

Trick Powder Puffs In Carnival of Color

SET your imagination going—you are about to hear of dozens of new stunts in Powder Puffs.

It seems a shame to skip over the color scheming, but first must be told the bare outline. Powder Puffs on long tinted sticks (of course you know how to use them) — Powder Puffs in every sort of dainty hanky—to hang from the wrist like the equally new Powder Puffs hidden in little figured Satin Bags, tasselled and all able to take in rouge and lipstick. Powder Puffs hung openly by a Silk cord and rosetted in all sorts of trims.

As Bridge Prizes—as Masque Ball Prizes—as novel dancing ornamentation. Here is a time to be first in fashion—and the prices start at just 50c.

From England, all of them. Silks, Satins, Organdies. The hankies are butterflyed, blossomed, every sprightly shape—even in Silk Lace. The Bags, too, run to riot of color—ravishing!

The publisher announces that 12,000 changes appear in the new volume, which contains 21,950 names, a decrease of 1,100 from last year's total. Multiplying the total by three gives the estimated population of the city as 65,850.

The family are very deeply touched by this proof of regard for him who is gone.

A fresh number of searchers went to Pandemic this morning from the city and the numbers of those working seems to be as large as ever in spite of the apparently hopeless nature of their quest. Careful attention has been paid to the river, but the woods have been penetrated for some distance in a thorough way. There has been absolutely no trace discovered.
