THESE BOOKS FREE TO YOU

IT affords as much pleasure to announce to the people that we are about to give them a great benefit. We have always been known as one of the most enterprising firms in this section, and we have sold the best goods in nearly every case lower than others. We believe it is right to do the best we can by our patrons, thereby securing not only the largest amount of trade but also the greatest number of friends. Our stock of Dry Goods for the fall trade has been well bought and includes the newest and best of everything.

We want everybody to see that we are not trying to see how few goods we can give you for a dollar, but how many.

Please call and receive card, and as purchases are made at our store the card will be punched, and when goods to the amount called for by the card have been bought we will give you a magnificent book entitled, Webster's Encyclopedia of Useful Information and World's Atlas, or your choice of three pieces of Silverware. You are not required to trade the whole amount at once, but can take six months, one year or two years.

This volume is worth $6.00 to any person or family and is really a household necessity. Notwithstanding the fact that we have the reputation of selling goods cheaper than anyone else, our prices will still be as low if not lower than before. We will be amply repaid for the great expense we have incurred by selling to our regular customers and by enjoying the trade of scores of new ones.

In order to get the right to distribute this valuable book, we were obliged to order enough to supply one to every family for miles around. Visit us at once, examine our stock and prices, and be convinced that you can do better with us than anywhere else.

All correspondence, other than from our regular staff of correspondents, must be accompanied by the name of the writer and put in a plain envelope, not in a letter, when, if not disposed before, it will be offered at auction, subject to a reserve bid to be fixed before the sale commences. D. Downey of Franklinville, and Ambrose Derbyshire or H. E. Powell may be consulted about the farm property.

Read our special offer to everybody, to be found folded in this issue. After reading it over, carefully avail yourself of the offer, and then lay the sheet away carefully where you can find it readily to show your friends when they drop in to see you, as we believe that hundreds will not take the opportunity we offer if they could see what we propose. Samples of the books we offer can be seen at the Reporter's office. Don't fail to see them. If you don't live near enough to call, we will send in the money and if the books are not all they are represented to be in our advertisement we will refund the money and allow you to keep the books for nothing.

The story is being circulated around the country that the Messrs. A. Kincaid & Son were instrumental in getting the Jas. Smart Mfg. Company to offer a Perfection parlor stove for sale. It is true, but the book is not a Perfection stove, but a Parlor stove, and they thereby secured the special prize. We know all the facts in connection and can vouch for this statement. The Messrs. Kincaid had the money and the giving of the prize, which was secured wholly on the solicitation of the Secretary of the fair. They never even thought of taking a lot for this special and had no intention to do so in the matter than to set as a goal for the company in showing the stove at their shop and at Unionville. The bread that took the special referred to was prepared by Mrs. Richard Arnold and baked in a Perfection stove owned by Rev. D. Fleming.

Arms N. Sherman, is busily engaged this week putting his engines and machinery in position. From the substantial manner in which he is putting down the foundation, he evidently understands the principle that a job is half done by beginning right. The bed for his engine is of one piece, an enormous stone 12 feet long, 4 feet wide and 1 foot thick. This stone was drawn over a mile and a half, and rests on three other large stones, weighing over one ton each. He is placing two engines side by side, one of 10 and the other 12 horse power. They will be connected so as to be run conjointly, or separately at will. Mr. Sherman expects, if the weather keeps fine to have the engines in position and engine house built within the next three weeks. He intends going into the manufacture of wooden ware, fork and broom handles and in fact any kind of ware that there is a dollar in. There is also a strong probability that he, in conjunction with some of our business men, will put in a system of incandescent light for the village. We have spoken to a large number of our business men and the feeling seems to be unanimous in favor of the project. The time has come when the streets of this village have got to be lighted and we believe the incandescent system to be the best and cheapest that can be got. The village is very compact and the cost of poles, wire, etc., would be comparatively light. We are strongly in favor of encouraging home industry and think that the village should take hold of this matter, form a joint stock company and keep what profit there is in a venture of this kind amongst themselves, instead of allowing outsiders to come in and gather in the shavings that could have been kept in the village. We have got to have a better system of lighting than now exists in this village, and the only question is, whether we will take hold of the matter ourselves or allow strangers to come in and run business for us.

Go to G. W. Bosch's for staple cloth and dress goods.

Gall Park, by A. Wilson & Sons.

Dirrell, the Princeton murderer, is to be hanged on the 14th Nov.

A. Kincaid & Son are rushing putting in Perfection furnaces and stoves.

About 75 stove pipes, nearly new, for sale at a bargain, apply at Barron's.

Mr. M. A. Everett has returned and resumed practice at his office in Parish Block.

Remember the meeting of Directors of Unionville fair on Friday, Oct. 2nd at 10.30 a.m.

The residence of S. B. Williams was connected by telephone with the R. & W. station this week.

Send to S. S. Davis, Brockville, secretary of Franklinville fair, for a copy of program of sports and list of speakers.

The business of the Dominion Express concern, has commenced nearly one half at this station, during the past six months. J. B. Foley makes a careful and obliging agent.

Call at Barron's office and see a second hand New Westminster coal stove, with oven, as good as new. Barron will sell the stove for less than half cost, or exchange for wood or farm produce.

