COWICHAN RIVER IS IN NO DANGER

The Dominion Government Has Taken Precautions By Which it Will Be Improved for Sportsmen.

(From Friday's Daily.) has been granted by the Dominion government to the Capital Canning Com-

The government, as has been announced previously in the Times, took every precaution to not only protect the river fishing for the sportsmen, but to increase its value from that standpoint.

A most important feature of the lease is that it requires the lessees to build immediately and operate a large salmon hatchery, of not less than ten millions capacity. The Cowichan river should in the future far surpass its former record for abundant sport under should in the future far surpass its former record for abundant sport under such conditions as the lease provides.

The hatchery is directly under Dominion supervision, some of its officials may, indeed, devote part of their time to alding its operation, as the eggs of steel-heads, spring salmon and the finer species of sea trout and river trout will be hatched in it, though the leases will also hatch coppes dogsal-

The netting to be carried on will not interfere with spring salmon, steel-heads and trout, as no spring salmon are to be taken before July 1st, and steel-heads are not to be taken at any time, both these fish if accidently taken are to be liberated alive. Small salmon and the fine gamey trout of the Cowichan will pass through the large splendid object lesson, it supports a meshes of the nets permitted under the licenses which the lessees are required to take out.
