Urges a White B. C. as Means of Protection in Troublous Times

(From Monday's Daily.)

The veterans, Daughters of the Empire, and patriotic societies had places reserved for them, and on the platform were the commanders of the Rainbow and Shearwater, and men from the various vessels at Esquimalt and the garrison forces. The famous signal of Trafalgar was suspended from the gallery, and Nelson's favorite signal, the red and white flag of closer action, was conspicuous feature. The shields of the various Canadian provinces were hung round the balconies, while a detachment of the Boy Scouts acted as ushers. Between the speeches songs of a patriotic character were rendered by A. A. Codd, George Phillips, and Hubert Galt. Miss Eugenie Fox recited 'Admirals All' in the splendid manner associated with her recitations. Capt. Phillipps-Wolley presided, and among those present were Premier Mc-Bride, Commanders Vivian and Walter Hose, Dean Doull of Columbia, W. E. Oliver, G. H. Barnard, M.P.; Senator Macdonald, H. B. Thomson, M.P.P.: Hon. C. E. Pooley, Hon. E. G. Prior, Alderman Langley, Major Wilson, president, and Capt. De Salis, secretary of the British Campaigners; H.
