WOMAN SOCIOLOGIST WRITES

A BOOK ON "HOMELESS MEN"

For a woman to wrestle with the tramp problem, to collect and analyze accurate data on the homeless men is a new phase of the sex's sociological activity. This has been done by Mrs. Edwin D. Solenberger, of this city, who has written a book on "Homeless Men."

Mrs. Solenberger is the wife of Edwin Solenberger, secretary of the Children's Aid Society. She has a reputation as a social worker in Chicago, where for four years she was superintendent of the central district of the Chicago Bureau of Charity. Her book, which has been written as a contribution to the Russell Sage foundation series of sociological research volumes, and which will be published in the fall, deals with the class-race, every example she cites is taken from the seamy side of life, with which she came in contact in her Chicago work.

It deals with the homeless man problem in Chicago, which is the result of the American for vagrants, and where there are 50,000 men drifting about the streets, occupying park benches, temporary cheap lodgings at night, living alone and unattached to any human being. The author of "Homeless Men" takes 1000 members of this army of the under-world, tabulates their life histories in record form, gives the steps and effects of each man's downward course and presents it, not as a sentimental study of types but as a conclusive evidence of facts which must be met and overcome.

The most startling and appalling feature of the book is the chapter dealing with the former lives and occupations of these men, chosen from among 1000 who came under the author's personal investigation.

PHYSICIAN AND BANKER

NOMADS.

Why do physicians with established reputations and practices join the great army of tramps and wanderers? What evil influence or streak of fate can bring the former Mayor of a city down to the level of a 40-cent lodging house?

Why should professional men—even bankers—take to the nomad life of the streets?

These are questions which the statistics and records of Mrs. Solenberger's book will leave open for national solution.

Among the 1000 subjects of investigation, she says that there are sixty-four professional men, most of them physicians. Twenty-eight of the entire 1000 were business men, among them a former Mayor and a banker. Two hundred and eighty were plain ordinary tramps, peddlers, and loafers.

One hundred and forty were chronic bachelors, who found their professional lucrative. Eighty were degenerate sons of good families.

In a class by themselves—a class which has sprung up since the Spanish-American war, and the climatic of the troops in the Philippines—are soldiers whom service seems to have unfitted for ordinary life. Sixty of the 1000 had worn United States uniforms. These men, the investigator finds, spend most of their time wandering from one soldier's home to another, and by the inmates are politely termed "tourists."

A well molded face, neck and arms are most desirable in a woman.

SANITOL FACE CREAM

The Oxygen Face Cream

Is the newest skin food and skin nourisher, which because of its unique antiseptic and oxidizing properties works with nature in struggling and building up all inactive flesh tissues.

The cause of thinness is that the skin pores are not properly nourished. Most skin preparations varnish over the skin surface, preventing healthy pore action. Sanitol Face Cream nourishes and beautifies.

No grease. Absorbs instantly. Will not promote the growth of hair.

WHEN THE UNITED EMPIRE ROYALISTS WENT HUNGRY

Three Years After the Pioneers Settled Down in Upper Canada

There Was a Lean Year.

A few days ago when, although May had come, the sun refused to shine, and the snow failed to stay away, for the sake of something to talk about, the editor of the Star was reminded of the conditions of the United Empire Loyalists when they first came to the new world. It was a lean year, and the conditions were not much better than those of the pioneers who had just settled down in Upper Canada.

In the year 1784, the United Empire Loyalists, who had fled from the United States, came to the new world. They were a hardy and brave people, and they were determined to make a home for themselves in the new world. They were a lean year, and the conditions were not much better than those of the pioneers who had just settled down in Upper Canada.

Those who were well settled along the banks of the Niagara, the St. Lawrence, and the Ottawa, were a lean year, and the conditions were not much better than those of the pioneers who had just settled down in Upper Canada.

RESTIGOUCHE VILLAGE LAID WASTE BY FIRE

The Inhabitants Flee for Their Lives

Fires Throughout the Province Completely Beyond Control—Now Cover Immense Areas.

Destroying extensive timber areas and threatening a number of villages, the fire yesterday continued its mad rush toward Restigouche. It was again calm in a large number of districts, but it failed to fall.

The situation around Harland yesterday was about the same. They are raging fiercely, with no abatement. From Main street to Windsor the fire travelled, leaving a blackened pathway one mile wide and four miles long.

In that vicinity upwards of 250 men have been at work since daybreak yesterday morning. It was again calm in a large number of districts, but it failed to fall.

From Windsor a call has been sent out for 100 men to relieve those who have been working for the past 24 hours.

Fires started yesterday at Spruce Lake and latest news reports most devastating conditions. It is alleged that the flames started from a small brush fire on a wooded hillside.

On 20 men spent all day yesterday fighting the flames, with little result. The fire is in no immediate danger so long as the wind stays in the southwest, but should it shift to the north nothing would save the buildings.

There was a bad fire around Bon Loup yesterday morning, but through the efforts of the fire warden and others the flames were got under control and finally put out.

Residents of Westfield and Ononette are almost suffocated by the smoke from the fires along the river in that district, and last night the flames had advanced to within a mile of many homes.

