How to Get Rid of Catarrh

A Simple, Safe, Reliable Way and it Costs Nothing to Try.

Those who suffer from catarrh know its miseries. There is no need of this suffering. You can get rid of it by a simple, safe, inexpensive, home treatment discovered by Dr. Blosser, who, for over thirty-five years, has been treating catarrh successfully.

His treatment is unlike any other. It is not a spray, douche, salve, cream, or inhaler, but is a more direct and thorough treatment than any of these. It cleans out the head, nose, throat and lungs so that you can again breathe freely and sleep without that stopped-up feeling that all catarrh sufferers have. It heals the diseased membranes and makes a radical cure, so that you will not be constantly blowing your nose and spitting, and at the same time it does not poison the system and ruin the stomach, as internal medicines do.

If you want to test this treatment without cost, send your address to Dr. J. W. Blosser, 716 Walton St., Atlanta, Ga., U. S. A., and he will send you by return mail, from his Canadian Distributing Depot, enough of the medicine to satisfy you that it is all he claims for it as a remedy for catarrh, catarrhal headaches, catarrhal deafness, asthma, bronchitis, colds, and all catarrhal conditions. He will also send you free an illustrated booklet. Write him immediately.

NASAL GLEET AND FOOT MANGE

1. What is the cause of some of my cattle having a discharge at the nose, much like distemper in horses? I noticed it last March in a two-year-old heifer. It appears at intervals ever since, even in the very warm weather. Oxen are the same, too. They are all in good condition, and have apparently been healthy and hearty all the time.

2. I also have a horse that bites and scratches his hind legs in the stable, and stamps his feet. He has been this way since June, and has been on grass most of the time, getting a light feed of bran and oats twice a day, and three times when working. C. E. S.

Ans.—1. A chronic discharge from the nostrils is usually a symptom of effected except by an operation, which is often unsuccessful and very dangerous. If, on the other hand, there be no calculi, the passage of blood can be checked by giving 1½ ounces tincture of iron in a pint of cold water twice daily for a few days.

Ans.—1. In the province of Saskatchewan, a seizure can be made against personal property under an execution against a man's goods at the same time that an execution against lands is out against the same judgment debtor.

either a diseased tooth or an inflammation of the lining membranes of the nostrils and cavities of the head. If it is the result of a diseased tooth or bone the discharge is likely to be very offensive. The proper treatment would be to remove the cause. But as more than one of your cattle are affected, it is more likely to be the result of a neglected cold, particularly if the animals were in an unthrifty condition. Give them a tablespoonful of the following mixture in a little damp feed three times a day: Ferri sulphate, one ounce; copper sulphate, one-half ounce, and pulverized gentian, four ounces. Keep the nostrils clean. Feeding off the floor would favor the flow of discharge.

2. Your horse is suffering from foot mange, caused by the symbiocytes equi, a small parasite which burrows under the scales of the skin, causing great itching of the legs. First scrub the legs well with warm water and castile soap. Then make a solution of creolin, one ounce to a quart of soft water, to which is added two drams of formalin. This should be well rubbed into the legs with a corn brush on alternate days. It is not advisable to use the same brushes in cleaning other horses.

FLEMING BROS., Chemists, 45 Church St., Toronto, Ontario

As a gentleman was having his luncheon in the coffee room of a Birmingham hotel he was much annoyed by another visitor, who during the whole of the meal stood with his back to the fire warming himself and watching him partake of his repast.

At length, unable to endure it any longer, he rang the bell and said:

"Waiter, kindly turn that gentleman round; I think he is done on that side."—Tu Bits.

They Didn't Have to Change.

During the years in which our pure food laws have been put into effect there has been a great hurrying and scurrying on the part of the food manufacturers to change their methods to make them conform to the law.

The Quaker Oats Company is a conspicuous exception. It was admitted that Quaker Oats was as pure and clean as possible and that it was an ideal food. The purity and cleanliness of Quaker Oats is familiar to every one who has compared it with other brands of oatmeal.

It is so cheap that any one can afford it and so nourishing that everyone needs it. The result of last year's experiments at Yale and other points where food values were tested is that Quaker Oats has been adopted by many persons as their food on which they rely for adding vigor and endurance of muscle and brain.
