovered the pipe they found a four or five foot section blown out. A new joint was installed and it was then found that the new section had a bad break in it and had to be removed. The work was completed this morning about ten o'clock, but as time and about ten feet of the pipe, the pressure was not felt in the city until this afternoon. Commissioner Wigmore and his staff of men worked incessantly from 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning until this afternoon. The Commissioner arranged to have food sent out to the men and they continued working until complete repairs had been made. Commissioner Wigmore said that No. 2 main is sixty-five year old, and this might explain why the breaks occurred.

Serious Time In Near East as Conference Date Is Postponed

London Anxious Over the Question of Maintaining Peace People in Constantinople are Alarmed and Allied Troops in Position of Danger—Feeling That Allied Representatives Must Agree on Common Policy Before Going to Conference.

(Canadian Press Cable) London, Nov. 13.—The Lausanne conference has been postponed to Nov. 20, and the question most urgently asked here is whether it will be possible to maintain peace in Constantinople in the interim. Restoration of communications had revealed such an ugly situation there that it is evident the utmost tact and skill will be necessary to prevent violent outbreaks. All reports here concur in saying that the extremists are dominating the Angora government, which, through its agents in Constantinople, is following the policy of defiance toward the Allies and terrorism among the local population. Residents of Constantinople are described as being extremely alarmed, while the position of the allied troops is represented as one which soon may become untenable. Complete agreement among the Allies and a display of unity in the nature of granting full authority to their commanders in Constantinople until complete repairs had been made. Commissioner Wigmore said that No. 2 main is sixty-five year old, and this might explain why the breaks occurred.

MISS MAGSWINEY NOW IS THE ONLY HUNGER STRIKER

Companion is Released—De Valera Message Urging the Republic.

Dublin, Nov. 13.—Miss MacSwiney is the only prisoner in Mount Joy on a hunger strike. Mrs. O'Killy, who was arrested with Miss MacSwiney and who broke her hunger strike on Saturday, was released from the prison yesterday. Dublin, Nov. 13.—The Republican Daily Bulletin gives the text of a message from Eamon de Valera to a convention of Irish in Scotland, held in Glasgow on Saturday, in which de Valera discusses events in Ireland since the signing of the Anglo-Irish treaty. He says: "Those who look for peace and order now understand that these are impossible on the treaty basis and that their hopes of a stable government are built on sand." He characterizes as a foolish dream the idea that it would be possible to build a prosperous Irish state on any other basis than recognition of the independence of the Irish nation and declares it better to face the inevitable now, seeing that it must otherwise be faced later, when the position may be less clear. "We have declared our independence," he continues, "Let us not un- say it. We have set up our republic and it still exists legally and constitutionally. Let us not destroy it and then seek afterwards to rebuild it."

Great Toll In Lives And Property by Quake And Monster Tidal Wave

Thousands Lives Believed to Have Been Lost in Chile Millions the Measure of the Destruction of Property—Giant Waves Beat One City Almost Flat—People Flee to Hills for Safety.

(Canadian Press) Santiago, Nov. 13.—Thousands were made homeless by earthquakes throughout Chile early on Saturday morning and by flooding waves which followed the shocks. Relief forces were being mobilized today. The death toll probably be at least 1,000, it is estimated, and the property loss will run into millions, as several towns were almost entirely wiped out and heavy damage to buildings and communication lines and particularly to ships along the 1,400 miles of coast affected by the huge waves has resulted from the violent upheavals of nature. Many communication lines, both over land and under water, were put out of operation. Five hundred persons were reported killed at Valparaiso and in the districts surrounding that city. At Coquimbo at least 100 are known to be dead. The damage from the succession of earth shocks which filled the population with terror, was heaviest in the northern provinces of Antofagasta, Atacama and Coquimbo. All along the coast little ships and big ships were swept on shore, pounded against the rocks or left high and dry. At many small ports wharves were destroyed. Today naval ships were steaming up and down the coast, stopping at various places to send landing parties to the relief of sufferers. Tremendous Waves. The tidal waves which followed the earthquakes indicated gigantic disturbance beneath the Pacific. The waters first were drawn away from shores, far below tide mark, and then came rushing back in a great wave which some observers said was fifty metres in height. At Antofagasta this frightful movement of the sea was repeated five times, until the city was battered almost to ruins and the entire population fled to the hills. The tremors were so severe that some of the seismographs were put out of operation. The total duration of the shocks was three hours and forty minutes, and the estimated radius 1,200 kilometers in a direction transversal to the Andes. The meteorological institute announced that the earth shock coincided with the passage of a sun spot over the central meridian of the solar body. The sun spot made its appearance on Nov. 5, and was the largest observed this year.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, the editor sent for me today. "I'm surprised," said Hiram, "I was wondering if he ever seen the stuff you put in the paper. 'He wanted me to write an editorial,' said the reporter loftily. 'I'm surprised at that, neither,'" said Hiram.
