

HOME MANUFACTURE OF WINES PERMITTED IN DRY ENFORCEMENT BILL AGREED ON BY CONFERRERS

The 285 Liberalizing Amendments Made in Senate Are Accepted—$2,000,000 Fund Provided to Carry Out the Law—Burden of Proof on Government.

Washington, D. C., Friday.—The House and Senate conference on the prohibition enforcement bill reached a complete agreement Wednesday.

The bill, which establishes one-half of one percent, as the maximum alcoholic content of beverages, was passed by the House July 22, and by the Senate September 5. The conference report will be acted on first by the Senate, to which it will be reported today and then sent to the House.

The bill will be returned from conference without fundamental changes in its plans for district enforcement both of the war time prohibition law and the constitutional amendment by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and the department of Justice. Provisions for manufacture and sale of industrial spirits and of spirits for sacramental and scientific use are retained but rigorous safeguards against manufacture and sale of drinks for any other purposes are provided.

The Senate conferees, however, succeeded in retaining virtually every one of the 285 liberalizing provisions adopted by the Upper House, which comprise mostly administrative features. The principal "liberal" amendment of the Senate permitting home manufacture and consumption of cider and light wines was approved as well as another Senate amendment extending application of the constitutional amendment to the Panama Canal zone.

In the principal conference dispute over imposition of the "burden of proof" in prosecutions, the Senate managers were successful, for the bill as agreed on provides that the government bear the "burden of proof" and prove its case in prosecuting those selling beverages by showing that the beverages contained more than the alcoholic limit of one-half of one percent. Manufacturers, however, as provided both by the House and Senate bills, must bear the burden of proof.

Nina Morgana Charmed Audience

Delightful Concert Given by Noted Singer at Imperial Theatre Last Evening—Programme of High Merit—A Musical Treat.

"First it was like a bird singing, then it was like the playing of a flute, then it was like the rushing of a glorious human voice with a soul behind it." This was one comment made upon the beautiful voice of Nina Morgana, the soprano of the Chicago Opera Association whose concert at the Imperial Theatre last evening proved an event of the greatest pleasure to all who were privileged to hear her.

The thanks of St. John are due A. C. D. Wilson and L. M. Leclair under whose management the concert was held for this musical treat.

The theatre was filled and while every number on the programme was heartily applauded, the perfect hush of appreciation which was most noticeable during the singing, spoke more loudly than even the applause.

The soloist is a coloratura soprano possessing a voice of peculiar clearness and freshness. Her technique is so remarkable that few except the musically trained would realize the years of study which lay behind the accomplishing of such a feat.

The flexibility of her voice, the pureness of tone, the distinctness of enunciation and her interpretation are all wonderful. Her art is perfect.

While all the selections were beautiful, the Shadow Song from Dido was particularly lovely and Le Chte, an interpretation of dance moods on a poem of the 16th Century, was charming.

The playing of Alberto Bimboni, the accompanist, was marvellously sympathetic and it was clearly seen not only from his composition, Le Chte, but from his accompaniments that he is a thorough musician.

Mrs. Morgana, who has an attractive personality, was handsomely gowned and was generous with her smiles, giving four as well as the fourteen on the programme which follows:

- Nymphs and Shepherds, Purcell. I've been roaming, Horn.
- A pastoral, Cary.
- Le chte, Bimboni.
- "In quelle irine morbide" from "Mamma," Puccini.
- Il Mandolino, Bergamini.
- Shadow Song from "Dido," Meyerbeer.
- "Le bonheur est chose leger," Saint-Saens.
- Le printemps, Hahn.
- "Valse from "The Merry Widow," Gounod.
- He loves me, Chadwick.
- The Wee Butterfly, Mana Zucca.
- Behind the Hill-top, M. N. Redman.
- Welcome! Sweet Wind, G. W. Cuddeback.
- Alberto Bimboni, accompanist.

CITY CONTRACTS.

Contractors doing excavating on city streets suffered considerable loss of money on Monday afternoon and evening owing to cave-ins which occurred on account of the heavy rainfall.

Moses, Tobias & Ferris, who are doing the Brussels street digging and who had their trenching advanced considerably ahead of the pipe-laying, sustained delay and loss through a series of cave-ins which in some areas half filled the trench.

The New Contracting & Building Company also had cave-ins on City Road. The trouble was to some extent due to lack of shoring.

Road Engineer Hatfield returned to duty yesterday, after having spent his vacation at his summer home at Carter's Point.

Gagetown

Gagetown, Oct. 2.—Gagetown people felt as if a new era had dawned when the "St. John train" came speeding around the cut and into the station here on Wednesday afternoon. Its three passenger cars glistening with paint and luxurious of green plush and plate glass. A number of passengers came up to Gagetown, including Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fenton of Lower Gagetown, S. L. Peters, of Queensboro, T. Sherman Peters and Miss Leaton, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alexander Shales, whose marriage took place in St. John this week. The rejoicing over a "rest train service" was short-lived, however, when it became known of the restrictions placed upon the Valley Line on Wednesday, but it is hoped that this long-needed line will soon be in regular operation.

