

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

NEWS SUMMARY.

—Hiram A. Calvin, Conservative, was elected by acclamation in Frontenac to replace the Hon. George Kirkpatrick as member of the House of Commons.

—A new railway station which is being built at New Glasgow will be, it is said, with the exception of those at Halifax and St. John, the finest in the Maritime Provinces.

—In the Quebec House of Assembly, on a motion of non-confidence in the government on the question of the Montreal court house, the government were sustained by a majority of 34.

—Abram Ferguson, a young man of West Arichat, who was subject to epileptic fits, went to a well to draw water on Monday, and having had a drink while at the well, he fell in and was drowned.

—Mercier will take his seat in the Quebec legislature next week. This has been decided upon in view of his committal for trial, and the report that he would necessarily be forced to abandon his seat.

—W. C. McDonald, Montreal, who has already contributed $1,000,000 to the different facilities of McGill, has purchased a terrace of houses on University Square, all of which will be demolished to make way for the construction of a magnificent new building, destined for the law faculty.

—An Ottawa despatch to the Montreal Star says: A petition has been presented to the Governor General in Council asking for the impeachment of a well-known judge in the province of Quebec on the ground of partiality, drunkenness and alleged assault upon a lady. It bears the signature of several members of the bar. The politicians are endeavoring to arrange a settlement by the transfer of the judge to another district.

—Judge Charvat gave his decision on Thursday in the conspiracy case against ex-Premier Mercier, ex-Provincial Secretary Langelier and Ernest Bouché. Mercier and Bouché will have a stand trial on the court of Queen's bench at the October term. Personal bail was accepted. The charges against Langelier were dismissed. The proceedings against Mercier for alleged malfeasance in office have been begun.

—In Friday morning's session of the Presbyterian General Assembly in Montreal a debate arose over a recommendation that hereafter the salary of pastors of the augmented congregations in Manitoba and the Northwest be $500 per annum, together with a manse, and $250 where there is no manse. The Northwest delegates opposed the reduction, holding that living was more expensive in the western provinces than in the east, and an amendment keeping the salaries as at present was carried by a large majority.

—At the Friday evening session of the Presbyterian General Assembly, now in session in Montreal, the report on foreign missions was presented and read in part. The Northwest schools, the work among the Canadian Indians, the work in Palestine and the Chinese of British Columbia were shown to be in a most encouraging condition. The receipts from the eastern section amounted to $27,733.82, and the expenditures $35,121.23. During the evening the Rev. John M. Dugan, a returned missionary from China, preached with great acceptance.

—Henry Cohen, of Toronto, a Jew, has been fined $1 and costs by the police magistrate recently for working at his trade of tailor on Sunday. A plea of excessive rush of business was not accepted by the bench as any excuse. Louis Goldsmith, cigarmaker, also charged with working on Sunday was fined $5 and costs or thirty days imprisonment. His excuse was that owing to his employees being Jews, and this prevented by reason of their faith from working on Saturday, he allowed them to work on Sunday to make up time. The court would accept no such plea. Six of Goldsmith's employees were also summoned for working on Sunday, but as it was clear they offered in ignorance, they were not punished.

—It appears that the liquor men have employed Mr. Gibb's of the Toronto Globe, who is said to be one of the most clever publicists in Canada, to work up their cause for presentation before the Royal Commission on prohibition. This would indicate that the liquor men do not believe that the deliberance of the commission is likely to have no influence one way or the other upon their business. It suggests too that the friends of prohibition should not be less zealous than its enemies.

—A matter of greater importance than a carefully gathered and well digested array of facts and arguments in the interests of prohibitory legislation shall be presented before the commission—namely the temperance people afford to trust to the commission itself to see that this is done. But in order to do this money is required. The Montreal Witness points out that, while it is comparatively easy for the liquor men to raise five or ten thousand dollars whenever wanted to defend their interests, the money needed for the promotion of temperance reform is not so readily secured. It estimates that $5,000 would be required in order that the cause of prohibition might be adequately presented before the commission. This certainly would be a small matter if divided among the temperance people of Canada. The Witness recommends a general movement, centering in the Dominion Alliance executive of Toronto, and says: "Let every temperance order collect an offering of one to five dollars from each lodge, and let the branches of the Alliance collect personal subscriptions by hundreds and fifties and see if the amount cannot be raised in a fortnight. We shall gladly acknowledge all sums received for this purpose by such treasurer as may be appointed. This seems to be the moment for action if ever there was one. In a week or two it will be too late. In a later issue the Witness acknowledges the receipt of a cheque for $100 from "a friend" as a contribution to the proposed fund.

—Mr. Thomas Norquay, M. P. F. of Inman, Manitoba, who was seriously injured on Wednesday evening by being run over at the C. P. R. station, died at ten o'clock the next morning at the general hospital from the effects of his injuries.

—The annual convention of the Y. P. S. C. E. in the Maritime provinces will be held in this city, on 28th, 29th, and 30th. The advertising committee have made suitable arrangements with the various railroads and steamboat companies for cheap rates. About 300 delegates are expected, for whom a large entertaining committee are at present seeking quarters.

