PEACOCK CLOTHES FOR MEN ARE SHOWN

Gay Colored Waistcoats, Billowy Ties and Ruffled Shirts at Haberdashers' League Banquet

(New York Herald) Do you possess a dinner waistcoat the hue of which is less assertive than yellow or purple? If so, and you happen to be one of those who strive to be in the front rank, as far as advanced fashions are concerned, cast it into the discard.

Examples of the new departures in sartorial art were exhibited at the annual banquet of the Haberdashers' League, held last night at the Waldorf-Astoria. Oscar and his staff of waiters stared aghast at the bewildering blaze which met their eyes.

And while on the subject it might be well to mention that the neighborhood of Bond street, London, is no longer responsible for the latest wrinkles in men's dress. Paris is now slipping into the lead. The French metropolis is responsible for the all trouser leg and the exaggerated form of waistcoats which the tailors, in convention at Baltimore last week, said the best dressed men in America would be wearing in the coming spring.

George Heller, who has just returned from abroad, said as much at the banquet. He brought back several examples of the new styles, and was among the first to place them on the American market. He wore some of the new colors last night, while his friend, Samuel Bachrach, electrified the assemblage with a new style in dress shirt.

Mr. Bachrach's shirt, next to the new styles in waistcoats and ties, caused the most excitement among the waiters. It possessed two rows of fancy ruffles, something after the style of the fichu worn by Beau Brummel. Mr. Heller disclaimed having seen anything comparing with this particular shirt during his sojourn in Paris.

"I am positive that within the next two years the conventional waistcoat in black or white which we wear at the present day, will be taboo," said Mr. Heller.

He said, however, that it would take time to accustom the American mind to the vivid hues prevailing in waistcoats abroad.

"Let the ladies begin wearing those pink, green and purple waists which in Paris and I am sure the men will lose no time in adopting the new waistcoats," Mr. Heller added.

The new ties are a shade less subdued than the waistcoats. What they lack in color is amply made for in breadth. Instead of the small strips of fabric which now hide the front collar button, the new example will extend beyond the coat lapels and end in a long, slanting point.

It may be some years before Oshkosh, South Bend and Kalamazoo are permitted to buy these new gay garments, but concern has already been booked by leading New York haberdashers, said Heller. He said he believes the average man will welcome the "brighter colors" and that they will be generally adopted as soon as they get up enough nerve to wear them and set the pace.

Stamina in Men And How To Possess It (From "Man's Maladies.") A prominent physician being asked the question "What are the things in life a man needs most?" answered: "Physical health, strong nerves, mental efficiency, money and social success."

Men need stamina, courage, staying qualities, endurance and perseverance but in order to have these qualities the nerves must be strong and keenly sensitive to every emotion.

When a man has foreboding sensations of fear, timidity, accompanied with such symptoms as trembling hands and limbs, weak voice, nervousness, sleeplessness, numbness, dizziness, heart palpitation, restlessness, forgetfulness, melancholia, weariness without cause, and many others of a similar nature, it cannot be expected that he will be successful financially, socially or otherwise.

Strong Nerve Magnesium comes only to those whose nerves are properly nourished in a sound body. Nature in her wisdom has supplied certain extracts, essences, etc., which, if properly blended, will restore a normal keenness to the nerves.

For the benefit of those temporarily deficient in nerve strength the following ingredients can be obtained of any good druggist and prepared in the privacy of home. Purchase three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound in a six ounce bottle. Add one ounce of compound fluid balmwort, shake and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamom) and one ounce compound essence cardiol. Mix. Shake well and take a teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring. All distressing symptoms will soon vanish and a complete restoration to normal follows.

SEES GOOD BUSINESS YEAR AHEAD IN INDIA

London, Feb. 13.—Henry Dunster Baker, United States Consul at Bombay, has arrived in London for a few days. He has an optimistic view of financial conditions in Bombay for the coming year, though he said the recent native bank failures undoubtedly started increased hoarding among the natives. There probably would be no wheat crop, but a good cotton crop.

Cashier Shot, Ends Life. Haleshurst, Ga., Feb. 13.—Police men who went to the home of C. F. Armstrong here to arrest him for an alleged shortage of $12,000 in his accounts as cashier of the Farmers' State Bank, found him dying with a bullet in his head. The cashier had until three o'clock to make good the shortage, and he shot himself just at that time. He died in the night. The dead cashier's son, W. O. Armstrong, is now in jail at Reids, Ga., charged with being short in his accounts as cashier of the bank of Reids.

THE DELICACY OF BABY'S SKIN

Cold Air, Rough Winds, Strong Soaps Often Bring on Chronic Eczema.

More beautiful than the rose is baby's skin when in health, and so delicate that it is susceptible to anything which irritates. For this reason baby's skin troubles are many, and frequently chronic itching eczema is developed.

Nothing can be better for baby's skin, when irritated, than Dr. Chase's Ointment, and when eczema is developed you can apply this preparation with the knowledge that it is a wonderful record as to how the skin is due to the success it has proven in the cure of eczema.

The intense itching of eczema of the face and scalp is very hard for the little one to bear, and is a source of worry and anxiety to the mother. The itching parts are scratched, and nasty and colored scars are formed. Eczema eventually becomes chronic and spreads over the body.

You can positively control eczema and cure it by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. What is better still is to use this ointment for all chafing and irritation of the skin and prevent eczema from getting started.
