INTEREST GROWS IN TENT MEETING

Evangelist Sharp Speaks Of "Starchy Preachers" And Likes People To Express Emotion When It IS GENUINE

A fair sized congregation gathered on Thursday evening and Evangelist Sharp led a hearty song service, which is a feature of every meeting.

The Hartshorn Sisters sang beautifully and Revs. S. F. Dixon and A. E. Leck led in prayer. The Rev. J. D. P. Knox read part of the ninth chapter of Acts.

A new feature was the quoting of favorite parts of the Bible, such as "I know Whom I have believed", "Whosoever will may come", "When I am weak then I am strong", "I am the Light of the world, whosoever followeth Me shall not walk in darkness but shall have the Light of Life", "Follow Me and I will make you, fishers of men", "God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him, shall not perish but shall have everlasting Life".

The Rev. A. J. Terrill, B.A., made the announcements.

"Come to the Church in the Wildwood" was heartily sung by the congregation and the Hartshorn Sisters again sang. Evangelist Sharp said he felt like a shouting Methodist and then announced his text "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ for it is the power of God unto Salvation to every one that believeth, to the Jew, first, and also to the Greek."

When Paul was converted he went out and preached the Gospel—Paul was ashamed of many things. He was ashamed of the years he spent without Christ and working against Christ; he was ashamed of his mortality, because he had put it in the place of Christ.

He was not ashamed of the Gospel for it was the power of God.

Paul had been a religious man, but there had been no Christ in his religion.

PERSECUTING CHRIST

Paul had heard a voice saying "Why persecutest thou Me?" and it was the voice of Jesus. He was persecuting Jesus by laying his hands on his disciples.

The Evangelist said, an elephant wouldn't drink clear water because he could see his own ugly face in it—so men reject the Bible because it is a mirror.

Paul saw himself in the light of Heaven, and came to himself and found peace.

STARCHY PREACHERS

The speaker said he hadn't found any starchy preachers at his meetings but there were some in the world. He told of one, who was expecting some high-toned company and word came that another friend, a shouting Methodist was also coming. He didn't know what to do and consulted with his wife. They decided to give the shouting Methodist, the library as he was fond of reading and they thought he couldn't find anything there to cause him to shout "Glory to God". The high-toned company came and after a time, were alarmed by shouts of "Glory to God", Praise the Lord!

The preacher rushed into the library and asked what was wrong, and the shouting Methodist shouted "Glory to God, I read hear, the sea is 5 miles deep."—"Well, why should you make a noise about it?" said the preacher "Why," said the shouter, "the Bible tells me, my sins are buried in the depths of the sea. Glory to God!"

The Evangelist likes to hear people shout and bubble over, but only when it is genuine. His Irish wit is used for the glory of God and cold print does not convey an altogether correct impression of the stories he tells to illustrate a truth or drive home a point. There is such an evident sincerity and intense earnestness that every story has its good effect.

HOW MISS BARRYMORE DECIDED TO WEAR SHORT SKIRTS FOR FIRST TIME

star, consented to wear short skirts for the first time in her career by appearing as an Alaskan dance hall girl in "The White Raven", the magnificent Metro production which will be shown at Griffin's Monday and Tuesday, form an interesting story.

When the original story was recited to Miss Barrymore by Maxwell Karger, general manager of the Rolfe and Columbia studios, and discussed by Director George D. Baker, it met with Miss Barrymore's approval. The strength of the story and its fine dramatic possibilities were instantly recognized by the star.

Several of the preliminary scenes had been made, when Mr. Baker began preparations for the biggest, involving a duplication of one of the most famous dance halls or "honk-tonks" in the Klondike. His assistant, Charles Hunt had obtained access to a valuable collection of photographs made in the Klondike at the time of the gold rush. A picture of a dance hall character, showing her in knee-length skirts and other gaudy attire was handed to Miss Barrymore with the request that she have her costume duplicate the one shown on the dance hall habitué, Miss Barrymore gasped.

"But Mr. Baker, I have never appeared in short skirts on the stage in my life. I have refused to play roles that required them," she said.

"Miss Barrymore," replied Baker, "I would not ask anything but what would add to the dramatic values of the piece and to the strength of the role you play. I am sure you will always work for supreme results in your photoplays."

"Of course I will," smilingly returned the star. "I will go to the costumer's now."

THE OAK LAKE TENT MEETING

Round Table Conference Held on Wednesday With Most Interesting Program

On Wednesday afternoon Rev. Dr. Shorey read and commented on the scriptures. Dr. Shorey began his ministry here, attending to ten appointments. He had early recollections of camp-meetings at Ebenezer Camp, at Switzerville.

Rev. M. E. Sexsmith, B.A., L.L.B., made a brief address and conducted a Round Table Conference. He felt that to get nearer to God is to get more perfect in love. He wondered how many wounds in the battle for Christ some of our kid-gloved Christians have. He asked: "What is wrong with Methodism? He feared pulpit and pew were losing faith in some of the old-fashioned things that were of real strength."

Mr. P. S. Ewing, A. E. Bailey, Rev. W. W. Jones, Rev. F. W. White, B.A., Geo. T. Woodley, Dr. Shorey and Rev. A. P. Terrill all took part in the discussion.

Mr. Sexsmith, in closing the discussion, said the point was not how we win souls, but are we winning them. We reap grain today in a different way than fifty years ago, but we are reaping it.

The Hartshorn sisters sang the melody "Keep a-movin' on the way." Evangelist Sharp said a few years ago he got his eyes on the faults of the church and couldn't see anything else. Then he resolved he would leave the faults of the church alone and win souls. He then found the fault was in himself.

We today need Bible Christians, for the Bible is not out of date. We also need praying Christians, for God's ways are up-to-date. When Peter preached at Pentecost, there were 119 Spirit-filled people praying for him. Give the preacher that in a congregation and there would be results.

We need booster Christians. The speaker said if he couldn't put as much strength into his work as a politician did, he would quit.

EVENING MEETING

There was a very good sized crowd at the evening meeting. The Hartshorn sisters sang beautifully and Rev. W. W. Jones read the scriptures. Mr. Pimlott rendered a most appropriate musical selection.

Bible Bells
Was the subject of the evangelist's sermon. The dinner bell, the work bell, the heavenly bell were the subjects on which a most interesting discourse was given.

The startling and sad news reached our village on Saturday of the death of Lieut. Serjt. Lorne Bassett, who died in Moore Barracks Hospital, Shorncliffe, England, on July 26th after a few days' illness of endocarditis. This brave young lad enlisted with the 155th Battalion, and was among its first recruits. After training he entered the military school in Kingston for a Sergeant's course, and on his return was acting sergeant instructor. He had the essential qualities of an instructor—a clear and commanding voice, patient in temperament and exemplary in character. When the battalion went to England, he tried several times to "go on a draft" to France, but was refused. The authorities there having been of the same opinion as to his fitness as an instructor and he was detained to assist in the training of the Canadian Reserve Battalion.—Review.