J. G. Latt of the Westport Journal gave our sanctum the benefit of his genial smile on Thursday last. He had been taking in the Delta fair and took a run down here to see the sights and get acquainted with our citizens.

The road commissioner has done a fine much needed repair on our sidewalk during the day of the fair. The plank has been put down in front of the Karlov property, on Main street, thus removing not only an eyesore, but a dangerous spot as well. The sidewalk runs from the corner of Egin & Wellington street to Willis street has been repaired and put in passable shape. These two places were in the worst condition of any in town and the commissioner has the thanks of the public for his thoughtfulness in looking after their interests.

The executor of the late Israel Powell, of Plum Hollow, will sell all the personal property of the estate by public sale on Saturday, Nov. 1st, commencing at 9 a.m. At the estate has got to be wound up, the whole lot will be sold without reserve. The executor will also receive offers for the farm, either in whole or in lots to suit, and the plaintiff 25 cents when, if not disposed before, it will be offered at auction, subject to a reserve bid to be fixed before the sale commences. D. Downey of Franklinville, and Ambrose Derbyshire or H. E. Powell may be consulted about the farm property.

He intends going into the manufacture of wooden ware, fork and broom handles and in fact any kind of ware that there is a dollar in. There is also a strong probability that he, in conjunction with some of our business men, will put in a system of incandescent light for the village. We have spoken to a large number of our business men and the feeling seems to be unanimous in favor of the project. The time has come when the streets of this village have got to be lighted and we believe the incandescent system to be the best and cheapest that can be got. The village is very compact and the cost of poles, wire, etc., would be comparatively light. We are strongly in favor of encouraging home industry and think that the village should take hold of this matter, form a joint stock company and keep what profit there is in a venture of this kind amongst themselves, instead of allowing outsiders to come in and gather in the shavings that could have been kept in the village. We have got to have a better system of lighting than now exists in this village, and the only question is, whether we will take hold of the matter ourselves or allow strangers to come in and run business for us.

The business of the Dominion Express concern, has commenced nearly one half at this station, during the past six months. J. B. Foley makes a careful and obliging agent.

Call at Barron's office and see a second hand New Westminster coal stove, with oven, as good as new. Barron will sell the stove for less than half cost, or exchange for wood or farm produce.

J. G. Latt of the Westport Journal gave our sanctum the benefit of his genial smile on Thursday last. He had been taking in the Delta fair and took a run down here to see the sights and get acquainted with our citizens.

The road commissioner has done a fine much needed repair on our sidewalk during the day of the fair. The plank has been put down in front of the Karlov property, on Main street, thus removing not only an eyesore, but a dangerous spot as well. The sidewalk runs from the corner of Egin & Wellington street to Willis street has been repaired and put in passable shape. These two places were in the worst condition of any in town and the commissioner has the thanks of the public for his thoughtfulness in looking after their interests.

The executor of the late Israel Powell, of Plum Hollow, will sell all the personal property of the estate by public sale on Saturday, Nov. 1st, commencing at 9 a.m. At the estate has got to be wound up, the whole lot will be sold without reserve. The executor will also receive offers for the farm, either in whole or in lots to suit, and the plaintiff 25 cents when, if not disposed before, it will be offered at auction, subject to a reserve bid to be fixed before the sale commences. D. Downey of Franklinville, and Ambrose Derbyshire or H. E. Powell may be consulted about the farm property.

Read our special offer to everybody, to be found folded in this issue. After reading it over, carefully avail yourself of the offer, and then lay the sheet away carefully where you can find it readily to show your friends when they drop in to see you, as we believe that hundreds will not take the opportunity we offer if they could see what we propose. Samples of the books we offer can be seen at the Reporter's office. Don't fail to see them. If you don't live near enough to call, we will send in the money and if the books are not all they are represented to be in our advertisement we will refund the money and allow you to keep the books for nothing.

The story is being circulated around the country that the Messrs. A. Kincaid & Son were instrumental in getting the Jas. Smart Mfg. Company to offer a Perfection parlor stove for sale. It is true, but the book is not a Perfection stove, but a Parlor stove, and they thereby secured the special prize. We know all the facts in connection and can vouch for this statement. The Messrs. Kincaid had the money and the giving of the prize, which was secured wholly on the solicitation of the Secretary of the fair. They never even thought of taking a lot for this special and had no intention to do so in the matter than to set as a goal for the company in showing the stove at their shop and at Unionville. The bread that took the special referred to was prepared by Mrs. Richard Arnold and baked in a Perfection stove owned by Rev. D. Fleming.

Arms N. Sherman, is busily engaged this week putting his engines and machinery in position. From the substantial manner in which he is putting down the foundation, he evidently understands the principle that a job is half done by beginning right. The bed for his engine is of one piece, an enormous stone 12 feet long, 4 feet wide and 1 foot thick. This stone was drawn over a mile and a half, and rests on three other large stones, weighing over one ton each. He is placing two engines side by side, one of 10 and the other 12 horse power. They will be connected so as to be run conjointly, or separately at will. Mr. Sherman expects, if the weather keeps fine to have the engines in position and engine house built within the next three weeks. He intends going into the manufacture of wooden ware, fork and broom handles and in fact any kind of ware that there is a dollar in. There is also a strong probability that he, in conjunction with some of our business men, will put in a system of incandescent light for the village.
