It was also said that the same thing occurred every year at the Corpus Christi processions in the same city. On this point the

The Sixty-fifth Regiment on that day paraded to the number of about five hundred, and the men were side arms and carried rifles, and the officers carried swords. The Repository was taken to the steps of the local University and there the Sixty-fifth presented arms as the Host was elevated. Now this is the second time that this has happened under the rule.

**Mr. F. B. Carvell charges that the Valley Railway as constructed between Fredericton and Centreville is a good deal more like a trolley line than a section of a Transcontinental Railway. This is a serious charge, but it is very evident that the Valley Railway of the Conservatives is not the Valley Railway. Woman — Ah, me! My husband fought in this battle. "I see. And he was killed?" "No, he lived and I married him."—New York Weekly. elevated. Now this is the second time that this has happened under the rule of Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, Minister of Militia, although he has only to say the word and have it stopped. If the Orange protest against the use of troops at the Eucharistic Congress was sincere, that same protest should still be made. Either what happened at Montreal on May 25th last was perfectly proper—in which case what happened

Montreal on May 25th last was perfectly proper—in which case what happened at the Eucharistic Congress was also perfectly proper, — or what we have above described was improper, and in that case it should be stopped at once. We are aware that the troops in Toronto go to church together and no principle is violated. That, however, is very different from their acting as an escort and presenting arms to the Host. However, if Colonel Hughes says that their is all right, we shall have to accept his ruling. In that case, however, the protest against the Eucharistic Congress was improperly made, and the

It would be unfortunate if an order which claims to be entirely non-political should assume a partisan attitude, since it would only add greater bitterness to the political controversies of the time, and would introduce an element of religious strife which could only be deplored by every citizen who really has at heart the welfare of his country.

THERE IS MONEY IN IT

It is good news that the provincial department of agriculture is ready to lend its aid in urging more general attention to the cultivation of alfalfa in New Brunswick. The interest which Mr. H. G. Sears has shown in the question has had a good effect. Much has been said and written on the subject, and actual experiments have been made showing that alfalfa can be cultivated successfully in this province; but not the content of the content of the cultivated successfully in this province; but not the content of the content of the cultivated successfully in this province; but not the content of the cultivated successfully in this province; but not the content of the cultivated successfully in this province; but not the content of the content of the city yesterday on a tour of inspection.
