FROM THE "LONDON MEDICAL TIMES AND GAZETTE," MAY 14, 1881.

"SYR. HYPOPHOS. CO. (FELLOWS').—The value of iron, quinine, strychnia and lime as pharmaceutical preparations is now established beyond dispute. One of the difficulties in the way of their administration has hitherto been their unpalatable taste; and this is especially felt among children, who have to submit to a long term of treatment. Our thanks are therefore due to those who busy themselves with the manufacture of preparations which, without interfering with the remedial nature of the drugs, nevertheless deprive them of their nauseous taste. Fellows' Syrup certainly merits a high place among drugs of this kind; for it is an elegant and palatable form of medicine which even children take without any difficulty. We have tried it in many cases of lowered vital power, such as the debility which follows on diphtheria, with marked and speedy benefit; also in scrofulous disease necessitating long confinement to the house. In these latter cases it may be advantageously combined with cod-liver oil, with which it mixes in all proportions, and which it disguises and renders more palatable. In adults, after fits of alcoholism, it is a remedy of great value, and soon 'pulls them together' again. We can confidently recommend the Syrup as one which contains very active ingredients in an agreeable form."
