

...ale's short discussion with the SU executive. The ...s under regime to a packed Tory audience.

The engineers thought it was just a touch of carved political cartooning, but Le Devoir in Montreal picked a photograph off the CP wire and construed Western bigotry in this ice statue of Trudeau and Levesque.

They called themselves CRAP. They called a lot of other people crap too. And even in losing, the Conceptual Reality Alternative Party (left) gave us the spiciest SU election in years. Rene Le Larke (above) ponders his next conceptual coup at the election rally, while bemused returning officers Michael Amerongen and Raye Hull look on. Gateway photo editor Grant Wurm cranks another frame around to catch the next bit of theatrics.