CHATHAM, N. B., June 11.—Reports of fires in this county and in Kent, as stated in today's Star, are amply verified today, and tonight conditions have become much worse.

The Bay Du Vin bridge on the main highway from Chatham to Richibucto, is completely destroyed, and it is impossible in many places on account of fires being on both sides.

In the vicinity of Bay Du Vin and near the mouth of the St. John, the flames are raging. Reports show destruction of forest and settlements.

Messages received today state that the houses owned by Jack Quinn and Matthew Ridley, near Bay Du Vin, have been wiped out by the flames.

Styren last night burned with produce near Bay Du Vin bridge. Mr. Flynn was in town today. Mr. Flynn was in town today. Mr. Flynn was in town today.

Whalen of Chatham is reported to be a heavy loser by fire. On Saturday he completed a deal with the owner of land in the burned district, getting the right to take the burned land and paying $200 for the privilege.

smoke came in so thickly that it seemed as though a violent storm was pending. The sky was overcast and darkness settled down so thickly that electric light current had to be put on early to supply stores with light.

WOODSTOCK, June 11.—The parlours of Wilmet, Richmond and Northampton are practically free from forest fires. Small bush fires in these parlours within the last fortnight were quickly extinguished and comparatively little damage was done.

On the Ottawa side of the line some $40,000 worth of damage from Tapley Mills up to within a few miles from the town of Woodstock, near the boundary between York and Carleton counties, John Clark's house was burned last night.

ST. STEPHEN, June 11.—Careful inquiries made here this evening confirm previous reports that all forest fires on this side of the line are out after inflicting damages estimated at $10,000.

On the Ottawa side of the line they are still raging and have done damage estimated at $50,000. CAMBELLTON, N. B., June 11.—Refugees from along the Intercolonial railway who arrived here this evening told a tale of hardship and suffering seldom heard in a settled country.

After a week of fighting fires and when the danger was considered past, a fire broke out in the town of Woodstock, and it was not until the flames were under control that the danger was considered past.

CATERPILLERS HOLD UP C. P. R. FREIGHT TRAIN

Track Covered for Nearly Two Miles West of Fredericton Junction—Had to Stop.

Shovel insects.

Word was brought to the city last night that the C. P. R. freight train which left here last night for Montreal was stalled for some time about ten miles west of Fredericton Junction by caterpillars.

The insects were about an inch long, furry in appearance. The train crew had to attack them with shovels to clear the rails sufficiently to allow the train to proceed. The report was that the track was covered for fully a mile and a half.

IT PAYS TO GUARD YOUR STOMACH.

If you neglect your stomach, sooner or later you must suffer. If you allow your stomach to grow weak, you will pay for it in pain and misery. A healthy stomach says you will for any care you give it. It is your best guarantee of general health, strength, continuous and complete.

When your stomach works perfectly, your food produces rich, beautiful blood, flows steadily to all parts of your body and nourishes your whole system. When your stomach fails and is weak, your food cannot be properly digested; it is undigested mass turns sour in the stomach and gives off the poisonous acids which pollute or poison your blood. You suffer severe pains in the chest, biliousness, headaches and indigestion; it often causes rheumatism, neuralgia or nervous prostration, or a victim may feel continually run down, irritable and irritable. Remember that one out of ten human ailments are due to indigestion alone, and you will then realize how greatly your health depends upon your stomach.

It is just as easy to realize why Mother's Syrup cures indigestion. Mother's Syrup contains the medicinal extracts of certain leaves, roots, and barks, which possess remarkable properties as a rest to the stomach and liver, and it acts directly upon the stomach and liver, and then upon the entire system, and may be depended upon to keep them in working order.

Mr. Joseph Beattie, Versailles P.O., writes (January 20th, 1909): "I had pains after eating, constipation, headaches, and at times, indigestion. For two years I was a victim of severe indigestion, but two bottles of Mother's Syrup restored me to good health."

STOCK BROKER ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF LARGENCY

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 11.—Jas. M. Cotton, a stock broker of this city, who suspended business last July for owing an assignment for the benefit of creditors, was arrested at his home in Somerset today, upon a bench warrant which followed a secret indictment returned yesterday by the Bristol County grand jury at New Bedford.

Cotton is charged with the larceny of $11,000 from Dr. John W. Coughlan, of this city, a Democratic state committee-man. Dr. Coughlan at the present time has a civil suit pending against Cotton for the recovery of money alleged to have been lost as a customer of the broker and several other persons have also preferred civil suits against him.

Cotton furnished cash bail in $5,000 tonight and will appear at the county court house in New Bedford on Monday to answer to the charges. The offices which were closed last July, were maintained by Henry Clews and Company, the New York bankers and brokers.

NOT SETTLED YET.

NEW BEDFORD, June 11.—The Import and Export Association of the Trunk Line Association met today but failed to act on the question of port differentials, an issue raised by the Boston and Maine R. R. Company through its cut in port rates last December. The matter, it was explained, is still in the hands of the higher railroad officials and will not come up for decisive action until the latter part of the month.