Miss Edith Doherty came up from St. John on Wednesday's train to spend a few days with her cousins, the Misses Dickie.

Mrs. H. Hamilton returned on Tuesday from a visit of several weeks with relatives in Toronto and at Lake Simcoe with her husband, Capt. H. Hamilton, M. C. Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Edward Du Verrier, of Digby, N. S., is spending the week with Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Casswell.

Dr. J. H. Allingham, of St. John, was here on Tuesday in consultation over the case of his little niece, Miss Mary Reid, who still remains very ill, and many friends share the anxiety of Mr. and Mrs. R. Reid in their little daughter's illness.

Rev. H. P. Rigby, of Woodstock, is the guest this week of his brother, G. P. Rigby and Mrs. Rigby.

Miss Kate McKeague was a passenger to St. John on Tuesday to spend a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Clowes returned on Tuesday from their wedding trip to Digby and Annapolis Valley, and received a warm welcome on their return. They were also the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

A large circle of friends were interested to learn of the marriage at St. Joachim's church, Edmonton, last week, of Sergt. Daniel S. Hayden, editor of the "Gazette," and Miss Margaret Johnson, of this place, and Miss Margaret Johnson, of Sixsmith, Alta. Sergt. Hayden made a name for himself in the South African war, and the present war saw him again at the front. He has many friends here who will extend their good wishes to him and his bride.

Moose are very plentiful this year, and several big game hunters have been successful in bringing down one. O'Arcy Brown, of Leaville, David Brown, Duck Creek, Edward Armstrong, Lawfield, Ernest Boyd and Thomas Parry are among those who have secured their share for this year. Although moose are frequently seen, deer are reported very scarce to what they have been in former years, without any apparent reason. The game restrictions on partridge are having a beneficial effect, and this autumn heavy family groups of these beautiful game birds are to be found here and there in sunny clearings. The summer also has been a favorable one for them.

Gagetown people were appalled at the disaster which befell the sister village of Ormoco on Wednesday afternoon. The extent of the damage was not known until the train came down in the evening, as the telephone wires were burned out early in the afternoon, but some idea of the catastrophe could be gained from the fact

OBITUARY

Charles W. Belyea, News of the death of Charles W. Belyea of Kenora, Ont., came as a great surprise to his relatives at Glenwood, Kings Co., after an attack of pneumonia which lasted only six days. The deceased, who was 62 years of age, was born at Glenwood, being the youngest son of the late Benjamin Belyea of that place. In his early manhood he was employed on the river carrying deals from Nashuak when woodchests were used for that particular trade. About 35 years ago he decided to go to the west. He went as far as Kolora (then called Ras Portage) where he was very successful and became one of the leading men of that town. His first work was with the C. P. R., putting up telegraph poles and wires, and upon the completion of the line his ability was so strongly shown that he was appointed chief lineman of a large section of that company's lines, which position he held until about 10 years ago when he resigned his position and was afterward appointed inspector of lighting, which position he held up to the time of his death.

Mr. Belyea was one of the first aldermen of Kenora. He was well known along the river. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Brundage of Oak Point; one son, a student at McGill, and three daughters and one brother, Sylvester Belyea of Fredericton.

that burned shingles fell here and there in the town, and a dense cloud of smoke was observed on the horizon in the direction of the unfortunate village. Gagetown people are now planning to assist the people of Ormoco in any way that may be needed.

The American four wheeler, Sally Perdue Noyes, which recently brought a salt cargo to this port and has been on Gregory's blocks undergoing repairs, is expected to sail today for Windsor, where she will load lumber for overseas.

OUT OF COMMISSION.

The ringing current of the New Brunswick Telephone Co., Ltd., was on strike for a short time last evening. It was found that one of the wires had broken. Repairs were made and everything set right about half an hour after the break had occurred. About half the telephone bells in the city were out of commission for the time.

A NEW SYNAGOGUE.

At a meeting of Halifax Hebrew citizens held a few days ago plans had been prepared for the incorporation of a company to build a new synagogue with all necessary rooms for social welfare work. It was estimated that the sum of $20,000 would be required and on an immediate canvass for subscriptions to the stock of the company the sum of $12,000 was realized.

OMAHA SCENE OF LYNCHING NOW UNDER FEDERAL LAW

The above pictures show a couple of the scenes wherein Omaha citizens lost their grasp on law and order and resorted to the primitive law of death to the malefactor. In the Omaha case the victim of the mob proved to be a negro, and with him an accidental victim, a white man of twenty-three years. The Court House, valued at more than a million dollars, is a mass of ruins, due to the recklessness of the crowd. Mayor Edward F. Smith, thought by some to be a negro sympathizer, was a victim of the mob, and was for a time in danger of his life if thought by some to be a negro sympathizer, who wanted to lynch him. Major General Leonard Wood is at the head of federal troops now stationed in Omaha to quell any disturbance or race riot should one develop.
