Income Tax Changes

Amendments made to the Income Tax Act at the last session of the Dominion Parliament will be of importance to the Canadian people in connection with the payments of the tax this year. The main change; so far as the administration is concerned, is that the first return is to be filed by April 30th, and with it a first payment of 25 per cent of the tax when the return is filed. The balance of the tax may be paid in three subsequent instalments at intervals of two months. An important change puts the onus on the citizen to make his own tax return, and fix the amount he has to pay. The new form, which is not out yet, will resemble that used in the United States.

It will be remembered that the income tax was increased at the 1920 session of Parliament by an addition of 5 per cent to the tax and sur-tax on incomes of $5,000 or more. Provision was also made for the taxation of stock dividends and shareholders' bonuses, while the Minister of Finance retained power to take action against a taxpayer whom he suspects is about to leave Canada, so that the obligations toward the income tax shall not be evaded. The new forms to be filed in by April 30 will apply to the income for 1920.

Sentenced For Theft

George Pearce convicted a week ago on a number of theft charges and of breaking jail, was sentenced by Judge Dickson to two years and three months on the theft charges and one year on jail breaking at the provincial penitentiary at Portsmouth, the sentences to run concurrently. The prisoner took his sentence hard, breaking down and crying like a child.

Pearce is the man who broke jail at Henshall and was later captured in London. He also assaulted Turkey Knox at the jail. There is an endeavor to get his liberty. The Salvation Army in London is looking after his wife and family and will send them to her home in Northern Ontario.

This man asked permission to leave a club bag, rug and coat at the home of Wm Sneath one night about four weeks ago, saying that his auto had broken down and he was coming in to have a mechanic work on it and when he got it fixed he would get his stuff. Mr Sneath, the good Samaritan and gave him permission to leave them, as anyone else would have done under the circumstances. He called next morning and took the club bag and coat saying he could not get his car fixed but was going to go out on the early train and not bother with the robe.

It was the next day that Mr Sneath heard of a man being arrested at Henshall charged with theft of an overcoat, a robe and other articles, he became suspicious that this was the same man who had left the articles at his home, and he promptly notified the proper authorities who had the robe returned to the right owner.

Father—Jimmy open the door for your poor old pa. Mamma has locked me out and I want to get in.
Jimmy—Well she's locked me in and I wanna get out.

A Vermont storekeeper was sitting in front of his place one morning when a man came along leading a couple of old and weary looking nags.
"Want a hoss?" he inquired.
"Guess not."
"I'll trade you one for goods" said the stranger. "I'll take it out in terbaccer, in fact!"

"Might make a dicker along those lines" said the storekeeper, "provided we lin agree on a basis."
"What's your basis?"
"Well, I'll trade you plug for plug."

Decollette dresses have been banned in Zion City, Illinois. Two censors armed with two dozen woollen shawls were appointed by the overseer of Zion City, to enforce an order against the wearing of low neck dresses in the Zion tabernacle. Two women-censors are to place a shawl around any woman who violates the order, conduct her from the tabernacle and surrender her to a waiting policeman. A sign has been posted across the front of the tabernacle warning Zion women against wearing dresses without collars, skirts more than three inches above the ankle, open work stockings, "X-ray" sleeves or transparent blouses. Gum chewing has been added to smoking and other habits on the taboo list.

A United States sergeant attached to the A E F in Germany has the distinction of having his ration changed by direct orders from King George. When the American army polo team from Coblenz was in England recently, the sergeant had charge of the ponies at Aldershot. The King visited the field and was attracted by the ponies' blankets bearing the letters "A F G." He approached to inspect them and addressed the sergeant "Well how are you getting along in England?" The British Tommies nearby, standing rigidly at attention, were petrified by the reply: "Oh pretty well, King, but say, this tea we have for breakfast is fierce—can't you fix it up so we can have coffee?" The king laughed and addressing one of his aides said: "See to it that these men have coffee hereafter." And the Americans had coffee.

Gunshot Wound Proved Fatal

Mr Wm Bonesteel, formerly of Chesley, died on Monday in Warton from injuries sustained December 6th. On that day he and his son had gone out to the bush to cut wood and had taken a shot gun with them as rabbits were plentiful. They saw one, but as the son was picking up the gun it was discharged and the charge entered Mr Bonesteel's thigh. As the muzzle was almost touching his leg, a very bad wound was made, but no bone was broken and it was hoped that the effects would not be serious. He spent some time in the hospital in Owen Sound and was thought to be doing well; but the shock was too much for him and he succumbed on Monday. He was 44 years old and leaves a wife and four children.

Revaluation

Following the war we are now entering the period of revaluation. During the latter years of the war and immediately following it prices in nearly all lines became enormously inflated and they were buoyed up long beyond the expectations of our sanest financiers. Lately the consumer has been reaching the breaking point of endurance and has had to leave upon the retailer's shelves goods that under ordinary conditions he would have; the wholesaler unable to find a market for his commodities, the manufacturer felt the lack of buying power with the result that many industries are at a standstill or running part time. The most notable warnings given of the impending inflation was the collapse of the silk trade of Japan and the sugar industry of Cuba. The hides and leather trade has been affected but not to such an extent as silk and sugar. Wool has become a drug on the market but, strangely the clothing trade has not shown any material decline but it can no longer be delayed. The decline in the trades, of course, brings about unemployment and unemployment reduces buying power. Canada, however, is better equipped than almost any other country to withstand a period of depression as she suffered none of the ravages of war, is well supplied with food, with the consequence that there will be little distress as compared with European nations. Financiers are looking for a revival of trade before the end of the year.

When The Day Is Over Farms For Sale

When the household cares and the worries of everyday life have dragged you down; made you unhappy; and there is nothing in life but headache, backache and worry, turn to the right prescription.
One gotten up by Dr. Pierce fifty years ago.

Everything growing out of the ground seems intended for some use in establishing natural conditions. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found out what is naturally best for women's diseases. He learned it all through treating thousands of cases. The result of his studies was a medicine called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine is made of vegetable growths that nature surely intended for backache, headache, weakening pains, irregularities, and for the many disorders common to women in all ages of life.

Orillis, Ont.—"I suffered from a bad case of woman's trouble with backache, nervousness, disordered digestion, irregularity and I had great pain all the time, sometimes I would faint at my work. I had one physician after another but they did me no good. I then took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it fixed me up all right. I look much better and feel fine. I will recommend the 'Prescription' to all suffering as I did."