—The owners of the Star life of steamers intend to push forward the repairs on their boats as quickly as possible, so as to accommodate the traffic on the river. The David Weston and Soulange, which are now being fitted up, will be ready about July 1st. The Soulange will be one of the best steamers on the river when her repairs are completed.

—The British Government proposes to expend $600,000 in repairing the ravages caused by the hurricane in the Maritimes.

—Addressing a Liberal gathering at Hawarden, June 7, Mr. Gladstone said the Tories had admitted that a battle on the free trade question would be of great benefit to the country but that from declarations made in high quarters they seemed to be changing their minds. "Whether they do or not," said Gladstone, "the Liberals will stick by their flag in support of the cause which tends to the welfare of the people and the strength and prosperity of the Empire. The Liberals never had a greater, more sacred or more hopeful cause than that to be decided at the coming elections."

PHILLIPS.—At Little Glace Bay, C. B., aged 68 years, leaving a wife and three children. He died on the 15th inst. at Margaree, C. B., where he lived till about 22 years of age; after which he followed the sea for a number of years, and rose to the rank of captain. During his sea-going life he made his home at Homeville, C. B., for several years, where he gained many friends. Some eighteen years ago he settled at Little Glace Bay, and united with the Baptist church there, of which he remained an active member till his death. He had professed faith in Christ and united with the Baptist church of his native place in early life. The church here sustains a great loss by his death, as he was always ready to bear his part financially or otherwise. His funeral took place on Tuesday following under the auspices of the Freemasons, of which society he was also a member. After services at the Baptist church at Glace Bay, his remains were conveyed to the cemetery at Homeville, C. B., where he was interred, accompanied by a large number of the brotherhood, with many friends and relatives, and laid to rest awaiting the morning of the resurrection. Respected in life, he was honored in death.

McLAVHILL.—At Lower Economy, May 3rd, of diphtheria, Harlow Page McLaughlin, in the 12th year of his age. Our little brother united with the Baptist church last November and was the first of eleven candidates to offer himself to the church. Among the eleven were his older brother and sister. After his connection with the church he never missed an opportunity to testify for Christ, and we believe he did a grand work for his Master while here on earth, and he desires to live near to Him." He had a great desire to live, but was perfectly resigned to the will of his heavenly Father, and could say at his last, "I am safe in Jesus." He was deprived of the comfort of seeing his brothers, sisters and friends, only as they looked at him through the window, but he was calm and composed, and although he suffered much, he bore it with the greatest patience. He had a brother out of Christ in whom he was very much interested, and two days before he died wrote him as follows: "Dear Brother, I would like to have seen you come to mourn the loss of an affectionate husband and kind father. Our brother died in peace.

McMILLAN.—At Grand Falls, May 22, Harriet, wife of George McMILLAN, aged 28 years. She was baptized September, '85, by Rev. A. E. Ingram and joined the Grand Falls Baptist church, where she remained a consistent member until her death. In 1875, she was married by Rev. C. Henderson, and entering her new home, her husband not being a professor of religion, she erected the family altar and kept it up until her husband was led to join prayer with her, which resulted in his following his Lord in baptism and entering the fellowship of His church. This not only caused our departed sister to rejoice, but now, being dead, through it she yet speaks to us. May the Lord comfort the mourner.

CARTER.—At De Bort, April 23, Mrs. Eliza, widow of the late Benjamin Carter, departed this life after a long and tedious sickness, which she bore very patiently, aged 73. Her husband was buried in the cemetery, when a little girl came to this country with her mother and other friends; brought up in the bosom of the Presbyterian church. During the pastorate of the late Rev. Samuel Thompson, here was a remarkably excellent minister of the gospel, and she was baptized by him and united with the De Bert River Baptist church. She loved her church, and when deprived of meeting with her brethren and sisters, she missed the privilege very much. These children, as she had no other, succeeded her to the better land; two sons remain, with many friends, to mourn their loss, but she has gone to be with Jesus, which is far better.

SMITH.—At her home, the Nova Scotia Nursery, Church street, Cornwallis, May 23, Lettie L., dearly beloved wife of Mr. T. E. Smith, in the 49th year of her age. Unexpectedly, to her relatives and friends, she passed away to the spirit land, after a short illness of scarcely two weeks, for her case the taking of death had been taken away. She died as she had lived, her confidence steadfast in the Lord Jesus Christ. His presence lightened her passage through the dark valley. Here was a remarkably excellent christian character, which impressed itself upon the church of which she was a member, upon the Sabbath-school, the Mission Aid Society, the Mission Band, and upon a very large community of loving acquaintances. All loved her all beautiful things. She delighted in the flowers. Together with the fragrance of the numberless bouquets and wreaths woven by her fingers for the pleasure of others, there was mingled the sweetness of active christian spirit, and an undying love very deep. The memory of the just is blessed. A highly appropriate funeral discourse was preached at the house by Rev. S. B. Kempton; text—Matt. 5: 8. Bledred are the pure in heart, they shall see God. Her remains were buried in the cemetery at Margaree, C. B., where he lived till about 22 years of age; after which he followed the sea for a number of years, and rose to the rank of captain.
