North Star Crew Easy Winners, Finishing Several Lengths Ahead of Their Competitrrs--Rain Marred Pleasure of Sports, But a Large Crow | Turned Out--Slow Time Made.

HALIFAX, July 29—In a heavy down pour of rain Lorne Amateur Aquatic Club held their annual regatta on the harbor Saturday afternoon. The weather conditions did not dampen the ardor of thousands of followers of acquatics, as the wharves and banks along the course were lined with people who stood out four hours in the rain to watch the sport. There were many who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who thought that the club should have regated any who there are the course to the course the struck their opponents of three, small flat. and that was in keeping boats off the course. One of the chief events of the day was the single scull senior in which John Cheil, of St. Marys, defeated William Duggan, of St. Josephs, the champion, by several lengths in 10.36. The now famous North Star crew easily upheld their reputation by carrying off the four oared shell race in magnificent style, with the Lornes crew second. The water was rather choppy for the fine boats and not quite to the liking of many of the oarsmen. Still all of them came to the line and no complaints were made.

The senior four-oared shell was the big event of the day. It was after itx o'clock when the crew's lined up as follows: North Stars, Lornes, N. W. A. R. Club, St. Josephs, St. Marys, Eeavers.

The North Star crew were the favorites in bettling. The choice for sec-ond place between Lornes and St. Marys spile as good chance for second or better.

Arm four thought that their crew had a good chance for second or better. The St. John crew also figured in the whistles tooted and applause was kept betting, but none of the Halifax followers of the sport felt that the visitors could measure blades with the North Star crew. There was one thing the visitors did demonstrate to the local crews, and that was that they can get away from the line in quick time. With the crack of the gun the Beavers struck the water and at a terrific clip they were speeding down the course in the lead.
